Chinese City In Terror As Rivers Rage

Canton's Main Dikes Still Hold Against Flooding Rivers

HONG KONG (AP)—The South China metropolis of Canton was described today as a city of terror, its 1½ million people facing what may be its most catastrophic flood in a century. But the city's main dikes were reported still holding at midday.

Communist and anti-Communist sources both painted a picture of possible disaster in populous Kwantung province, across the border from Hong Kong

The independent newspaper Sing Tao Jih Pao said Canton is "a city of terror under the threat of the most disastrous flood in its history. More than one million people are living in constant dread of being drowned or starving to death if the dikes on the Peh or North river cave in."

Torrential rains have swollen the Peh and Si or West rivers, that converge with the Tung or East River above Canton and flow to the South China Sea through the Pearl River estuary. The rains reportedly continued in the Peh watershed Wednesday, but the Tung was said to have begun dropping.

Details on the situation were scarce and reports contradictory. But they show China is still vulnerable to age-old natural calamities.

Pro-Nationalist and independent newspapers quoted travelers from Canton as saying parts of the big South China port already are under flood waters ranging from knee-high to 10 feet.

A million acres of rice, jute, peanuts and sugar cane have been flooded in the interior of Kwangtung, the broadcast said, and 200,000 people driven from their homes.

Pays With Life For Mass Slayings

Killer Starkweather Dies In Chair

By ODELL HANSON

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Mass killer Charles Starkweather, calm and self-controlled to the end, paid with his life today for a brutal blood letting 17 months ago.

One ironic hitch marked the electric chair execution: The prison physician who was to have pronounced Starkweather dead, suffered a heart attack and died.

Dr. B. A. Finkel, 75, was stricken just a half hour before the midnight execution. Alternates carried on.

The finale to the story of the ne'er-do-well ex-garbage hauler blamed for 11 knife and gun killings came at 12:05 a.m. (CST) in the white painted basement execution chamber at the Nebraska State Penitentiary.

The 20-year-old killer had no last words.

At 12:01 a.m. he walked unassisted into the chamber, glanced at some 35 assembled witnesses, managed a kind of smile and ambled up to the bulky, wooden execution chair.

His head was shaven of its red hair and a trouser leg had been cut off to accommodate the electrical contacts.

A curtain was drawn in front of the witnesses as Starkweather was strapped in the chair.

The curtain opened. A half mask covered the killer's face.

"Is there anything you would like to say?" asked Deputy Warden John Greenholtz.

Starkweather shook his head negatively.

An eye mask was affixed and the executioner, out of sight behind a partition, got the signal.

At the 2,200-volt charge, Starkweather's body strained against its bonds.

The execution followed a day of frantic effort by Starkweather's family and Washington attorneys to stave off the appointment with death.

All hope gone, Starkweather's mother, Mrs. Guy Starkweather, and other family members made a final call on the killer, then left by a side gate to escape some 25 newsmen and photographers milling about the main entrance.

Guy Starkweather, the father, who had handled the last-ditch reprieve tries here, stayed away. He said he had "work to do," but did not elaborate.

Greenholtz said Starkweather spurned a final steak dinner and settled instead for some cold meat cuts. He did some painting, some reading and visited with Prison Chaplain Robert Klein as the end neared.

His last words as officials went to get him for execution: "What's your hurry?"

Starkweather, five-foot-five and bow-legged, vaulted into notoriety in January of 1958.

Accompanied by his 14-year-old sweetheart, Caril Ann Fugate, he set out on a killing spree. Nine victims in and around Lincoln and one in Wyoming were counted in three days as authorities sought the teen-age fugitives.

Starkweather, following capture near Douglas, Wyo., admitted an earlier unsolved slaying in Lincoln to bring his death count to 11.

He was tried specifically in the shooting of Robert Jensen, Bennet, Neb., schoolboy whose body and that of his girl friend, Carol King, were found in a storm cave about 20 miles from Lincoln.

Jurors rejected an insanity plea and recommended death.

Caril, tried six months later, was convicted of first degree murder for aiding and abetting Starkweather, and drew a life sentence.

Management Asks Pacts Be Extended

Bargaining Talks Are Stymied After Latest Development

NEW YORK (AP)—Steelworkers union leaders meet today with an unhappy choice: an unwanted strike next week or an agreement to continue working for employers dead set against any eventual wage increase.

The strike choice seemed inevitable. But meetings of the union's executive board and wage-policy committee will chart the course. They were called into session by Union President David J. McDonald.

R. Conrad Cooper, executive vice president of U. S. Steel Corp. and top industry spokesman, made two things clear Wednesday.

One was that steel firms are agreed they won't boost present labor costs. The other was that they are willing to negotiate indefinitely. Meanwhile, bargaining talks are stymied with nothing scheduled pending the outcome of the union sessions.

The steel companies called for a continuing delay of any July 1 strike. They proposed extending present contracts from their Tuesday midnight scheduled expiration until such time as either side gives a 10-day advance expiration notice.

McDonald declined to say what course he will recommend to fellow union leaders. He made clear a feeling that the industry has boxed him in.

Missiles Halt Jet Drones In Defense Test

Successful Attack Reported In Drills In Gulf Of Mexico

EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP)—Two jet drones were successfully attacked over the Gulf of Mexico by Bomarc missiles fired within seconds of each other, the Air Force said.

The 47-foot Bomarcs, carrying warheads, made perfect interceptions of their high-speed targets more than 100 miles from the launching site on nearby Santa Rosa Island, the Air Force announced.

It said this was the third time that Bomarc missile firings have been successfully carried out by the SAGE — Semi-Automatic Ground Environment — system of the Montgomery air defense sector at Gunter AFB, Montgomery, Ala.

The Air Force said the Montgomery sector, 150 miles north of the launching site, detected the approach of the drones and directed the interceptions.

Pouring Of Concrete Starts For Route 45

LISBON — Pouring of concrete began today on the relocation of Route 45 between Salem and Lisbon, near Eagleton's Glenns, according to George Gonzales, state resident engineer.

Approximately 2,000 feet along the east side of the road will be poured for the southern end to the railroad overpass and one-way traffic will be maintained, Gonzales said.

The completion date for the entire section is Aug. 31. The $1,118,000 contract was let to the Hatcher Bros. Co. of Mingo Junction approximately two years ago.

Auto Leaves Crossing, Halts On Railway Track

A Newell woman's auto was damaged this morning when it went off the Walnut St. crossing and halted on the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. right-of-way nearby, police said.

Mrs. Madeline M. Wells, 35, of 501 Jefferson St. escaped unhurt in the mishap, police said, although the car was damaged slightly. Mrs. Wells told police she was turning onto the crossing from the River Rd. when she saw a train approaching, became frightened and drove onto the rails. However, the auto was not struck by a train.

Civil Warfare May Be Near In Argentina

Military Chieftains Still Clamoring For Frondizi's Ouster

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Argentina seemed near the brink of revolution today, with President Arturo Frondizi beset by continuing rebelliousness in military circles and the threat of mass protests by Communist and Peronist labor unions.

Government officials continued to claim that the threat to the government had been averted by Frondizi's reshuffle of his cabinet and particularly by the appointment of a leading advocate of free enterprise, Alvaro Alsogaray, to head the economic and labor ministries.

Other sources said certain high military leaders were far from satisfied and sentiment in favor of ousting Frondizi was still strong in the armed forces.

War Secretary Hector Solanas Pacheco admitted that a number of army officers for whom arrest warrants had been issued were still at large. Many were believed in the military barracks at Cordoba, the center of current agitation against Frondizi and the starting point of the 1955 revolution which overthrew Dictator Juan Peron.

Vice Adm. Isaac Rojas, a leader of the anti-Peron revolt, predicted Wednesday that Frondizi would face a revolution "within a few days or a few weeks" if he did not resign immediately.

The 62 labor unions known for their Peronist sympathies issued a communique accusing Frondizi of failing to keep his campaign promises and blaming him for "errors which have brought the country to the verge of chaos."

Alsogaray's appointment as the country's economic and labor czar was certain to increase the unions' opposition to Frondizi.

13 Bodies Are Found In Fire-Gutted Hotel

BERGEN, Norway (AP) — Authorities sifting the ashes of the fire-gutted Stalheim Hotel have found 13 bodies so far. Another 11 persons are believed missing.

The bodies have not been identified, but the dead and missing are believed to include 20 Americans, 3 Canadais and a Dutchman.

Twenty-two persons are still in hospitals at nearby Voss with injuries from the fire. Eighteen of the injured are American.

There were 147 guests in the tourist hotel—130 of them Americans—when the fire broke out early Tuesday morning.

Inspection Due For Road Site

Officials To Check City Interchange

Federal, state and local officials are scheduled to make an on-site inspection Friday noon of a proposed location for an interchange that will link the first stage of a California Hollow-W. 3rd St. freeway with the four-lane section of the East Liverpool-Wellsville "super-road" on W. 8th St.

The State Highway Department will send officials from its central office in Columbus and its Division 11 office in New Philadelphia, which administers work in Columbiana County. Officials also are due from the Federal Bureau of Public Roads, which will help to finance the project.

They will be joined in the inspection by Mayor Fred P. Lawrence, Safety - Service Director Joseph F. Ross and City Engineer George S. Bloomgren.

The inspection is another step in preparation of plans for the first stage of the freeway and their approval by state and federal officials. The plans are being prepared by the engineering firm of Michael Baker Jr., Inc., at Rochester. The plans earlier were forwarded to the Highway Department, which was to send them on to the Bureau of Public Roads for its approval.

With construction scheduled to start in 1960, the first stage of the freeway will stretch from the city limits in California Hollow to W. 3rd and Monroe Sts. Eventually, the four-lane road will be constructed to the Ohio-Pennsylvania state line.

County Court To Meet

NEW CUMBERLAND — Hancock County Court will meet here tonight at 7:30 to clean up year-end business. Commissioners William C. Graham, Lyle Virden and Dave N. Thomas, and Donald Stewart, clerk, will attend the session in the Courthouse.

Libel Hearing In Neff Case To Be July 10

State Auditor Denies County Jurisdiction But Asks For Delay

The hearing on criminal libel charged by Samuel G. Neff of Beaver against Pennsylvania Auditor General Charles C. Smith has been changed — on request of Smith—from Saturday to July 10.

The hearing will be before Alderman George Alderson of Beaver Falls.

Smith said in a letter, "without submitting to jurisdiction to your office or to the county of Beaver, which jurisdiction I must respectively deny, I would agree to a short postponement to the scheduled hearing date."

District Atty. Richard P. Steward had no statement to make today following a discussion Wednesday with Atty. Gen. Anne X. Alpern at Harrisburg.

Steward said that he will discuss a possible special Grand Jury investigation with Common Pleas Judges Robert E. McCreary and Morgan H. Sohn of alledged shakedowns of contractors by state highway employes and politicians in the county.

Fired thus far have been Neff, former Beaver County Democratic chairman, from his $12,500 a year job as manager of the State Workmen's Insurance; Robert Yoho of Beaver Falls, who worked in the Department of Labor and Industry, and Paul Fessler of New Galilee R. D. 2, assistant superintendent of Beaver County highways.

Suspended in the Beaver County State Highway Department crews have been William Slade of Ellwood City, Grayn Denny of Beaver Falls R. D. 1 and Lester Beighly of Darlington.

Smith's allegations against Neff and more than 12 others include a charge that 11 contractors were paid $55,000 more than they should have received from 1955-58 when the kickback was in operation, according to Smith.

Home Property Heirs Ask Part Of $898,000

Heirs of the late William G. McCollough have filed claims against the $898,000 awarded to Jefferson County for the McCollough Children's Home which was razed in 1957 for reconstruction for Route 7 at Yellow Creek.

Emma Reno Crosby, who claims to be one of the McCollough heirs, has asked Common Pleas Court in Steubenville for an order apportioning the award in favor of the heirs declared to be owners of the residue of the property.

The Ohio Supreme Court three weeks ago upheld the amount awarded to the county by a Common Pleas Court jury.

Mr. McCollough's will stipulated that the land and its buildings "shall revert to his heirs when the home is abandoned or not maintained in a proper manner for the "poor or homeless children of Jefferson County".

July 1 Deadline

Assembly Speeds Ohio's Budget Bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's lawmakers are running a race against the clock to get a record $1,848,387,410 budget bill to the governor's desk by the July 1 deadline.

The Senate is poised to move rapidly on the big money bill to run the state government the next two years as soon as the House approves another bill which would increase the sales tax an estimated 40 million dollars higher than anticipated revenues. Gov. Michael V. DiSalle and legislative leaders will have their axes poised to cut the Legislature's money bills down to size.

"We are going to have to cut somewhere," DiSalle told newsmen.

In a long and furiously paced legislative day — the Senate floor session extended until after midnight (fast time)—there were these other major developments:

The House passed and sent to the Senate an administration bill to create a new State Department of Industrial and Economic Development.

The Senate virtually completed legislative action on bills to re-establish fair trade in Ohio and another to set up ground rules for fair practices in the milk distribution industry.

Both houses accepted a conference committee report on a bill requiring school children to be immunized against polio, lockjaw, whooping cough, diphtheria and small pox unless their parents object in writing for any reason. The bill now goes to the governor.

The Senate insisted on its amendments to two bills and asked for joint Senate-House conference committees on both. They are bills to deny motor scooter licenses to 14- and 15-year-olds and to assign proceeds from Ohio's new 2-cent-a-gallon gasoline tax to a highway improvement fund.

Two election bills facing defeat were returned to the House Rules Committee with the possibility that they will not reappear. One, a House bill, would require door-to-door registration of voters. The other, a Senate-approved measure, would keep election polls open until 8 p.m. instead of 6:30 p.m. in counties above 200,000 population.

Holds Surprise Interview

Long Declares He's Sane; Predicts Victory In Court

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Gov. Earl K. Long Wednesday night assured the people of Louisiana he is sane and predicted he would win his freedom from a mental hospital in a court test Friday.

In a surprise radio interview taped in the ward where he rests 79 miles from his empty capital office, Long said:

"If I felt for one second that my mentality wasn't equal to the occasion of running the governor's office, I'd resign."

The night also brought a series of unexpected moves.

1. Atty. Gen. Jack Gremillion filed papers reportedly contesting the jurisdiction of the Covington court where Long is to wage his habeas corpus freedom battle Friday.

2. Long's chief counsel, Joe Arthur Sims of Hammond, answered Gremillion's shift strategy by saying: "I'm satisfied we're in the right court."

3. Judge Robert D. Jones of Covington's 22nd Judicial District Court declined to indicate which way his judicial leanings would swing. He said he would comment in court "when and if I am called upon to rule."

Sims said he taped the interview with the governor because of the press of phone calls on Long's health. New Orleans station WNOE broadcast it and then made it available to statewide radio and television stations.

"I've been undermined by my nephew (Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La), by my wife, and my supposed cousin, Dr. Arthur Long in Baton Rouge," the 63-year-old governor charged in a high-pitched voice. The three signed Long's original commitment papers and spirited him to Galveston, Tex., on May 30.

The governor called his wife "one of the most jealous women God ever let live." He said the state was in "good hands" under Lt. Gov. Lether Frazar.

Long asked, in the recording, that the people of Louisiana pray for him because "I've gone through quite a bit in the last three or four weeks.

"I'm glad to tell you good people that as far as mentally, I never was any better off in my life than I am today."

But, he added, "after they got through chucking me from one auto to another, fighting me on one street corner after another and put me on stretchers and tying me and shooting me with hypodermics, then I can't tell you that physically I'm as well off as I was."

He added: "When I get to be governor again, everything I do will be done deliberately with the advice of friends and people well informed."

Crucible Sets Improvement At $4½ Million

Blooming Mill To Be Electrified As Latest Project At Midland

The Crucible Steel Co. announced it will spend 4½ million during the next 6 months for the electrification of the blooming mill at its Midland Works.

Installation of two 5,000-horsepower electric motors will replace the existing steam engines for driving the mill rolls.

"These new motors will provide us with more dependable power, smoother operations, and faster roll reversals," said B. L. Jones, Crucible's chief engineer.

"This also eliminates the last steam powered engine at our Midland plant."

The installation of the motors, slated to take place at the beginning of next year, will be accomplished with a mill shutdown of "no longer than 21 days," Jones said.

The $4½ million expenditure, to be paid out of earnings in 1959, is in addition to the $23 million program for expansion and improvement of the hot strip mill, which was announced last month.

Gunman Gets $16 In Weirton

Robber Apologizes After Tying Waitress

WEIRTON — Police today are searching for an apologetic gunman who Wednesday held up a tavern and escaped with $16 after binding and gagging a waitress with her own clothing.

The robber described as being 30 to 35, took the cash from the Home Plate Bar, 315 Cove Rd., at 3:35 p. m.

Anna Matta, the waitress, told police the gunman declared "I'm sorry I have to do this but I need the money'."

She said the man entered the bar a 3:20 p. m. and drank several beers. After moving to another stool while complaining "the sun hurts my eyes," the man pulled an automatic pistol from his pocket and ordered the girl to give him the money in the cash register.

The waitress was ordered into a back room where the gunman bound and gagged her with clothing torn from her, police said.

The waitress told police that during the holdup a patron once tried to open the front door which the gunman had locked. She was ordered "to keep quiet—or else!", police said.

The gunman left through the tavern's front door and police were called immediately but could find no trace.

Officer Nabs Suspect After Chase On Foot

A Gardendale man who had been placed under arrest in connection with a domestic disturbance lost a foot race Wednesday night to lanky Patrolman Samuel E. Hayes and it cost him an extra $31 today in Municipal Court on a charge of resisting arrest.

Harold Piggott of Woodbine Ave., nabbed and subdued after a chase in a wooded tract near his home about 5:08 p. m. yesterday, pleaded guilty to resisting arrest and assault and battery on his wife, Mrs. Le Etta Piggott. He was fined $25 and $6 costs on each count.

The case dates back to June 18, when Piggott was taken into custody on his wife's warrant alleging a disturbance of the peace. She charged that he became intoxicated, forced her to leave the home and then broke up the furniture.

When Piggott was arrested on his wife's warrant, he posted a $56 bond for a hearing yesterday, then went home and struck her, officers said. That brought on the second charge.

When Piggott failed to appear in court yesterday on the charge of disturbing the peace, the $56 bond was forfeited. Officer Hayes went to the home to take him into custody on the assault warrant, officers said.

Patrolman Hayes reported he placed Piggott under arrest on the warrant, but the defendant asked for "a few minutes to finish his supper." However Piggott leaped up from the supper table and ran out of the home, heading for a wooded tract, the officer said.

"If you want me you will have to shoot me," he called, according to the officer's report. However, Hayes overtook and subdued Piggott, he said, then filed the additional charge.

A Newell woman's auto was damaged this morning when it went off the Walnut St. crossing and halted on the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. right-of-way nearby, police said.

Mrs. Madeline M. Wells, 35, of 501 Jefferson St. escaped unhurt in the mishap, police said, although the car was damaged slightly. Mrs. Wells told police she was turning onto the crossing from the River Rd. when she saw a train approaching, became frightened and drove onto the rails. However, the auto was not struck by a train.

13 Bodies Are Found In Fire-Gutted Hotel

BERGEN, Norway (AP) — Authorities sifting the ashes of the fire-gutted Stalheim Hotel have found 13 bodies so far. Another 11 persons are believed missing.

The bodies have not been identified, but the dead and missing are believed to include 20 Americans, 3 Canadais and a Dutchman.

Twenty-two persons are still in hospitals at nearby Voss with injuries from the fire. Eighteen of the injured are American.

There were 147 guests in the tourist hotel—130 of them Americans—when the fire broke out early Tuesday morning.

Inspection Due For Road Site

Officials To Check City Interchange

Federal, state and local officials are scheduled to make an on-site inspection Friday noon of a proposed location for an interchange that will link the first stage of a California Hollow-W. 3rd St. freeway with the four-lane section of the East Liverpool-Wellsville "super-road" on W. 8th St.

The State Highway Department will send officials from its central office in Columbus and its Division 11 office in New Philadelphia, which administers work in Columbiana County. Officials also are due from the Federal Bureau of Public Roads, which will help to finance the project.

They will be joined in the inspection by Mayor Fred P. Lawrence, Safety-Service Director Joseph F. Ross and City Engineer George S. Bloomgren.

The inspection is another step in preparation of plans for the first stage of the freeway and their approval by state and federal officials. The plans are being prepared by the engineering firm of Michael Baker Jr., Inc., at Rochester. The plans earlier were forwarded to the Highway Department, which was to send them on to the Bureau of Public Roads for its approval.

With construction scheduled to start in 1960, the first stage of the freeway will stretch from the city limits in California Hollow to W. 3rd and Monroe Sts. Eventually, the four-lane road will be constructed to the Ohio-Pennsylvania state line.

County Court To Meet

NEW CUMBERLAND — Hancock County Court will meet here tonight at 7:30 to clean up year-end business. Commissioners William C. Graham, Lyle Virden and Dave N. Thomas, and Donald Stewart, clerk, will attend the session in the Courthouse.

Libel Hearing In Neff Case To Be July 10

State Auditor Denies County Jurisdiction But Asks For Delay

The hearing on criminal libel charged by Samuel G. Neff of Beaver against Pennsylvania Auditor General Charles C. Smith has been changed — on request of Smith—from Saturday to July 10.

The hearing will be before Alderman George Alderson of Beaver Falls.

Smith said in a letter, "without submitting to jurisdiction to your office or to the county of Beaver, which jurisdiction I must respectively deny, I would agree to a short postponement to the scheduled hearing date."

District Atty. Richard P. Steward had no statement to make today following a discussion Wednesday with Atty. Gen. Anne X. Alpern at Harrisburg.

Steward said that he will discuss a possible special Grand Jury investigation with Common Pleas Judges Robert E. McCreary and Morgan H. Sohn of alledged shakedowns of contractors by state highway employes and politicians in the county.

Fired thus far have been Neff, former Beaver County Democratic chairman, from his $12,500 a year job as manager of the State Workmen's Insurance; Robert Yoho of Beaver Falls, who worked in the Department of Labor and Industry, and Paul Fessler of New Galilee R. D. 2, assistant superintendent of Beaver County highways.

Suspended in the Beaver County State Highway Department crews have been William Slade of Ellwood City, Grayn Denny of Beaver Falls R. D. 1 and Lester Beighly of Darlington.

Smith's allegations against Neff and more than 12 others include a charge that 11 contractors were paid $55,000 more than they should have received from 1955-58 when the kickback was in operation, according to Smith.

Home Property Heirs Ask Part Of $898,000

Heirs of the late William G. McCollough have filed claims against the $898,000 awarded to Jefferson County for the McCollough Children's Home which was razed in 1957 for reconstruction for Route 7 at Yellow Creek.

Emma Reno Crosby, who claims to be one of the McCollough heirs, has asked Common Pleas Court in Steubenville for an order apportioning the award in favor of the heirs declared to be owners of the residue of the property.

The Ohio Supreme Court three weeks ago upheld the amount awarded to the county by a Common Pleas Court jury.

Mr. McCollough's will stipulated that the land and its buildings "shall revert to his heirs when the home is abandoned or not maintained in a proper manner for the "poor or homeless children of Jefferson County".

July 1 Deadline

Assembly Speeds Ohio's Budget Bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's lawmakers are running a race against the clock to get a record $1,848,387,410 budget bill to the governor's desk by the July 1 deadline.

The Senate is poised to move rapidly on the big money bill to run the state government the next two years as soon as the House approves another bill which would increase the sales tax an estimated 40 million dollars higher than anticipated revenues. Gov. Michael V. DiSalle and legislative leaders will have their axes poised to cut the Legislature's money bills down to size.

"We are going to have to cut somewhere," DiSalle told newsmen.

In a long and furiously paced legislative day — the Senate floor session extended until after midnight (fast time)—there were these other major developments:

The House passed and sent to the Senate an administration bill to create a new State Department of Industrial and Economic Development.

The Senate virtually completed legislative action on bills to reestablish fair trade in Ohio and another to set up ground rules for fair practices in the milk distribution industry.

Both houses accepted a conference committee report on a bill requiring school children to be immunized against polio, lockjaw, whooping cough, diphtheria and small pox unless their parents object in writing for any reason. The bill now goes to the governor.

The Senate insisted on its amendments to two bills and asked for joint Senate-House conference committees on both. They are bills to deny motor scooter licenses to 14- and 15-year-olds and to assign proceeds from Ohio's new 2-cent-a-gallon gasoline tax to a highway improvement fund.

Two election bills facing defeat were returned to the House Rules Committee with the possibility that they will not reappear. One, a House bill, would require door-to-door registration of voters. The other, a Senate-approved measure, would keep election polls open until 8 p.m. instead of 6:30 p.m. in counties above 200,000 population.

Holds Surprise Interview

Long Declares He's Sane; Predicts Victory In Court

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Gov. Earl K. Long Wednesday night assured the people of Louisiana he is sane and predicted he would win his freedom from a mental hospital in a court test Friday.

In a surprise radio interview taped in the ward where he rests 79 miles from his empty capital office, Long said:

"If I felt for one second that my mentality wasn't equal to the occasion of running the governor's office, I'd resign."

The night also brought a series of unexpected moves.

1. Atty. Gen. Jack Gremillion filed papers reportedly contesting the jurisdiction of the Covington court where Long is to wage his habeas corpus freedom battle Friday.

2. Long's chief counsel, Joe Arthur Sims of Hammond, answered Gremillion's shift strategy by saying: "I'm satisfied we're in the right court."

3. Judge Robert D. Jones of Covington's 22nd Judicial District Court declined to indicate which way his judicial leanings would swing. He said he would comment in court "when and if I am called upon to rule."

Sims said he taped the interview with the governor because of the press of phone calls on Long's health. New Orleans station WNOE broadcast it and then made it available to statewide radio and television stations.

"I've been undermined by my nephew (Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La), by my wife, and my supposed cousin, Dr. Arthur Long in Baton Rouge," the 63-year-old governor charged in a high-pitched voice. The three signed Long's original commitment papers and spirited him to Galveston, Tex., on May 30.

The governor called his wife "one of the most jealous women God ever let live." He said the state was in "good hands" under Lt. Gov. Lether Frazar.

Long asked, in the recording, that the people of Louisiana pray for him because "I've gone through quite a bit in the last three or four weeks.

"I'm glad to tell you good people that as far as mentally, I never was any better off in my life than I am today."

But, he added, "after they got through chucking me from one auto to another, fighting me on one street corner after another and put me on stretchers and tying me and shooting me with hypodermics, then I can't tell you that physically I'm as well off as I was."

He added: "When I get to be governor again, everything I do will be done deliberately with the advice of friends and people well informed."

Crucible Sets Improvement At $4½ Million

Blooming Mill To Be Electrified As Latest Project At Midland

The Crucible Steel Co. announced it will spend 4½ million during the next 6 months for the electrification of the blooming mill at its Midland Works.

Installation of two 5,000-horsepower electric motors will replace the existing steam engines for driving the mill rolls.

"These new motors will provide us with more dependable power, smoother operations, and faster roll reversals," said B. L. Jones, Crucible's chief engineer.

"This also eliminates the last steam powered engine at our Midland plant."

The installation of the motors, slated to take place at the beginning of next year, will be accomplished with a mill shutdown of "no longer than 21 days," Jones said.

The $4½ million expenditure, to be paid out of earnings in 1959, is in addition to the $23 million program for expansion and improvement of the hot strip mill, which was announced last month.

Gunman Gets $16 In Weirton

Robber Apologizes After Tying Waitress

WEIRTON — Police today are searching for an apologetic gunman who Wednesday held up a tavern and escaped with $16 after binding and gagging a waitress with her own clothing.

The robber described as being 30 to 35, took the cash from the Home Plate Bar, 315 Cove Rd., at 3:35 p. m.

Anna Matta, the waitress, told police the gunman declared "I'm sorry I have to do this but I need the money'."

She said the man entered the bar a 3:20 p. m. and drank several beers. After moving to another stool while complaining "the sun hurts my eyes," the man pulled an automatic pistol from his pocket and ordered the girl to give him the money in the cash register.

The waitress was ordered into a back room where the gunman bound and gagged her with clothing torn from her, police said.

The waitress told police that during the holdup a patron once tried to open the front door which the gunman had locked. She was ordered "to keep quiet—or else!", police said.

The gunman left through the tavern's front door and police were called immediately but could find no trace.

Officer Nabs Suspect After Chase On Foot

A Gardendale man who had been placed under arrest in connection with a domestic disturbance lost a foot race Wednesday night to lanky Patrolman Samuel E. Hayes and it cost him an extra $31 today in Municipal Court on a charge of resisting arrest.

Harold Piggott of Woodbine Ave., nabbed and subdued after a chase in a wooded tract near his home about 5:08 p. m. yesterday, pleaded guilty to resisting arrest and assault and battery on his wife, Mrs. Le Etta Piggott. He was fined $25 and $6 costs on each count.

The case dates back to June 18, when Piggott was taken into custody on his wife's warrant alleging a disturbance of the peace. She charged that he became intoxicated, forced her to leave the home and then broke up the furniture.

When Piggott was arrested on his wife's warrant, he posted a $56 bond for a hearing yesterday, then went home and struck her, officers said. That brought on the second charge.

When Piggott failed to appear in court yesterday on the charge of disturbing the peace, the $56 bond was forfeited. Officer Hayes went to the home to take him into custody on the assault warrant, officers said.

Patrolman Hayes reported he placed Piggott under arrest on the warrant, but the defendant asked for "a few minutes to finish his supper." However Piggott leaped up from the supper table and ran out of the home, heading for a wooded tract, the officer said.

"If you want me you will have to shoot me," he called, according to the officer's report. However, Hayes overtook and subdued Piggott, he said, then filed the additional charge.

Deaths and Funerals

Death Claims Blaise Burns

Blaise S. Burns of Salineville, a World War I veteran and a retired manager of the State Liquor Store here, died Wednesday afternoon at 2 at his home at rear 59 Main St., following a long illness. He was 71.

He was born in Salineville Dec. 31, 1887, and was a member of St. Patrick Catholic Church, the Holy Name Society, Knights of Columbus and the American Legion of Salineville.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Callie Burns, two daughters, Mary Burns and Joyce Burns, and three sons, Robert Burns, Thomas Burns and Michael Burns, all at home; another daughter, Mrs. Sarah Neptune of Akron; a stepdaughter, Mrs. Delores Sevek of Salineville; four other sons, William Burns of Cainbridge, Paul Burns of Girard, John Burns of Dayton and Clarence Burns of St. Clair Shores, Mich., and 10 grandchildren.

Services will be held Saturday morning at 9 at the church by Fr. Homer G. Oliver. Burial will be in St. Patrick's Cemetery. The Rosary will be said Friday night at 8, led by the pastor.

Friends may call at the Kerr Funeral Home at Salineville tonight and Friday afternoon and night.

Edward Unger

Edward J. Unger, 2152 Crawford Ave., a shipper at the Furniture City Store, died suddenly this morning at 9:53 at City Hospital. He was 45.

He was born in Leechburg, Pa., son of Edward E. Unger of East Liverpool, and the late Nora Lynch Unger. He resided here for 23 years and was a member of St. Ann Catholic Church.

Besides his father, he is survived by his widow, Mrs. Sarah Lisk Unger at home; a daughter, Mrs. Carol Kasunich of Midland; a son, Edward H. Unger, stationed with Army at Indiantown Gap, Pa.; three brothers, Ralph Unger of East Liverpool, John Unger of Chester and Robert Unger of New Orleans; three sisters, Mrs. Ellen Brown, Mrs. Effie Simms and Mrs. Mary McVey, all of East Liverpool, and 2 grandchildren.

The Dawson Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements, which are pending.

Harper A. Yoder

SALINEVILLE — Harper A. Yoder of Mechanicstown, a rural mail carrier for 37 years, died Wednesday night at his home of an apparent heart attack. He was 67.

A native of Carroll County, he was a member and elder of the Mechanicstown Presbyterian Church, the Salineville Masonic Lodge and the Mechanicstown Grange. He was a 4-H leader of the Mechanicstown district.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Thelma Ahlborn Yoder, a daughter, Miss Linda Yoder and a son, William Eugene Yoder, all at home; four other daughters, Mrs. Harold Kirby of Carrollton, Mrs. Eugene Peterson and Mrs. Clyde Bonam, both of Salineville, and Mrs. Walter Bell of Malvern, and four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. at the Sweeney Funeral Home at Carrollton by the Rev. Leroy Antram. Burial will be in Mechanicstown Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Friday afternoon and night.

One Of Prisoners Dies In Missouri Uprising

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—One of the 53 prisoners injured when guards broke up an inmate rebellion at the U. S. Medical Center Tuesday is dead.

Warden Russell O. Settle disclosed the number of injured Wednesday night when he announced the death of Richard Smith. The 24-year-old Salt Lake City man suffered a skull fracture when guards stormed the hospital wing held by prisoners.

One of the five guards held hostage for 16 hours, Robert B. Rosendahl, is hospitalized with severe cuts. His condition is fair. Seven inmates still are being treated.

Settle said the prisoners caused about $10,000 damage.

An old rubber covered dish strainer or skeleton tray used along side the sink can be renovated by applying shellac, varnish or ordinary paint.

Assembly

The Senate passed and sent to the House a bill requiring conspicuous warning labels on toxic or flammable merchandise sold for use in homes and institutions.

The House passed and sent to the Senate a bill to set up a radiation protection center administered by the Department of Health.

The House defeated a bill to set up a seven-member State Welfare Board to advise and assist the state welfare director.

The Senate refused to accept House amendments to a bill revising control of billboards along state highways. The House later reconsidered its passage of the bill and sent it back to the House Highway Committee for further study.

The big money bill came out of the Senate Finance Committee nearly 40 million dollars higher than the House-approved version.

Nearly half the increase came about because DiSalle's idea of turning back all poor relief responsibility to local governments didn't jell this session and the state was required to make an appropriation for the full biennium. But that money item balances off with the poor relief taxes the state will keep in order to pay the relief subsidy rather than turning the tax source over to local governments.

A 4½-million-dollar item was an allocation to allow for removal of present citizenship requirements and liberalization of residence requirements for old-age pensioners.

Also added was 8½ million dollars to finance a pending salary reclassification for state employes. The governor did not elaborate on a statement that the item "already had been allowed for."

Seven Republicans joined 69 Democrats to pass the bill creating the Department of Industrial and Economic Development.

The department, if the Senate approves, would be headed by a $15,000-a-year director. The department would study resources of the state and local governments to attract industry to Ohio and otherwise improve Ohio's economic climate. Creation of the new department would help 111 cities under 25,000 population and 872 villages to qualify for federal funds to help pay for local planning and development.

There would be four nine-member advisory committees to aid the director—in the areas of water, atomic energy, publicity, plus an advisory committee on industry.

The House also passed and sent to the Senate a bill to increase the pensions of 14,000 public employes, teachers and school employes who retired before June 29, 1955, an average of 12 per cent.

The milk bill debate took the Senate into the late evening hours after the fair-trade bill took up most of the afternoon.

The milk bill sets up a Division of Dairy Marketing to police the ground rules of fair practice the bill sets up. The bill prohibits the sale of milk and dairy products below cost and prohibits gifts or loans by milk firms to consumers.

The measure was attacked by opponents as one sure to result in higher milk prices and boosted by its backers as one to protect small business.

So-called fair trade on name-brand merchandise was ruled unconstitutional by the Ohio Supreme Court several years ago. The bill, now virtually through the legislative mill, would reinstate it in a form which sponsors said overcomes the court's objections.

It is designed to prevent price-cutting and to protect small business, sponsors said in arguments closely parallel to the debate on the milk bill.

In other actions:

The Senate passed and sent to the House a bill to permit creation of colleges of engineering at Bowling Green and Kent State universities.

The Senate also sent to the House a bill authorizing the Board of Education to operate classes for migrant workers' children with an appropriation of $175,000.

pension of three employes, started Tuesday morning and involved some 2,800 workers. The three have been reinstated.

Republic said 100 of 300 day shift workers at the Canton plant did not report to their jobs. They also were protesting management's disciplining of employes. The plant, where special metals are melted and rolled, employs 700 workers on two shifts.

Dues Are Increased

CLEVELAND (AP)—An increase of 50 cents a month in per capita dues was approved Wednesday by delegates attending the annual convention of the Communications Workers of America. The increase, effective July 1, will make the per capita payment $2 a month. It is expected to provide the international union an additional 1½ million dollars a year.

County Youth Jailed

LISBON — Richard Cusick, 18, of R. D. 3 was sentenced to 6 months in the County Jail Wednesday by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin, charged with contributing to the delinquency of a 15-year-old East Liverpool area girl.

More car than this Impala Sport Coupe is hard to find at any price.

clings to curves like a cat on a carpet!

the travel-lovin' Chevrolet

Nothing else but a dyed-in-the-wool sports car like the Corvette can take a turn with such solid assurance!

It's easy to see where Chevrolet gets its road sense. With big coil springs at every wheel, a firm, wider stance and all of its pounds distributed with painstaking care, Chevy's born with it.

The only thing that may be hard to understand is how it can offer the ride it does, along with so many other luxury-car virtues, and still compete in the low-price field.

We use the word compete only in the sense of price. For with a ride as special as Chevy's, real competitors are hard to come by. There's a world of difference between Chevrolet's coil springs at all four wheels and the leaf springs that most other cars still use. Take a Chevy down a snaky back road and you'll feel the difference in the sure way it holds through curves and shoots over rough spots with hardly a ripple.

This one's really made to travel and loves every minute of it.

Deaths and Funerals

Death Claims Blaise Burns

Blaise S. Burns of Salineville, a World War I veteran and a retired manager of the State Liquor Store here, died Wednesday afternoon at 2 at his home at rear 59 Main St., following a long illness. He was 71.

He was born in Salineville Dec. 31, 1887, and was a member of St. Patrick Catholic Church, the Holy Name Society, Knights of Columbus and the American Legion of Salineville.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Callie Burns, two daughters, Mary Burns and Joyce Burns, and three sons, Robert Burns, Thomas Burns and Michael Burns, all at home; another daughter, Mrs. Sarah Neptune of Akron; a stepdaughter, Mrs. Delores Sevek of Salineville; four other sons, William Burns of Cainbridge, Paul Burns of Girard, John Burns of Dayton and Clarence Burns of St. Clair Shores, Mich., and 10 grandchildren.

Services will be held Saturday morning at 9 at the church by Fr. Homer G. Oliver. Burial will be in St. Patrick's Cemetery. The Rosary will be said Friday night at 8, led by the pastor.

Friends may call at the Kerr Funeral Home at Salineville tonight and Friday afternoon and night.

Edward Unger

Edward J. Unger, 2152 Crawford Ave., a shipper at the Furniture City Store, died suddenly this morning at 9:53 at City Hospital. He was 45.

He was born in Leechburg, Pa., son of Edward E. Unger of East Liverpool, and the late Nora Lynch Unger. He resided here for 23 years and was a member of St. Ann Catholic Church.

Besides his father, he is survived by his widow, Mrs. Sarah Lisk Unger at home; a daughter, Mrs. Carol Kasunich of Midland; a son, Edward H. Unger, stationed with Army at Indiantown Gap, Pa.; three brothers, Ralph Unger of East Liverpool, John Unger of Chester and Robert Unger of New Orleans; three sisters, Mrs. Ellen Brown, Mrs. Effie Simms and Mrs. Mary McVey, all of East Liverpool, and 2 grandchildren.

The Dawson Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements, which are pending.

Harper A. Yoder

SALINEVILLE — Harper A. Yoder of Mechanicstown, a rural mail carrier for 37 years, died Wednesday night at his home of an apparent heart attack. He was 67.

A native of Carroll County, he was a member and elder of the Mechanicstown Presbyterian Church, the Salineville Masonic Lodge and the Mechanicstown Grange. He was a 4-H leader of the Mechanicstown district.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Thelma Ahlborn Yoder, a daughter, Miss Linda Yoder and a son, William Eugene Yoder, all at home; four other daughters, Mrs. Harold Kirby of Carrollton, Mrs. Eugene Peterson and Mrs. Clyde Bonam, both of Salineville, and Mrs. Walter Bell of Malvern, and four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. at the Sweeney Funeral Home at Carrollton by the Rev. Leroy Antram. Burial will be in Mechanicstown Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Friday afternoon and night.

One Of Prisoners Dies In Missouri Uprising

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—One of the 53 prisoners injured when guards broke up an inmate rebellion at the U. S. Medical Center Tuesday is dead.

Warden Russell O. Settle disclosed the number of injured Wednesday night when he announced the death of Richard Smith. The 24-year-old Salt Lake City man suffered a skull fracture when guards stormed the hospital wing held by prisoners.

One of the five guards held hostage for 16 hours, Robert B. Rosendahl, is hospitalized with severe cuts. His condition is fair. Seven inmates still are being treated.

Settle said the prisoners caused about $10,000 damage.

An old rubber covered dish strainer or skeleton tray used along side the sink can be renovated by applying shellac, varnish or ordinary paint.

The Senate passed and sent to the House a bill requiring conspicuous warning labels on toxic or flammable merchandise sold for use in homes and institutions.

The House passed and sent to the Senate a bill to set up a radiation protection center administered by the Department of Health.

The House defeated a bill to set up a seven-member State Welfare Board to advise and assist the state welfare director.

The Senate refused to accept House amendments to a bill revising control of billboards along state highways. The House later reconsidered its passage of the bill and sent it back to the House Highway Committee for further study.

The big money bill came out of the Senate Finance Committee nearly 40 million dollars higher than the House-approved version.

Nearly half the increase came about because DiSalle's idea of turning back all poor relief responsibility to local governments didn't jell this session and the state was required to make an appropriation for the full biennium. But that money item balances off with the poor relief taxes the state will keep in order to pay the relief subsidy rather than turning the tax source over to local governments.

A 4½-million-dollar item was an allocation to allow for removal of present citizenship requirements and liberalization of residence requirements for old-age pensioners.

Also added was 8½ million dollars to finance a pending salary reclassification for state employes. The governor did not elaborate on a statement that the item "already had been allowed for."

Seven Republicans joined 69 Democrats to pass the bill creating the Department of Industrial and Economic Development.

The department, if the Senate approves, would be headed by a $15,000-a-year director. The department would study resources of the state and local governments to attract industry to Ohio and otherwise improve Ohio's economic climate. Creation of the new department would help 111 cities under 25,000 population and 872 villages to qualify for federal funds to help pay for local planning and development.

There would be four nine-member advisory committees to aid the director—in the areas of water, atomic energy, publicity, plus an advisory committee on industry.

The House also passed and sent to the Senate a bill to increase the pensions of 14,000 public employes, teachers and school employes who retired before June 29, 1955, an average of 12 per cent.

The milk bill debate took the Senate into the late evening hours after the fair-trade bill took up most of the afternoon.

The milk bill sets up a Division of Dairy Marketing to police the ground rules of fair practice the bill sets up. The bill prohibits the sale of milk and dairy products below cost and prohibits gifts or loans by milk firms to consumers.

The measure was attacked by opponents as one sure to result in higher milk prices and boosted by its backers as one to protect small business.

So-called fair trade on name-brand merchandise was ruled unconstitutional by the Ohio Supreme Court several years ago. The bill, now virtually through the legislative mill, would reinstate it in a form which sponsors said overcomes the court's objections.

It is designed to prevent price-cutting and to protect small business, sponsors said in arguments closely parallel to the debate on the milk bill.

In other actions:

The Senate passed and sent to the House a bill to permit creation of colleges of engineering at Bowling Green and Kent State universities.

The Senate also sent to the House a bill authorizing the Board of Education to operate classes for migrant workers' children with an appropriation of $175,000.

pension of three employes, started Tuesday morning and involved some 2,800 workers. The three have been reinstated.

Republic said 100 of 300 day shift workers at the Canton plant did not report to their jobs. They also were protesting management's disciplining of employes. The plant, where special metals are melted and rolled, employs 700 workers on two shifts.

Dues Are Increased

CLEVELAND (AP)—An increase of 50 cents a month in per capita dues was approved Wednesday by delegates attending the annual convention of the Communications Workers of America. The increase, effective July 1, will make the per capita payment $2 a month. It is expected to provide the international union an additional 1½ million dollars a year.

County Youth Jailed

LISBON — Richard Cusick, 18, of R. D. 3 was sentenced to 6 months in the County Jail Wednesday by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin, charged with contributing to the delinquency of a 15-year-old East Liverpool area girl.

Chink In The Western Allies' Case

When and if the foreign ministers get together again next month, nothing will have been changed in Berlin. Secretary of State Herter points to the Berlin deadlock as the key issue.

The United States and the Western Allies want to retain all legal rights to stay in West Berlin indefinitely, maintaining full garrisons, being granted full civil and military guarantees by the surroundng Russians and having a firm promise by Communist oficials that they will cooperate in a plan to minimize subversion and propaganda in the German metropolis.

In short, the United States and the Western Allies want to preserve the status quo in West Berlin, plus some improvements.

The Soviet Union, on the other hand, wants to set a time limit on Allied occupation of Berlin. This is the issue before the foreign ministers.

Russia contends that divided responsibility for the German metropolis cannot be of indefinite duration. It contends that Germany, itself, must be reunited — and it wants the reunification to be on terms that would be favorable to East Germany, just as the Western Allies insist it must be on terms that would be unfavorable to both East Germany and the Communist movement.

This is how the deadlock has come about. The chink in the Western Allies' case against the obvious Russian move to settle the whole German question is that it is proposing to maintain the status quo while the Russians are proposing to reach a settlement.

The diplomatic question is how to break the deadlock before tensions build up to a crisis of military friction.

Beyond that, the question is how to keep Russian diplomacy from taking advantage of the circumstances of a deadlock to create a crisis in militarism in which they would hold the advantage of position. The deadlock has not been accidental. It was nurtured, fostered and contrived by Russian intransigence in the past — intransigence that froze the Western Allies into defense of an arrangement that made them vulnerable to the very thing Premier Khrushchev did last November, when he set a time limit on their presence in West Berlin.

They have set no time limit on Russian domination of East Berlin or of the politics of East Germany. They have left themselves vulnerable to the gambit that Khrushchev made when he started to set time limits.

Secretary Herter can say with the deepest sincerity that the Western Allies will not yield to the Communist strategy to force them out. But beyond that the Western Allies have not dared to go. They have set no time limits of their own.

Economics, The Great Persuader

The relationship between sociology and economics in the problems created by Little Rock's school integration issue is being dramatized by delayed evidence of the impact on business in the bustling Arkansas city.

Little Rock is still bustling after two years of strife and bitterness over public school policy. But it is not bustling at the rate it had expected to bustle. The integration issue has hurt its prospects for growth.

New industries have not been showing interest in a community whose school system is in a state of chaos. They are no longer being attracted to a city that has suffered the experience of being made the battleground for a sociological issue that outside agitators have been glad to fight out at Little Rock's expense.

In answer to diehards who say the federal government and the federal courts might be described as "outside agitators," the fact is that Little Rock's school board had prepared a plan to put token integration into effect in a way calculated to avert a crisis and the plan was upset by rabble-rousers and political officeholders who did not care what happened to education as long as their prejudices were given an airing.

There is a moral in this for every city, every region and every state trying to upgrade its wealth-making enterprise.

Economics is ultimately the great persuader, but economics cannot be dissociated from sociology any more than it can be dissociated from all the other things that enterprise takes into consideration these days when looking for locations. Housing, schools, religion, politics, cultural opportunities, climate, public services and the nature of the population all become part of the economics of enterprise.

The hard fact of the matter is that Little Rock could not afford what happened to it at the hands of people who did not care what happened to it. No city can be secure when such people have a free rein.

Save Us! Save Us! Save Us!

One of the weirdest wrinkles in the flourishing business of saving what otherwise would be unable to save itself is a proposal by the governor of New Jersey to save railroad commuter service with tolls from the Jersey Turnpike.

Gov. Meyner's constituents work in New York City by the tens of thousands. Large numbers of New Yorkers, in turn, must travel to and from New Jersey in the course of making a living. For years, this travel scramble has been subsidized by railroads forced to provide commuter service at a loss. The railroads finally have revolted and discontinued an uneconomic practice.

The specter of extinction hovers over all cities that cannot justify the expensive public transportation required to keep them alive. But nowhere does it hover more ominously than it does over the vast metropolitan area centered on New York City, which would strangle in its own traffic congestion without public transportation, yet which cannot afford the public transportation it needs to sustain its existence.

This is the background for Gov. Meyner's significant proposal to underwrite public transportation's deficits surplus income from the Jersey Turnpike. It is pointed out that most of the tolls come from out-of-state motorists. It is pointed out, too — by critics of the proposal — that toll rates might very well be reduced if they are producing a surplus.

But by that kind of reasoning, if too much wheat is being produced because the price is artificially high, the price should be allowed to go down. To that, wheat farmers cry, "Save us! Save us! Save us! "

It is to be hoped no New Jersey commuter willing to take a subsidy to save the economic state of congestion that characterizes the New York metropolitan area ever will be shortsighted enough to criticize the federal government for saving wheat farmers.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

You could have knocked most Americans over with a soap bubble when they got the news that in a time of grave crisis and multiple problems affecting the fate of civilization, the Army found time to hold a court martial in the case of a private, who didn't peel potatoes satisfactorily. It was not in a musical comedy but in actual army life that the soldier faced charges of hacking the eyes out of potatoes . . . .

What goes? Did Gen. Grant say, "I propose to fight it out on the line if it takes all summer," with a potato peeler? Was Robert E. Lee a flawless man with a bowl of spuds? At Bunker Hill was the order, "Don't shoot until you see the whites of their eyes," a reference to potatoes?

IT IS DOUBTFUL if a single one of our great war heroes was a wonderman at getting eyes and bad spots out of this vegetable. There is no evidence George Washington ever peeled a potato properly. We will bet that Ethan Allen hacked potatoes ruthlessly. Pershing probably flunked the spud course. We understand Eisenhower was low man in peeling "taters" economically and that even today he is far from a victorious figure when trapped with a bag of spuds and the wrong knife.

Pfc. Andrew Good Jr. chose a court-martial rather than admit he could have peeled potatoes better if he followed the Army directive. (Imagine an army directive on conquering a potato.) His acquittal cheers servicemen, veterans and millions of folks who are first in war, first in peace and last in potato peeling.

DID GENEVA DELEGATES call a recess in the snafu or postpone the smog on account of darkness?

In its action against Lewis L. Strauss, the U.S. Senate looked so small it could have staged the proceedings as a midget show.

Imagine a situation in which all our side gets out of the Geneva conference is an agreement on the fact Gromyko had dental trouble!

"Bankers Say Thrift Isn't Dead"—headline. Then why isn't it breathing? Personal Incomes of Americans are highest in history. They now get so much money they have an outside chance to make both ends meet. Salaries are at such a peak that if they got up another 10 per cent the time you take to go broke will be greatly reduced.

James Hugh Trexler, naval research chief, talked to the moon and got an answer. It was probably, "Don't call me again; I'll call you."

Ezra Benson urges the public to eat more eggs. If you wanna really help in this crisis, speed it up by eating them with shells on.

"We will have no choice but to turn mikes away from all candidates in a political campaign," says Frank Stanton testifying before Congress in the equal-time issue. You mean that would be bad!

A jurist refused to attend a banquet of the Bar Association at which Perry Mason was to speak. "The Perry Mason TV program bears no resemblance to correct means of administering justice or proper conduct of a lawyer," he declared. Right, yerroner! Thousands of kids have developed an itch to be members of the bar through following the programs and are getting the idea an attorney can bamboozle the court "no hands" and make the prosecuting attorney a 50-1 shot to show.

AFTER THAT RECENT commercial for the Disneyland telecast for ninety minutes and sponsored as a regular TV show we hear Coney Island, Miami Beach, Las Vegas and Grossingers will demand equal time.

Any ideas for a name for the new New York ballclub? P.T.K. suggests, the "Moguls." Jim Rafter likes "Homecomers." Peter Aimes says that with so many millionaires in the picture New York ball club may one day merge Mickey Mantle with Ted Williams and split a future Babe Ruth three for one.

Thruway police are using unmarked police cars one day a week as an experiment in apprehending reckless drivers. Why one day a week: Does a detective wear a striped suit and illuminated hat to catch killers? Do cops carry, "I am a policeman" banner in hunting burglars?

'Look Boss, Our Merchandise Isn't Selling!'

'There Will Be A Steel Strike'

By Victor Riesel

There will be a massive coast-to-coast steel strike. All over the land thousands of furnaces' red glare will be darkened the night of June 30. This comes not from any crystal ball. It is the flat prediction of the one man who will be the strike's legal strategist — the man whose every phrase the steel executives analyze word by word. He is soft spoken, tough-bargaining Arthur Goldberg, the union' chief counsel.

Victor Riesel

What is significant is the fact that Mr. Goldberg cast his prediction in a private briefing session for some 90 New York labor leaders last Thursday night. It was not meant for publication.

It was made in the small auditorium of the Waiters' Local No. 1 headquarters right off Times Square. The millions under Broadway bright lights outside had no idea that the multi-billion-dollar question affecting the nation, even the world, was being asnwered here.

THERE HAS BEEN conjecture inside the white House, inside a thousand executive suites, inside every national labor headquarters over whether Steel Union chief David McDonald and his counsel would call for a strike of the entire industry or use a new technique, the "selective strike" of a few corporations or have the union members work without a contract through the summer and strike in September.

Last Thursday night Goldberg told his friends and labor colleagues:

"July 1, if there is no contract, the steel plants will be shut down."

Goldberg said the situation would have been different if Franklin D. Roosevelt or Harry Truman were in the White House. There would have been pressure on the companies. But with no pressure from President Eisenhower, the companies and the union will now have to battle it out.

This column's inquiries corroborate Mr. Goldberg's statement. It can be realiably reported from the only source which can be considered authentic — there will be no private telephone calls from either the White House or anyone in the Cabinet to any of the steel corporations as there were in '56 pressuring for a settlement with the union.

IT CAN BE REPORTED that as of the beginning of this week, President Eisenhower's orders forbid any interference behind the scenes by any administration official. This did not, of course, include the universally respected public efforts of Joseph Finnegan's Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

This is the import of several messages passed on by the White House to the highest industry executives in the past few weeks.

And as of the moment, President Eisenhower and his cops of advisers plan to let the strike roll for at least six weeks, if it starts July 1. Then, only if there is a real squeeze on defense production and such sprawling industries as auto production, will he move to give the pickets an 80-day holiday with a Taft-Hartley injunction ordering the strikers back to work.

Thus for the first time since the Steel Union was launched in the turbulence of the '30s it is in a fight without the administration as its second.

MEANWHILE, back at "Little Geneva", the Hotel Roosevelt in New York, all this was reflected in the corporations' new bargaining technique. The steel executives have been killing the union with cold politeness behind the closed doors.

For example, when negotiations first began on May 18, the union representatives were startled to hear the company officials lead in the applause for the critical labor speeches. A union man would arise and attack the company on some grievance. He would demand that the corporation right "this wrong."

The bloc of union committeemen would, of course, applaud loudly. But the company officials would beat them to it. They'd actually applaud the speech, smile and say nothing. No battles. Just the reiteration of the industry's position —the time has come when there will be no increase in production costs. That's it.

It's strike time. Everywhere the picket line schedules are ready for posting. It will be a long hot summer, even with the furnaces down.

Bread And Butter

By Truman Twill

The ordinary bread-and-butter letter is about as stimulating as ordinary bread and butter. But put a little sugar on top, or some jelly, and the commonplace becomes extraordinary.

Here is a well-turned phrase from a bread-and-butter letter that illustrates the idea:

"Our experience with you was one which each of us will remember with an extra-special savour, both of palate and sensibility."

How could the idea of combining gratitude for food and friendship be expressed more gracefully than that?

The tone of a bread-and-butter letter determines its success. It must be friendly without being clubby. It must be sincere but not painfully sincere. It must be grateful without being effusive.

Small wonder most of these letters end up by being formal and perfunctory. They were doomed to be so by the self-imposed limitations the writer placed on himself when he set out to be specifically grateful instead of generally gracious.

No bread-and-butter letter worth the reading should be confined to bread and butter. It should deal with jelly, after-dinner mints, salted nuts and midnight snacks. It should reflect pleasure.

The best ones frequently are conversational in tone, therefore, with no attempt to be anything but warm assurances of continuing friendship. Instead of acknowledging what is past, they deal with what is current and what the future may hold, thereby conveying the thought there are better things ahead, instead of the thought that all the best things now lie behind.

The only reason the subject comes up at this time is the height of vacation season. Between now and a few days after Labor Day bread - and - butter letters will fly back and forth through the mails like barn swallows through an open door. Some of them will be masterpieces.

Most of them, though, will fly in circles — and they don't need to be that way. For example, the following excerpt from the same letter quoted at the beginning of this column:

"We never had considered ourselves kings of any sort before, but this was our treatment . . . It must be part of the midland abundance . . ."

The "midland abundance" was produced on 20 minutes' notice out of a freezer and was a matter for apology. But by turning a phrase, it became a source of pride. It would be fun to have visitors like this come back, which is the whole idea of a bread-and-butter letter.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Dr. Vincent L. Scott, 435 Vine St., who was graduated from the School of Medicine of Western Reserve University, Cleveland, became an interne at City Hospital, Cleveland.

William Jones, David Kline, Wilbur McElconnon, William Boyer, Walter Drumm, Dede Cox, Frank Thornberry and Peter Brookes left for a two-week camping trip on the French River, Canada.

Karl W. Gero of St. Clair Ave., an insurance man, was named president of the Lions Club.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Eighty-five families registered for relief in Wellsville, R. J. Stern, local relief investigator, announced.

The East Liverpool Riverview Florists moved up to the "500" mark in the Tri-State baseball league by defeating Newell 3-2.

Eighteen local merchants participated in arrangements for the Review's beauty, health and charm school, which opened at the Ceramic Theater.

TEN YEARS AGO — Miss Katherine Anne Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Wright of Forsyth Pl. and valedictorian of the 1949 class at East Liverpool High School, received a scholarship at Mt. Mercy College, Pittsburgh.

Letter To Editor

The John Sachs of 1066 St. Clair Ave. want to thank the cruel motorist who ran over a white pet dog belonging to them and who didn't have the decency to stop and notify them, but let them find the animal lying in the street.

Just to let them know what they hit. The dog was brought to us as a small newborn puppy and was raised as a loving child, being fed by a bottle. It came from France by Sgt. Frank Sachs. The dog always had been cuddly and harmless and loved by all who knew her.

Dear cruel motorist. I always have hoped that dogs had a Heaven. I am sure of it now.

Any expression of sympathy or regret from whomever you are is not wanted now.

The Greater Right

By David Lawrence

Court Ruling Defends Travel Restrictions

Much controversy has arisen in recent months about the "right to travel." Newsmen have disputed the right of the Department of State to deny them passports to Red China and other trouble areas. On the one hand it has been argued that the right of travel could not be constitutionally restricted while, on the other hand, the government has insisted that its right to designate travel areas stems from the right of the executive branch of the government to conduct the foreign relations of the United States.

David Lawrence

These conflicting viewpoints have been resolved in a persuasive opinion by the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Washington which completely vindicates the position taken by the late Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

It is unfortunate that what the unanimous court of three judges said has not been widely reproduced for it constitutes a fundamental lesson not only in constitutional government but in the rights of the individual as balanced against the interests of the nation.

The ruling is buttressed by such strong judicial precedents that it seems likely to be upheld by the highest court.

CHIEF JUDGE Prettyman rendered the decision which was concurred in by Judge Wilbur K. Miller and Justice Harold Burton, retired member of the Supreme Court of the United States who was specially designated to sit in the case.

"The right to travel," says the court's opinion, "is a part of the right to liberty and a newspaperman's right to travel is a part of the freedom of the press but these valid generalizations do not support unrestrained conclusions.

"For the maintenance and preservation of liberty, individuals rights must be restricted for various reasons from time to time. In case of a clear and present danger to the national security, even so generally unrestrictable a right as speech can be restricted. In case of a reasonably anticipated threat to security or to law and order, many acts by individuals can be restricted.

"An assembling mob bent on disorder can be dispersed. A man with a contagious disease can be locked in his house. Potentially dangerous actions must be restricted in order to prevent harm to others. So we have sanitation, fire, building and speeding regulations.

"Liberty itself is inherently a restricted thing. Liberty is a product of order. There is no liberty in anarchy or in chaos. Liberty is achieved by rules, which correlate every man's actions to every other man's rights and thus, by mutual restrictions one upon the other, achieve a result of relative freedom.

"THE MERE day-to-day maintenance of the order which insures liberty requires restrictions upon individual rights. Some actions, neither harmful nor potentially dangerous, must be restricted simply for the sake of good order in the community. So we have parking, traffic and zoning regulations and rules of court. . . .

"Freedom of the press bears restrictions. It does not include the right to publish what another has registered with the copyright office. Merely because a newsman has a right to travel does not mean he can go anywhere he wishes. He cannot attend conferences of the Supreme Court or meetings of the President's Cabinet or executive sessions of committees of the Congress.

"He cannot come into my house without my permission or enter a ball park without a ticket of admission from the management or cross a public street downtown between cross walks. He cannot pass a police cordon thrown about an accident, unless he has a pass from the police.

"A newsman's freedom to travel about is a restricted thing, subject to myriad limitations.

"THE PEACE LOVING have rights. Those who recognize the fundamental necessities of liberty as a delicate product of order have power to protect themselves and their liberty. . . . such a threat may easily arise from conditions in foreign lands. The people have a right to protect their liberty, no matter whence the threat.

"Indeed it is quite clear that those who cry the loudest for unrestricted individual freedom of action would be the loudest in bemoaning their fate if their plea were granted. The same release from constituted authority would set free persons so powerful, so ruthless, so bent on autocratic control that no newsman would have any liberty whatever. The customary prompt transformation of unrestrained liberty into dictatorship is one of the poignant lessons of history.

The court summed up the constitutional argument with this statement:

"History establishes that either the behavior or the predicament of an individual citizen in a foreign country can bring into clash, peaceful or violent, the powers of his own government and those of a foreign government."

The executive branch therefore is upheld in its feeling that it can preserve the national interest and perhaps prevent a war by limiting the right to travel not only of the press but of any citizens who may wish to take risks in the trouble areas of the world.

Politics In Hawaii

By Raymond Moley

Never in American history has a political complex been presented similar to that which faces the new state of Hawaii. The primaries for the first state election will be held on Saturday, June 27, and the election takes place a month later.

Idealists may rhapsodize about how the dream of democracy is fulfilled because this will prove that there can be a commonwealth in which any man may aspire, regardless of race, color, or creed, to any office in the nation. Practical considerations create a much more realistic picture.

To begin with, it should be noted that the population, and to a degree the voting strength, is distributed according to racial and national origins among 35 per cent Japanese, 25 per cent Caucasian, 6 per cent Chinese, 18 per cent native Hawaiians, 12 per cent Filipinos and others, including Portuguese, 4 per cent. This pretty well disposes of Kipling's thought that "never the twain shall meet."

THE JAPANESE are not expected to vote as a bloc, although most of them are vitally alive to politics. They have divisions, just as they have in Japan, but probably a majority will vote Democratic.

The Caucasians, called Haoles, have a past which is not politically favorable to their domination now. There was in that past plenty of exploitation, from the time when the early traders and whalers were active on the islands. Nor were the white possessors of wealth and landed power free from heedless neglect of the less fortunate who worked for them. This sort of thing is not notable now but the memory of past mistakes lingers and can be exploited by politicians.

The native Hawaiians are fearful that their position economically will be more and more circumscribed. They are disgruntled over the fact that so many of them have been displaced by workers of Asiatic origins since the Civil Service Act was passed and that this discrimination has been accentuated since the Japanese gained numerical supremacy.

The Chinese, as one observer has noted, "lament a bygone time when they held the balance of power in the political affairs of the territory." Their allegiance, small now, is pretty well scattered politically.

THE FILIPINOS make up a major portion of the strength of the powerful, perhaps politically dominant, International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union bossed by Jack Hall, a Harry Bridges lieutenant.

The ILWU because of this confused racial pattern, plus the weakness of the two major party organizations, might well hold the balance of power. An estimated 20,000 membership is formidable, since it will have plenty of money and workers to support its chosen candidates.

The Republican organization has not been in good shape in the past few years. However, a prominent and able young businessman, Ben Killingham, has taken its leadership and is mobilizing his forces for the election.

The contests for the two United States senatorships and one House membership are of lesser importance to the state than the choice of governor. There the two candidates are unopposed in the primary. The present governor, William Quinn, appointed to his post by President Eisenhower, is the Republican candidate, while John A. Burns, the elected delegate from the territory to Congress, is on the Democratic ticket.

The stake in this contest is very important, since the newly elected governor will appoint more than 2,000 officers in the new state, including judges.

It is in the election of Burns that the ILWU is interested. For it is concerned vitally with the future government of this new state.

Chink In The Western Allies' Case

When and if the foreign ministers get together again next month, nothing will have been changed in Berlin. Secretary of State Herter points to the Berlin deadlock as the key issue.

The United States and the Western Allies want to retain all legal rights to stay in West Berlin indefinitely, maintaining full garrisons, being granted full civil and military guarantees by the surroundng Russians and having a firm promise by Communist oficials that they will cooperate in a plan to minimize subversion and propaganda in the German metropolis.

In short, the United States and the Western Allies want to preserve the status quo in West Berlin, plus some improvements.

The Soviet Union, on the other hand, wants to set a time limit on Allied occupation of Berlin. This is the issue before the foreign ministers.

Russia contends that divided responsibility for the German metropolis cannot be of indefinite duration. It contends that Germany, itself, must be reunited — and it wants the reunification to be on terms that would be favorable to East Germany, just as the Western Allies insist it must be on terms that would be unfavorable to both East Germany and the Communist movement.

This is how the deadlock has come about.

The chink in the Western Allies' case against the obvious Russian move to settle the whole German question is that it is proposing to maintain the status quo while the Russians are proposing to reach a settlement.

The diplomatic question is how to break the deadlock before tensions build up to a crisis of military friction.

Beyond that, the question is how to keep Russian diplomacy from taking advantage of the circumstances of a deadlock to create a crisis in militarism in which they would hold the advantage of position. The deadlock has not been accidental. It was nurtured, fostered and contrived by Russian intransigence in the past — intransigence that froze the Western Allies into defense of an arrangement that made them vulnerable to the very thing Premier Khrushchev did last November, when he set a time limit on their presence in West Berlin.

They have set no time limit on Russian domination of East Berlin or of the politics of East Germany. They have left themselves vulnerable to the gambit that Khrushchev made when he started to set time limits.

Secretary Herter can say with the deepest sincerity that the Western Allies will not yield to the Communist strategy to force them out. But beyond that the Western Allies have not dared to go. They have set no time limits of their own.

Economics, The Great Persuader

The relationship between sociology and economics in the problems created by Little Rock's school integration issue is being dramatized by delayed evidence of the impact on business in the bustling Arkansas city.

Little Rock is still bustling after two years of strife and bitterness over public school policy. But it is not bustling at the rate it had expected to bustle. The integration issue has hurt its prospects for growth.

New industries have not been showing interest in a community whose school system is in a state of chaos. They are no longer being attracted to a city that has suffered the experience of being made the battleground for a sociological issue that outside agitators have been glad to fight out at Little Rock's expense.

In answer to diehards who say the federal government and the federal courts might be described as "outside agitators," the fact is that Little Rock's school board had prepared a plan to put token integration into effect in a way calculated to avert a crisis and the plan was upset by rabble-rousers and political officeholders who did not care what happened to education as long as their prejudices were given an airing.

There is a moral in this for every city, every region and every state trying to upgrade its wealth-making enterprise.

Economics is ultimately the great persuader, but economics cannot be dissociated from sociology any more than it can be dissociated from all the other things that enterprise takes into consideration these days when looking for locations. Housing, schools, religion, politics, cultural opportunities, climate, public services and the nature of the population all become part of the economics of enterprise.

The hard fact of the matter is that Little Rock could not afford what happened to it at the hands of people who did not care what happened to it. No city can be secure when such people have a free rein.

Save Us! Save Us! Save Us!

One of the weirdest wrinkles in the flourishing business of saving what otherwise would be unable to save itself is a proposal by the governor of New Jersey to save railroad commuter service with tolls from the Jersey Turnpike.

Gov. Meyner's constituents work in New York City by the tens of thousands. Large numbers of New Yorkers, in turn, must travel to and from New Jersey in the course of making a living. For years, this travel scramble has been subsidized by railroads forced to provide commuter service at a loss. The railroads finally have revolted and discontinued an uneconomic practice.

The specter of extinction hovers over all cities that cannot justify the expensive public transportation required to keep them alive. But nowhere does it hover more ominously than it does over the vast metropolitan area centered on New York City, which would strangle in its own traffic congestion without public transportation, yet which cannot afford the public transportation it needs to sustain its existence.

This is the background for Gov. Meyner's significant proposal to underwrite public transportation's deficits surplus income from the Jersey Turnpike. It is pointed out that most of the tolls come from out-of-state motorists. It is pointed out, too — by critics of the proposal — that toll rates might very well be reduced if they are producing a surplus.

But by that kind of reasoning, if too much wheat is being produced because the price is artificially high, the price should be allowed to go down. To that, wheat farmers cry, "Save us! Save us! Save us! "

It is to be hoped no New Jersey commuter willing to take a subsidy to save the economic state of congestion that characterizes the New York metropolitan area ever will be shortsighted enough to criticize the federal government for saving wheat farmers.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

You could have knocked most Americans over with a soap bubble when they got the news that in a time of grave crisis and multiple problems affecting the fate of civilization, the Army found time to hold a court martial in the case of a private, who didn't peel potatoes satisfactorily. It was not in a musical comedy but in actual army life that the soldier faced charges of hacking the eyes out of potatoes . . .

What goes? Did Gen. Grant say, "I propose to fight it out on the line if it takes all summer," with a potato peeler? Was Robert E. Lee a flawless man with a bowl of spuds? At Bunker Hill was the order, "Don't shoot until you see the whites of their eyes," a reference to potatoes?

IT IS DOUBTFUL if a single one of our great war heroes was a wonderman at getting eyes and bad spots out of this vegetable. There is no evidence George Washington ever peeled a potato properly. We will bet that Ethan Allen hacked potatoes ruthlessly. Pershing probably flunked the spud course. We understand Eisenhower was low man in peeling "taters" economically and that even today he is far from a victorious figure when trapped with a bag of spuds and the wrong knife.

Pfc. Andrew Good Jr. chose a court-martial rather than admit he could have peeled potatoes better if he followed the Army directive. (Imagine an army directive on conquering a potato.) His acquittal cheers servicemen, veterans and millions of folks who are first in war, first in peace and last in potato peeling.

DID GENEVA DELEGATES call a recess in the snafu or postpone the smog on account of darkness?

In its action against Lewis L. Strauss, the U.S. Senate looked so small it could have staged the proceedings as a midget show.

Imagine a situation in which all our side gets out of the Geneva conference is an agreement on the fact Gromyko had dental trouble!

"Bankers Say Thrift Isn't Dead"—headline. Then why isn't it breathing? Personal Incomes of Americans are highest in history. They now get so much money they have an outside chance to make both ends meet. Salaries are at such a peak that if they got up another 10 per cent the time you take to go broke will be greatly reduced.

James Hugh Trexler, naval research chief, talked to the moon and got an answer. It was probably, "Don't call me again; I'll call you."

Ezra Benson urges the public to eat more eggs. If you wanna really help in this crisis, speed it up by eating them with shells on.

"We will have no choice but to turn mikes away from all candidates in a political campaign," says Frank Stanton testifying before Congress in the equal-time issue. You mean that would be bad!

A jurist refused to attend a banquet of the Bar Association at which Perry Mason was to speak. "The Perry Mason TV program bears no resemblance to correct means of administering justice or proper conduct of a lawyer," he declared. Right, yerroner! Thousands of kids have developed an itch to be members of the bar through following the programs and are getting the idea an attorney can bamboozle the court "no hands" and make the prosecuting attorney a 50-1 shot to show.

AFTER THAT RECENT commercial for the Disneyland telecast for ninety minutes and sponsored as a regular TV show we hear Coney Island, Miami Beach, Las Vegas and Grossingers will demand equal time.

Any ideas for a name for the new New York ballclub? P.T.K. suggests, the "Moguls." Jim Rafter likes "Homecomers." Peter Aimes says that with so many millionaires in the picture New York ball club may one day merge Mickey Mantle with Ted Williams and split a future Babe Ruth three for one.

Thruway police are using unmarked police cars one day a week as an experiment in apprehending reckless drivers. Why one day a week: Does a detective wear a striped suit and illuminated hat to catch killers? Do cops carry, "I am a policeman" banner in hunting burglars?

'Look Boss, Our Merchandise Isn't Selling!'

'There Will Be A Steel Strike'

By Victor Riesel

There will be a massive coast-to-coast steel strike. All over the land thousands of furnaces' red glare will be darkened the night of June 30. This comes not from any crystal ball. It is the flat prediction of the one man who will be the strike's legal strategist — the man whose every phrase the steel executives analyze word by word. He is soft spoken, tough-bargaining Arthur Goldberg, the union' chief counsel.

Victor Riesel

What is significant is the fact that Mr. Goldberg cast his prediction in a private briefing session for some 90 New York labor leaders last Thursday night. It was not meant for publication.

It was made in the small auditorium of the Waiters' Local No. 1 headquarters right off Times Square. The millions under Broadway bright lights outside had no idea that the multi-billion-dollar question affecting the nation, even the world, was being asnwered here.

THERE HAS BEEN conjecture inside the white House, inside a thousand executive suites, inside every national labor headquarters over whether Steel Union chief David McDonald and his counsel would call for a strike of the entire industry or use a new technique, the "selective strike" of a few corporations or have the union members work without a contract through the summer and strike in September.

Last Thursday night Goldberg told his friends and labor colleagues:

"July 1, if there is no contract, the steel plants will be shut down."

Goldberg said the situation would have been different if Franklin D. Roosevelt or Harry Truman were in the White House. There would have been pressure on the companies. But with no pressure from President Eisenhower, the companies and the union will now have to battle it out.

This column's inquiries corroborate Mr. Goldberg's statement. It can be realiably reported from the only source which can be considered authentic — there will be no private telephone calls from either the White House or anyone in the Cabinet to any of the steel corporations as there were in '56 pressuring for a settlement with the union.

IT CAN BE REPORTED that as of the beginning of this week, President Eisenhower's orders forbid any interference behind the scenes by any administration official. This did not, of course, include the universally respected public efforts of Joseph Finnegan's Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

This is the import of several messages passed on by the White House to the highest industry executives in the past few weeks.

And as of the moment, President Eisenhower and his cops of advisers plan to let the strike roll for at least six weeks, if it starts July 1. Then, only if there is a real squeeze on defense production and such sprawling industries as auto production, will he move to give the pickets an 80-day holiday with a Taft-Hartley injunction ordering the strikers back to work.

Thus for the first time since the Steel Union was launched in the turbulence of the '30s it is in a fight without the administration as its second.

MEANWHILE, back at "Little Geneva", the Hotel Roosevelt in New York, all this was reflected in the corporations' new bargaining technique. The steel executives have been killing the union with cold politeness behind the closed doors.

For example, when negotiations first began on May 18, the union representatives were startled to hear the company officials lead in the applause for the critical labor speeches. A union man would arise and attack the company on some grievance. He would demand that the corporation right "this wrong."

The bloc of union committeemen would, of course, applaud loudly. But the company officials would beat them to it. They'd actually applaud the speech, smile and say nothing. No battles. Just the reiteration of the industry's position —the time has come when there will be no increase in production costs. That's it.

It's strike time. Everywhere the picket line schedules are ready for posting. It will be a long hot summer, even with the furnaces down.

Bread And Butter

By Truman Twill

The ordinary bread-and-butter letter is about as stimulating as ordinary bread and butter. But put a little sugar on top, or some jelly, and the commonplace becomes extraordinary.

Here is a well-turned phrase from a bread-and-butter letter that illustrates the idea:

"Our experience with you was one which each of us will remember with an extra-special savour, both of palate and sensibility."

How could the idea of combining gratitude for food and friendship be expressed more gracefully than that?

The tone of a bread-and-butter letter determines its success. It must be friendly without being clubby. It must be sincere but not painfully sincere. It must be grateful without being effusive.

Small wonder most of these letters end up by being formal and perfunctory. They were doomed to be so by the self-imposed limitations the writer placed on himself when he set out to be specifically grateful instead of generally gracious.

No bread-and-butter letter worth the reading should be confined to bread and butter. It should deal with jelly, after-dinner mints, salted nuts and midnight snacks. It should reflect pleasure.

The best ones frequently are conversational in tone, therefore, with no attempt to be anything but warm assurances of continuing friendship. Instead of acknowledging what is past, they deal with what is current and what the future may hold, thereby conveying the thought there are better things ahead, instead of the thought that all the best things now lie behind.

The only reason the subject comes up at this time is the height of vacation season. Between now and a few days after Labor Day bread - and - butter letters will fly back and forth through the mails like barn swallows through an open door. Some of them will be masterpieces.

Most of them, though, will fly in circles — and they don't need to be that way. For example, the following excerpt from the same letter quoted at the beginning of this column:

"We never had considered ourselves kings of any sort before, but this was our treatment . . . It must be part of the midland abundance . . ."

The "midland abundance" was produced on 20 minutes' notice out of a freezer and was a matter for apology. But by turning a phrase, it became a source of pride. It would be fun to have visitors like this come back, which is the whole idea of a bread-and-butter letter.

Letter To Editor

The John Sachs of 1066 St. Clair Ave. want to thank the cruel motorist who ran over a white pet dog belonging to them and who didn't have the decency to stop and notify them, but let them find the animal lying in the street.

Just to let them know what they hit. The dog was brought to us as a small newborn puppy and was raised as a loving child, being fed by a bottle. It came from France by Sgt. Frank Sachs. The dog always had been cuddly and harmless and loved by all who knew her.

Dear cruel motorist. I always have hoped that dogs had a Heaven. I am sure of it now.

Any expression of sympathy or regret from whomever you are is not wanted now.

The Greater Right

By David Lawrence

Court Ruling Defends Travel Restrictions

Much controversy has arisen in recent months about the "right to travel." Newsmen have disputed the right of the Department of State to deny them passports to Red China and other trouble areas. On the one hand it has been argued that the right of travel could not be constitutionally restricted while, on the other hand, the government has insisted that its right to designate travel areas stems from the right of the executive branch of the government to conduct the foreign relations of the United States.

David Lawrence

These conflicting viewpoints have been resolved in a persuasive opinion by the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Washington which completely vindicates the position taken by the late Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

It is unfortunate that what the unanimous court of three judges said has not been widely reproduced for it constitutes a fundamental lesson not only in constitutional government but in the rights of the individual as balanced against the interests of the nation.

The ruling is buttressed by such strong judicial precedents that it seems likely to be upheld by the highest court.

CHIEF JUDGE Prettyman rendered the decision which was concurred in by Judge Wilbur K. Miller and Justice Harold Burton, retired member of the Supreme Court of the United States who was specially designated to sit in the case.

"The right to travel," says the court's opinion, "is a part of the right to liberty and a newspaperman's right to travel is a part of the freedom of the press but these valid generalizations do not support unrestrained conclusions.

"For the maintenance and preservation of liberty, individuals rights must be restricted for various reasons from time to time. In case of a clear and present danger to the national security, even so generally unrestrictable a right as speech can be restricted. In case of a reasonably anticipated threat to security or to law and order, many acts by individuals can be restricted.

Wellsville Sets Open House At Sewage Plant

A formal "open house" will be held this weekend at Wellsville's new $421,736 sewage disposal plant.

Guided tours for the public will be held Saturday and Sunday from 1 to 5 p. m.

Mayor William J. Shoub today extended an invitation to all residents to visit the treatment plant and learn how it operates.

Shoub, R. D. McGill, consulting engineer, and Safety - Service Director William S. Robinson will conduct the tours, along with the operating personnel.

The plant is in full operation and the citizens will be able to see how the complete system works, he said.

The plant is situated at 16th and Nevada Sts. Parking will be provided in the front of the main office building.

The plant was started in October 1957 and was completed in January. It was placed in full operation about a month ago after operational "kinks" were worked out.

Shoub pointed out that there is no offensive odor at the plant and that residents may view the operation without any discomfort. Personnel includes John Stewart, chief operator; Fritz Wilson, relief operator, and Jesse Tarr, chemist and superintendent.

The plant handles about 550,000 gallons of raw sewage each day.

4 Lose Lives When 2 Cars Crash In Ohio

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Four-year-old Jeffrey West died in Children's Hospital today, raising to four the death toll in a two-car collision Wednesday in Cuyahoga Falls.

Three other persons were hospitalized with injuries. All of the dead and injured were from Cleveland and were in one car, on their way to a company picnic.

The accident occurred on Ohio 532 near Wyoga Lake Park.

In addition to Jeffrey West, the dead were his father, Lloyd West Jr., 30, who was driving one car; another son, Gary, 9, and a niece, Reta Fornadel, 10.

Mrs. Joyce West, 30, and another son, David, 5, were in fair condition at Green Cross Hospital here, and John Fornadel Jr., 16, brother of the dead girl, was fair at Huron Road Hospital in Cleveland.

Police said Charles Conley, 28, of Akron, driver of the other car, was charged with second-degree manslaughter, Officers said he tried to pass a slow-moving car which had just come out of the park entrance. Conley's car crashed headon into the West car. Conley escaped with cuts and bruises.

Baby Girl Tossed Against Door By Resentful Youth

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Clutching a small Raggedy-Ann doll, 15-month-old Debbie Faye Mize gazed fearfully at the world around her hospital crib today through eyes that were yellow splits, crowded into distortion by purplish welts on a head considerably swollen from normal size.

In jail under $5,000 bond on a charge of assault and battery was 19-year-old Harold Wayne Rouse who, Police Chief John Bornhorn said, admitted taking the child by its heels and "banging it against a door"—because he resented the child born out of wedlock to the 17-year-old girl he married three months ago.

Rouse declared, according to Bornhorn, that the baby girl was not his.

2 From Weirton Fined For Florence Accident

Two Weirton brothers were fined $25 and costs each Tuesday evening by Squire Hugh A. Hitchcock of Burgettstown R. D. 1, following a two-car accident involving a Georgetown driver near Florence.

Andrew Sterns, 18, pleaded guilty to a reckless driving charge in the collision with the car of Dwight Brooks, 27, of Georgetown.

Kermit Sterns, 25, was found guilty of permitting his brother to drive the car without a license.

Fred Way To Talk On Lore Of River During Area Tour

Capt. Fred Way Jr. of Sewickley, known to thousands as "Mr. Ohio River," will discuss river and steamboat lore in an address Sunday at Marietta as the Upper Ohio Valley Development Council launches a three - day tour of the area designed to show off its potential to visiting industrialists, utility and rail executive, financiers and writers.

Capt. Way will speak at a reception in his honor at the Lafayette Hotel in Marietta. Guests of the UOVDC will stay overnight at Marietta after flying there Sunday afternoon from Greater Pittsburgh Airport. The following day they will begin a trip up the valley by river and bus that will end Tuesday afternoon in East Liverpool.

Capt. Way will tell the visitors how he has watched the valley grow from the rails of steamboats and from the river's banks, where he has lived all his life. Now 58, he became a full-fledged captain and pilot in 1924 when he purchased the flundering but beautiful Betsy Ann, a famous old river packet, and kept it running in the face of adversity and changing times.

Drawing on his love of the Ohio and its tributaries, he has written a series of books, including "Pilotin' Comes Natural," "Saga of the Delta Queen," "The Log of the Betsy Ann," "The Allegheny" and "Way's Directory of Western River Packets."

Panhandle BPW Receives Report

A report on the recent interim board meeting in Blackwater Falls State Park at Davis was presented by Miss Phyllis Stoneburner when the Panhandle Business & Professional Women's Club met Wednesday night in the Aaron Building in Newell.

Mrs. Martha Hapach, president, presided and plans were made to sponsor a booth in the carnival of the Newell volunteer fire department July 13-July 18 at Clark Field.

Mrs. Marjorie McClung is chairman of the concession stand and committee members include Mrs. Helen Matthews and Mrs. Gertrude Stephens. Each club member is to be contacted to assist in operating the booth.

A treasurer's report and an outline of expenses of a charter banquet held Monday night in Chester was presented by Mrs. Penny Arnott. Members voted to purchase a club program kit in accordance with a request of Mrs. Alberta Batson, state BPW president.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Donna Glendenning and Mrs. Arnott. Mrs. Nina France poured at the buffet table which was decorated with an arrangement of green lighted tapers in crystal candelabra.

Policeman Flustered More Than The Stork

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Marine Sgt. Harold Cutler was rushing his wife to a hospital for the expected birth of twins when he was pulled to the curb by a young police officer.

After hearing the story, the officer transferred the Cutlers to his prowl car. With red lights flashing, he raced them through town and pulled up at the university of California's Scripps Institution of Oceanography.

Mrs. Cutler told the policeman that she was going to have babies, not fish, and please get her to the nearby Scripps Memorial Hospital.

The officer, more badly shaken by now than the Cutlers, got them to the hospital on his next try—and on time. Murmured one hospital nurse: "We're used to the sight of panicky fathers. But the face of this young policeman was something to study."

Wellsville Sets Open House At Sewage Plant

A formal "open house" will be held this weekend at Wellsville's new $421,736 sewage disposal plant.

Guided tours for the public will be held Saturday and Sunday from 1 to 5 p. m.

Mayor William J. Shoub today extended an invitation to all residents to visit the treatment plant and learn how it operates.

Shoub, R. D. McGill, consulting engineer, and Safety - Service Director William S. Robinson will conduct the tours, along with the operating personnel.

The plant is in full operation and the citizens will be able to see how the complete system works, he said.

The plant is situated at 16th and Nevada Sts. Parking will be provided in the front of the main office building.

The plant was started in October 1957 and was completed in January. It was placed in full operation about a month ago after operational "kinks" were worked out.

Shoub pointed out that there is no offensive odor at the plant and that residents may view the operation without any discomfort. Personnel includes John Stewart, chief operator; Fritz Wilson, relief operator, and Jesse Tarr, chemist and superintendent.

The plant handles about 550,000 gallons of raw sewage each day.

Midland Section To Be Paved

Blacktop Contract Let For $23,924

Midland Council Wednesday evening awarded a contract for $23,924.25 to the Interstate Amiesite Corp. of Concordville, Pa., blacktopping of streets in Plan K and passed an ordinance setting a 15-mile-per-hour speed limit in the vicinity of the Veterans Memorial Swimming Pool.

The Beaver Asphalt Paving & Construction Co. Inc., of New Brighton asked $39,570.75 for the blacktop job and the H. R. Allen Co. of Beaver $24,363.25.

About a half mile of streets will be surfaced and the project will include a mile of curbing, R. E. Steebner, borough engineer, said.

The streets include Virginia Ave., Maryland Ave., Delaware Ave., and Park PL. N.

STEEBNER said he will advertise today for bids for some 2,670 feet of additional curbing for Maryland and Delaware Aves. This job will cost about $10,000 and funds will come from the borough's share of liquid fuels taxes from the state.

Orchard St. will also be surfaced in this project, Steebner said. Council approved the surfacing on a request of residents at the last meeting.

The speed limit in the swimming pool area was changed from 20 miles to 15 by an amendment of the traffic ordinance passed last October.

—:—

STREETS AFFECTED include Virginia Ave., from Murphy Hill Rd. to 13th St., and 12th and 13th from Virginia Ave. to Midland Ave.

The recommendation was made at the last meeting by Councilman Lester Trainer and his traffic committee.

Council approved Burgess Eli Corak's recommendation that Mrs. C. K. O'Hara, secretary, write to the Beaver County Board of Commissioners to learn the policy of the local assessor's position and authority.

Corak said that assessors sent to Midland "have been way off base" and unfair on some assessments. He said some properties have been assessed "way out of line" under the new Beaver County tax reassessment program which went into effect Jan. 1. He said he hopes that something harmonious can be worked out.

—:—

UNDER COMMITTEE reports, Councilman Harvey Sponcer said he has been making contacts concerning two stop lights for Midland Ave. to facilitate fire trucks travel and for street and highway signs.

He said it may be possible to buy highway markers from the state, made by Western Penitentiary, at a lower cost than from regular sign companies.

Steebner reported that a hole at 12th St. and Midland Ave. has been repaired. Matt Brozic, street foreman, reported that curbs have been painted yellow at playgrounds.

Steebner also said weeds on several lots have been cut. Sponcer asked that residents should also trim bushes which hang out over sidewalks. Council recently requested that lots be cleaned.

—:—

COUNCIL APPROVED renewing of contracts for Blue Shield and Blue Cross coverage for borough employes. The policies expire July 31. Mrs. O'Hara said there is a monthly $1.05 increase in premiums for both. Council Raymond Presutti moved to accept.

Police Chief E. J. Stefl was given permission to attend the Pennsylvania Police Chiefs Association convention July 19-21 at Pittsburgh with expenses not to exceed $150.

Nick D'Innocenzo, health inspector, reported he and Councilman Joseph Hibbard had contacted exterminators concerning the rat problem in the vicinity of the mills.

HE SAID HE was advised that residents and business establishments should co-operate with all putting out rat poison of a type that will not harm other animals. He said he is contacting business establishments. The poison is available in Midland stores.

D'Innocenzo said "it is everyone's job." "Screens on doors should be checked and repaired. tight lids provided for garbage cans and cellar doors and windows locked and screened." During discussion of the problem, it was remarked that rats recently chewed wires under the hood of a car.

Jack Wilson, a planning engineer with Morris Knowles, Inc., of Pittsburgh, reported on preparation of the borough's comprehensive plan.

HE SAID THAT a study of population has been completed and additional work is being done on renewal and economic studies. He said he expects to go over details first with the Planning Commission Monday evening and then report later to Council.

Councilman Trainer moved for payment of all bills and Council approved. Absent were Councilmen Joe D'Alesio and William Vinovich. Steve Germusa, president, presided.

Registration Set For Intermediate Girl Scout Camp

Registration has opened for the Intermediate Girl Scout Camp program to be held at the Little House in Dixonville every Tuesday in July from 9:30 a. m. to 2:30 p. m.

Scouts must register before Tuesday at the new Girl Scout office on the fifth floor of the Potters Savings & Loan Co. Building.

The fee of 50 cents includes the cost of milk for four days, the badge—if earned—materials and a cookout. Girls may register for either the adventurer or outdoor safety badges and Brownies are eligible for the adventurer badge alone.

To earn a badge a camper must attend at lead 3 of the four sessions and must complete the 10 requirements.

Scouts not able to complete the badge work because of absences or other reasons will be given certificates with credit, making it possible for them to earn the badge later in regular troop meetings. No money will be refunded in case of absence, sponsors said.

Mrs. Geraldine Myler, Calcutta neighborhood Chairman, will be in charge of the camp.

Each girl will furnish her own transportation and bring the Girl Scout Handbook, a nosebag lunch and a jackknife for the adventurer badge.

Hancock Health Clinic Schedule Set For July

They are: Wednesday and July 15, New Cumberland; July 2, 9, 16 and 23, Weirton; July 7 and 21, Chester, and July 14 and 28, Newell.

Hours for the New Cumberland clinics are 9 a. m. to noon, while others are 10 a. m. to noon.

Timken Asks Talks

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Timken Roller Bearing Co. said today it has suggested that its contract negotiations with the United Steelworkers begin July 1 in Canton. The Timken contract does not expire until Aug. 24.

Interviews Scheduled For Reappraisal Jobs

LISBON — Kenneth Bell, county auditor, said today that interviews for appraisal work will be held Monday from 9 to 11 a. m. and 1 to 3 p. m. at the appraisal office, 111 S. Market St.

Adin Kauffman, supervisor of the county reappraisal, will conduct interviews of applicants for the eight positions.

Three clerks have already been hired and are working on the property cards. They are Mrs. Betty Kodrich of Lisbon, office manager, and Miss Linda Hawk and Ila Elsass, both of East Palestine.

Music Program Held At Kiwanis Club Event

A barbershop quartet program was presented at the annual Kiwanis Club "Ladies Night" smorgasbord dinner at the County Club Wednesday.

About 52 members, wives and guests attended. "The Colonials," a male quartet, and "The Three J's and a G," a women's group, sang. Jud English was program chairman, and Rowland Kaufman, president, was master of ceremonies.

The Rev. John Mostoller led group singing, and Mrs. Kaufman played the piano.

Midland Section To Be Paved

Blacktop Contract Let For $23,924

Midland Council Wednesday evening awarded a contract for $23,924.25 to the Interstate Amiesite Corp. of Concordville, Pa., blacktopping of streets in Plan K and passed an ordinance setting a 15-mile-per-hour speed limit in the vicinity of the Veterans Memorial Swimming Pool.

The Beaver Asphalt Paving & Construction Co. Inc., of New Brighton asked $39,570.75 for the blacktop job and the H. R. Allen Co. of Beaver $24,363.25.

About a half mile of streets will be surfaced and the project will include a mile of curbing, R. E. Steebner, borough engineer, said.

The streets include Virginia Ave., Maryland Ave., Delaware Ave., and Park PL. N.

STEEBNER said he will advertise today for bids for some 2,670 feet of additional curbing for Maryland and Delaware Aves. This job will cost about $10,000 and funds will come from the borough's share of liquid fuels taxes from the state.

Orchard St. will also be surfaced in this project, Steebner said. Council approved the surfacing on a request of residents at the last meeting.

The speed limit in the swimming pool area was changed from 20 miles to 15 by an amendment of the traffic ordinance passed last October.

—:—

STREETS AFFECTED include Virginia Ave., from Murphy Hill Rd. to 13th St., and 12th and 13th from Virginia Ave. to Midland Ave.

The recommendation was made at the last meeting by Councilman Lester Trainer and his traffic committee.

Council approved Burgess Eli Corak's recommendation that Mrs. C. K. O'Hara, secretary, write to the Beaver County Board of Commissioners to learn the policy of the local assessor's position and authority.

Corak said that assessors sent to Midland "have been way off base" and unfair on some assessments. He said some properties have been assessed "way out of line" under the new Beaver County tax reassessment program which went into effect Jan. 1. He said he hopes that something harmonious can be worked out.

—:—

UNDER COMMITTEE reports, Councilman Harvey Sponcer said he has been making contacts concerning two stop lights for Midland Ave. to facilitate fire trucks travel and for street and highway signs.

He said it may be possible to buy highway markers from the state, made by Western Penitentiary, at a lower cost than from regular sign companies.

Steebner reported that a hole at 12th St. and Midland Ave. has been repaired. Matt Brozic, street foreman, reported that curbs have been painted yellow at playgrounds.

Steebner also said weeds on several lots have been cut. Sponcer asked that residents should also trim bushes which hang out over sidewalks. Council recently requested that lots be cleaned.

—:—

COUNCIL APPROVED renewing of contracts for Blue Shield and Blue Cross coverage for borough employes. The policies expire July 31. Mrs. O'Hara said there is a monthly $1.05 increase in premiums for both. Council Raymond Presutti moved to accept.

Police Chief E. J. Stefl was given permission to attend the Pennsylvania Police Chiefs Association convention July 19-21 at Pittsburgh with expenses not to exceed $150.

Nick D'Innocenzo, health inspector, reported he and Councilman Joseph Hibbard had contacted exterminators concerning the rat problem in the vicinity of the mills.

HE SAID HE was advised that residents and business establishments should co-operate with all putting out rat poison of a type that will not harm other animals. He said he is contacting business establishments. The poison is available in Midland stores.

D'Innocenzo said "it is everyone's job." "Screens on doors should be checked and repaired, tight lids provided for garbage cans and cellar doors and windows locked and screened." During discussion of the problem, it was remarked that rats recently chewed wires under the hood of a car.

Jack Wilson, a planning engineer with Morris Knowles, Inc., of Pittsburgh, reported on preparation of the borough's comprehensive plan.

HE SAID THAT a study of population has been completed and additional work is being done on renewal and economic studies. He said he expects to go over details first with the Planning Commission Monday evening and then report later to Council.

Councilman Trainer moved for payment of all bills and Council approved. Absent were Councilmen Joe D'Alesio and William Vinovich. Steve Germusa, president, presided.

Registration Set For Intermediate Girl Scout Camp

Registration has opened for the Intermediate Girl Scout Camp program to be held at the Little House in Dixonville every Tuesday in July from 9:30 a. m. to 2:30 p. m.

Scouts must register before Tuesday at the new Girl Scout office on the fifth floor of the Potters Savings & Loan Co. Building.

The fee of 50 cents includes the cost of milk for four days, the badge—if earned—materials and a cookout. Girls may register for either the adventurer or outdoor safety badges and Brownies are eligible for the adventurer badge alone.

To earn a badge a camper must attend at lead 3 of the four sessions and must complete the 10 requirements.

Scouts not able to complete the badge work because of absences or other reasons will be given certificates with credit, making it possible for them to earn the badge later in regular troop meetings. No money will be refunded in case of absence, sponsors said.

Mrs. Geraldine Myler, Calcutta neighborhood Chairman, will be in charge of the camp.

Each girl will furnish her own transportation and bring the Girl Scout Handbook, a nosebag lunch and a jackknife for the adventurer badge.

Hancock Health Clinic Schedule Set For July

The Hancock County Health Department in New Cumberland has announced dates for immunization and health clinics planned in July in Chester, Newell, New Cumberland and Weirton.

They are: Wednesday and July 15, New Cumberland; July 2, 9, 16 and 23, Weirton; July 7 and 21, Chester, and July 14 and 28, Newell.

Hours for the New Cumberland clinics are 9 a. m. to noon, while others are 10 a. m. to noon.

Timken Asks Talks

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Timken Roller Bearing Co. said today it has suggested that its contract negotiations with the United Steelworkers begin July 1 in Canton. The Timken contract does not expire until Aug. 24.

Interviews Scheduled For Reappraisal Jobs

LISBON — Kenneth Bell, county auditor, said today that interviews for appraisal work will be held Monday from 9 to 11 a. m. and 1 to 3 p. m. at the appraisal office, 111 S. Market St.

Adin Kauffman, supervisor of the county reappraisal, will conduct interviews of applicants for the eight positions.

Three clerks have already been hired and are working on the property cards. They are Mrs. Betty Kodrich of Lisbon, office manager, and Miss Linda Hawk and Ila Elsass, both of East Palestine.

Music Program Held At Kiwanis Club Event

A barbershop quartet program was presented at the annual Kiwanis Club "Ladies Night" smorgasbord dinner at the County Club Wednesday.

About 52 members, wives and guests attended. "The Colonials," a male quartet, and "The Three J's and a G," a women's group, sang. Jud English was program chairman, and Rowland Kaufman, president, was master of ceremonies.

The Rev. John Mostoller led group singing, and Mrs. Kaufman played the piano.

Doctors List 'Satchmo' As Seriously Ill

SPOLETO, Italy (AP) — Louis (Satchmo) Armstrong, who trumpeted his way to the top ranks of jazz, lay gravely ill in a coma here tonight.

Italian doctors said the leather-lunged musician had suffered heart disturbances which seriously complicated an attack of pneumonia.

But Satchmo's American physician, Dr. Alexander Schiff, who accompanied him to this little central Italian town for a musical festival insisted, almost tearfully:

"He never had any kind of heart attack. He just blew himself out, that's all. Any musician who blows on a wind instrument for years suffers some weakening of the heart. That's inevitable."

And Satchmo — the satchel-mouthed music man from New Orleans — has been making magic on his sweet-toned horn since the birth of jazz.

In dramatic evidence of his rise from the old tin pan days of New Orleans music, Armstrong lay ill in a town dedicated to Italian classic opera.

He was invited here to play for the "Two Worlds Festival" of European and American music in the Spoleto Theater, dedicated to promoting Italian opera.

3 Die, 4 Hurt As Big Truck Breaks Loose

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—A semi-trailer grain truck speeding out of control down a hill without brakes hit a car and smashed into two homes Wednesday night. Three persons died and four others were injured.

The impact sent the truck's heavy load of grain through the wall of the first house and into another, around the corner.

Killed were Ralph Redlin, 50, Ellendale, N.D., the truck driver and his wife, Ruby, 33, and Martin Cich, 26, Superior, Wis., whose car was struck by the truck.

Seriously injured were Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Widell, occupants of the second house hit by the truck. Also injured were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hayes, who live around the corner from the Widell home. Mrs. Hayes was struck in the back by an oil drum carried with the plummeting grain through their house. Hayes sufered an arm injury.

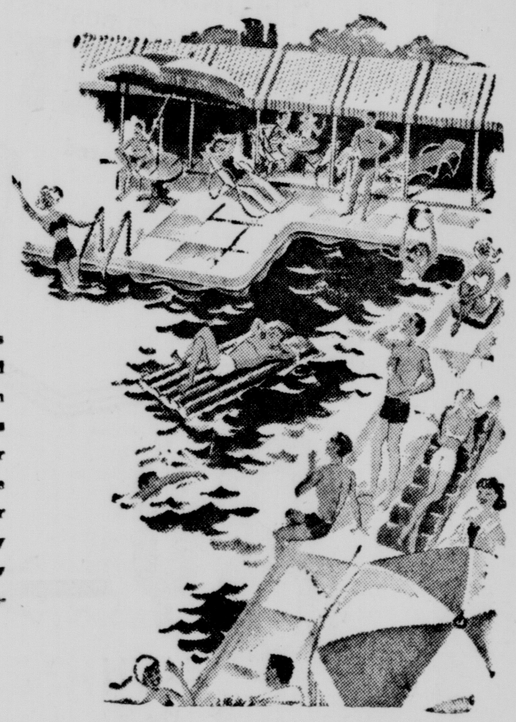
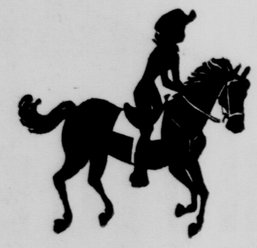
MAKE YOUR FAMILY VACATION

A SAFE VACATION



Vacations are fun. The routine is substituted for the unusual. Crowded towns are substituted for open spaces. Dark stuffy offices, shops and potteries are substituted for sunlight and fresh air. These changes all add up to a healthier and happier you. These very changes, however, also create new hazards. Your health demands adequate precautions.



PLAY SAFELY

Protect yourself against sunburn and windburn. Know your own limitations, don't overdo it.

SWIM SAFELY

Know the water and remember your own swimming aptness. Do not go beyond your abiiity.

CAMP SAFELY

Fire destroys—so use care with campfires. Protect yourself from insect bites and noxious weeds.

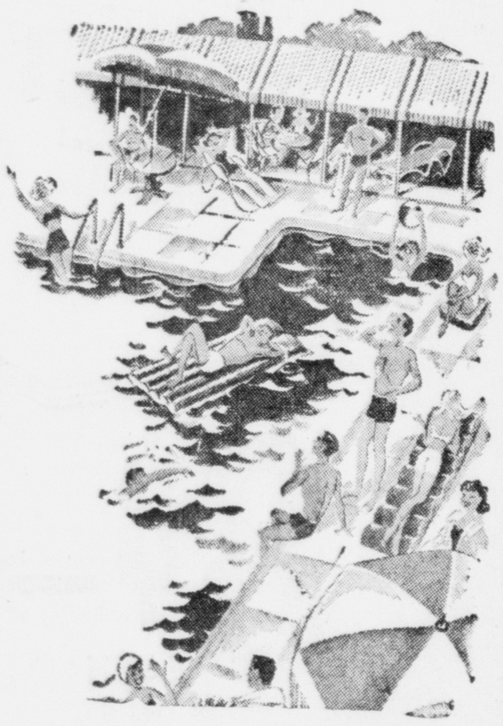
MAKE YOUR FAMILY VACATION

A SAFE VACATION



Vacations are fun. The routine is substituted for the unusual. Crowded towns are substituted for open spaces. Dark stuffy offices, shops and potteries are substituted for sunlight and fresh air. These changes all add up to a healthier and happier you. These very changes, however, also create new hazards. Your health demands adequate precautions.

PLAY SAFELY

Protect yourself against sunburn and windburn. Know your own limitations, don't overdo it.

SWIM SAFELY

Know the water and remember your own swimming aptness. Do not go beyond your ability.

CAMP SAFELY

Fire destroys—so use care with campfires. Protect yourself from insect bites and noxious weeds.

Your Health Is Our Foremost Concern

Methodist Group Calls For Ban On Nuclear Testing

LAKESIDE, Ohio (AP)—A ban on nuclear weapons testing was advocated Wednesday by delegates attending the annual meeting of the North-East Ohio Conference of the Methodist Church. They urged the United States to take the lead in bringing about the end of the tests.

Delegates also adopted a resolution calling upon congregations in the conference to work against racial discrimination in housing.

The conference endorsed in principle a large-scale program of church extension.

Laymen today will begin voting for their delegates to the General Conference of the Methodist Church which meets next year in Denver.

Ministerial delegates including Dr. Harold B. Williams of Mansfield and Dr. Theodore C. Mayer of Warren.

Slain In Burglary

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A man killed by a shotgun blast Wednesday as he attempted to burglarize a service station here has been identified by police as Robert Dixon, 22, of Columbus. Dixon was shot by Harvey Potter, 19, as he ran from a service station. Potter, sleeping in his brother's station, was awakened by the sound of breaking glass. The coroner's office ruled justifiable homicide.

For Women Only

Chase The Blues of "Problems Days" With New Tablet That Prevents Periodic Discomforts!

CHICAGO, Ill. (Special)—Announcement has been made that an eminent doctor has developed a formula that helps to eliminate the painful tension of "Problem Days" for many women. Years of research and clinical tests have proven the basic cause of periodic pain is due to uterine tension (a severe cramping of the muscles). Now, an amazing new tablet, named Banay, helps to eliminate that pain before it starts! This revolutionary new and safe tablet acts without the aid of harmful drugs to relax the muscles and relieve tension—you don't have to wait until pain starts! Banay is not a pain killer—it is a pain preventative! That's why Banay is so completely different, why so many women tested under clinical supervision said it brings relief they never knew before.

All you have to do is take gentle-acting Banay as directed, 5 to 7 days before your next menstrual cycle is due to begin. Then wonderful Banay allows you to forget that "problem days" of the month are different from any others. Buy and use Banay with the absolute guarantee that you must be satisfied with the results or your purchase price will be refunded by the maker. Banay is available at BLOOR'S —without need for a prescription.

Methodist Group Calls For Ban On Nuclear Testing

LAKESIDE, Ohio (AP)—A ban on nuclear weapons testing was advocated Wednesday by delegates attending the annual meeting of the North-East Ohio Conference of the Methodist Church. They urged the United States to take the lead in bringing about the end of the tests.

Delegates also adopted a resolution calling upon congregations in the conference to work against racial discrimination in housing.

The conference endorsed in principle a large-scale program of church extension.

Laymen today will begin voting for their delegates to the General Conference of the Methodist Church which meets next year in Denver.

Ministerial delegates including Dr. Harold B. Williams of Mansfield and Dr. Theodore C. Mayer of Warren.

Slain In Burglary

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A man killed by a shotgun blast Wednesday as he attempted to burglarize a service station here has been identified by police as Robert Dixon, 22, of Columbus. Dixon was shot by Harvey Potter, 19, as he ran from a service station. Potter, sleeping in his brother's station, was awakened by the sound of breaking glass. The coroner's office ruled justifiable homicide.

Chase The Blues of "Problems Days" With New Tablet That Prevents Periodic Discomforts!

CHICAGO, Ill. (Special)—Announcement has been made that one eminent doctor has developed a formula that helps to eliminate the painful tension of "Problem Days" for many women. Years of research and clinical tests have proven the basic cause of periodic pain is due to uterine tension (a severe cramping of the muscles). Now, an amazing new tablet, named Banay, helps to eliminate that pain before it starts! This revolutionary new and safe tablet acts without the aid of harmful drugs to relax the muscles and relieve tension—if you don't have to wait until pain starts! Banay is not a pain killer—it is a pain preventative! That's why Banay is so completely different, why so many women tested under clinical supervision said it brings relief they never knew before.

All you have to do is take gentle-acting Banay as directed, 5 to 7 days before your next menstrual cycle is due to begin. Then wonderful Banay allows you to forget that "problem days" of the month are different from any others. Buy and use Banay with the absolute guarantee that you must be satisfied with the results or your purchase price will be refunded by the maker. Banay is available at BLOOR'S —without need for a prescription.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY MEYERS

Mother Shouldn't Imply She's Wisest

Some letters I receive are from fathers and a few are signed both by father and mother. But most of them are from mothers. An increasing number of their letters talk of father-mother togetherness in trying to do their best in bringing up their children. Now and then, alas, a mother says her husband, while a good provider, takes little or no responsibility for the children, spends little time with them, or is at sword's point with one or more of them. Sometimes she says he is too strict and severe in disciplining them. She may admit that she comes to their defense and even criticizes him right in their presence.

SUCH A FATHER knows that, as a rule, the mother, spending so much more time with the children, especially during their earlier years, may hit on some clever and persuasive ways of winning their co-operation.

He also knows that she has usually read and heard far more than he has about understanding children and guiding them with relatively low resistance from them.

When she comes home from her women's club or PTA she may tell him: "You should have heard that talk. It was just what you need."

Or, having read a magazine article or newspaper column on rearing children, she may say: "You should read this."

I fancy that such remarks from a mother or grandmother to fathers have often kept them from reading literature on child rearing.

No matter how surely and often the mother may be right in criticizing her husband's ways with the children, and in choosing the kind of literature he should hear or read, her doing so says in effect: "You are inferior to me as parent."

WERE SHE wiser, she would be more subtle. If she refers at all to things she has heard or read, she would merely note how they helped her as a parent and she would strive hard to prove by deeds and not by words that this is so.

Instead of rebuking the father for ways she doesn't like, she would dwell on those she does like and magnify them. She would build on his strengths. She would wait for private times when she felt serene and lovely before asking him to change his ways.

More often than the mother, the father, in his workaday experience with adults, may be impressed with obedience as a virtue. Consequently, he may be critical of her "easy ways," and so this father and mother may grow more critical of each other toward the children, with the result that, as she grows more mild, he grows more severe. If the mother were to stiffen up on disciplining the children, the father would often grow less severe.

My bulletin, "Celebrate Your Child's Successes," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Overweight Condition Mars Happy Marriage

If you have an overwhelming compulsion to stuff on sweets despite a very real yearning to conquer your weight problem, it is necessary to ferret out what is behind the intense craving. A despairing young woman writes:

Ida Jean Kain

"The only mar in our very happy marriage is my overweight. I look in the mirror and cry at what I see. I make a new resolution which I keep until I see some candy, especially chocolate.

"We don't keep candy in the house, but I buy it on the sly. I don't like what I'm doing, but I go ahead. I'm in my twenties and too old to be acting like a 5-year-old who never knows when she's had enough sweets.

"I'VE TRIED writing down my moods when I crave candy, but I'm usually in good spirits. I've tried 'thinking slim.' Noghing has helped. I realize I must make up my mind to do the job myself.

"I can't ask help from my husband any more. He has lost faith in me, and who can blame him! I will appreciate any help you can give."

The first step is to try to find out what is behind the intense craving. As a precautionary measure, it would be advisable to check with your doctor to first rule out any inability of the system to utilize sugar normally.

When the need for excess sweets is not a physical need, then the unnatural craving represents an unsatisfied psychological need. Pull out of the cycle. Instead of saying, "I stuff on sweets and I don't know why" make the mental effort to think back through the years to when you first started overindulging in sweets.

The challenge is to ferret out the sources of your dissatisfactions at that time. The effort you have to make is to arrive at a clearer idea of the resentments and dissatisfactions. If you cannot ferret out the causes by yourself, it would be wise to seek professional help. Perhaps there is a clinic available.

Your dietitian discussed your letter with a psychiatrist. When I asked if a person could gain insight on her own, he gave this heartening reply: "People can do a great deal by themselves when they are aware of the possibilities."

USE YOUR creative imagination. Whenever the will and the imagination are in conflict, the imagination wins. Think of imagination as imagery.

Picture yourself as you truly desire to be—beautiful normal weight. A basic fact of human nature is that we tend to become what we habitually picture ourselves as being.

Once you gain enlightenment and face the facts realistically, then it will be possible to do something constructive about your weight. Not only will it be possible but, with insight, slimming can be a joyous challenge.

How Can I? ? ?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I remove stubborn stains on concrete?

A. They can often be removed by rubbing them with a hot solution of 4 ounces of trisodium phosphate in one gallon of water, to which may be added 4 ounces of washing soda. After scrubbing, rinse thoroughly with clean water.

Q. How can I test butter when in doubt as to whether I have butter or a substitute?

A. Try this test: Hold a half-teaspoon over the spout of the teakettle. Butter will form a sort of foam, while the substitute will melt.

Thumbs Down Symbol Given Boat 'Clowns'

With a long summer ahead and the July Fourth weekend coming up, Police Chief A. J. Radeschi today urged use of a timely new signal and slogan by river boaters to discourage pleasure craft operators whose antics threaten lives and property.

The slogan, "Thumbs Down, Don't Clown," is indicated by a thumbs down gesture from a pleasure boat operator when he observes reckless or careless antics by a fellow boater, the chief said. The slogan and sign are being adopted nationally to help cut down accidents on the crowded lakes and rivers, he added. "Boating is one of our safest forms of recreation, but it has a few smart alecks who imperil the safety of themselves and others, just as 'hot-rod jockeys' and 'drag race show-offs' are a danger on the highways," Chief Radeschi asserted.

"The objective is simply to discourage goofy and dangerous antics by giving the familiar 'thumbs down' gesture to offenders," he said.

The chief tacked on a warning to boating enthusiasts who move their craft to and from the river and district lakes on trailers. Be certain the trailer is equipped with proper lights and signals, he said.

Sarah Birch Becomes Bride Of Clevelander In Service

Miss Sarah Jane Birch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. McClellan Birch, 1000 May St., became the bride of Pvt. John Charles Tolley, son of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Tolley of Cleveland, on June 15 at 7:30 o'clock in St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

Vases of white gladioli and carnations formed the altar setting for the double-ring ceremony, with the Rev. Marc Anton Nocerino, rector, officiating.

Mrs. Roland Mason presented a half-hour recital of nuptial music and Miss Mary Lou Anderson of Jefferson, a sorority sister of the bride, sang, "O, Perfect Love."

Escorted and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of peau de soie and lace. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and three-quarter-length sleeves trimmed with iridescent sequins and seed pearls.

The bouffant skirt featured lace panels cascading down from the waist into a fan-shaped cathedral train. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion, made by the bride, was held in place by a crown of sequins and seed pearls. She observed all the familiar traditions and carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, carnations and lily-of-the-valley tied with satin streamers.

Miss Nancy Lou Chadwick, former college roommate of the bride, was maid of honor. Miss Marjorie L. Drake of Pittsburgh and Miss Sondra Knepp of Beaver Falls, sorority sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids.

They wore identical gowns of blue organdy, fashioned with full bell sleeves and bouffant skirts. Matching picture hats and single-strand pearls and earrings, gifts of the bride, completed their attire.

Yellow daisies and pink rosebuds tied with pink ribbons formed the bouquet of the maid of honor and the bridesmaids carried cascade bouquets of yellow daisies and yellow rosebuds tied with yellow ribbon.

Robert H. Bogardus of Beacon, N. Y., college roommate and fraternity brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Frank S. Thornberry Jr., cousin of the bride, and Fred Darling of Cleveland, college friend of the bridegroom, were ushers.

MRS. J. C. TOLLEY
Her Nuptials Held On June 15.

Mrs. Birch wore a blue lace sheath dress with a Dior headband and Mrs. Tolley chose a dress of blue silk print. White accessories and white rose corsages accented their attire.

A reception for 200 followed in the Parish House. A four-tier cake topped with a bridal couple and flowers and candelabra completed the setting for the buffet table. Aides were Mrs. Frank S. Thornberry, aunt of the bride, Miss Nancy Sue Kline of Cleveland, a sorority sister, and Miss Eva Frandrich of Bloomfield, a college friend.

The honeymoon trip included points in Southern Ohio. For traveling, the bride wore a yellow sheath dress with white accessories.

A 1956 graduate of East Liverpool High School, the bride will enter her senior year at Baldwin-Wallace College, where she is affiliated with Alpha Xi Delta, social sorority.

Her husband is a graduate of West Tech High School at Cleveland. He attended Ohio University and was graduated in January from Baldwin-Wallace, where he was a member of Phi Kappa Tau social fraternity. He has returned to his station at Ft. Houston, Tex., where the bride will join him for the summer.

Panel Discussion Features Program For Boyce WSCS

A panel discussion was featured at the meeting of the WSCS Tuesday night in the Boyce Methodist Church.

Mrs. Charmaine Kane, program chairman, presented the topic, "A New Ambassador for Christ—The Tourist," and the speakers, Mrs. Allen Dawson, portraying an American journalist; Mrs. Delbert Cline, the ambassador, and Mrs. Stanton Eddy, the college student. A world globe was used for explanatory purposes.

Mrs. Howard Tice, president, opened the meeting with quotations of Joyce Kilmer.

The worship service was conducted by Mrs. Joseph Hall who read Scripture from 2 Cor.5:17-20, Mat.7:1-13 and Luke 12-15. Prayer was offered by Mrs. Mae Duffy and group humns included, "Jesus Shall Reign" and "O, Zion Haste," with Mrs. Paul Baldwin, accompanist.

Mrs. Tice presided for business with reports given by Mrs. Thelma Sadler, secretary, and Mrs. Hilda Graham, treasurer.

A thank-you note was read from Becky Hall for her graduation Testament.

The society will furnish the ice cream for the church picnic July 15 at Thompson Park and transportation for Brenda Barcus and Donna Springer to the Lakeside Mission School July 21-25.

The apron project of the Community Rescue Mission was explained.

Nine shut-in and 28 sick calls were reported.

Roll call showed Mary Esther, 6; Mary Martha, 4; Naomi Ruth, 3, and Dorothea Memorial, 8.

The group reconvened at the Boyce Auditorium where members of the Naomi Ruth Circle served refreshments. The committee included Mrs. Hall, Mrs. James Flora and Mrs. Baldwin. A dish garden of palms and cactus formed the centerpiece for the buffet table.

The next meeting will be July 28 at the auditorium. Mrs. Robert Jones will have devotions and Mrs. Virginia Ward, the program.

Center Holds Farewell For Elmer Namy

The present officers were re-elected for another year when directors of the Child Counseling Center held a dinner meeting at Piatt's Tea Room in Wellsville Wednesday night.

The dinner honored Elmer Namy, the center's present psychologist who will be leaving soon for a new teaching position in Gary, Ind. Mrs. Namy was a guest.

Re-elected were Judge Louis Tobin, president; Paul H. Blair, first vice president; Mrs. Russell Smith, second vice president; Miss Elizabeth Coleman, treasurer, and Arthur Thomas, recording secretary.

Dr. C. H. Bailey expressed the center's appreciation for the work Namy had done on its behalf and presented him with a gift from the directors.

Regulations Outlined For Washing Of Dishes

The Pennsylvania State Health Department has recently outlined hand dish washing procedures for food service establishments, John McGovern, Beaver County Health Department sanitarian at Beaver said.

Hugh C. Sarrof, chief of the food sanitation section, pointed out that there are two methods of washing and sanitizing dishes and utensils which the department recognizes as satisfactory.

One uses hot water heat, in the other a chemical sanitizes. Sarrof said that if the dishwashing operation is carried out entirely by hand, a three compartment sink is required.

He said that Pennsylvania is one of 35 states requiring the three-compartment sink method, which is recommended by the U. S. Public Health Service.

He said checks are being made constantly in the state either by state sanitarians or by local authorities.

MONTREAL (AP)— Ronald T. Riley, 50, president of Canadian Pratt and Whitney Co., Ltd., collapsed and died Wednesday, 24 hours before he was due to be presented to Queen Elizabeth.

Mr. And Mrs. Michael Ray Establish Home In Crafton

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Thomas Ray are residing in a newly furnished apartment at Crafton, Pa., following their marriage at High Nuptial Mass June 6 at 10 o'clock at the Wellsville Immaculate Conception Catholic Church.

The bride is the former Dorothy Ann Bemis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmun Bemis, 1730 Clark Ave., Wellsville. He is the son of Thomas Ray of Crafton and the late Mrs. Carmella Sanfilippo Ray.

Fr. Anthony Esposito of East Liverpool performed the double-ring ceremony. Mrs. James O'Reilley played an organ recital and sang the Mass. She also sang "Ave Marie" and "O, Beautiful Mother."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a princess - style gown of peau de soie, fashioned with a Sabrina neckline edged with medallions of lace embroidered with iridescent sequins and seed pearls. Her long sleeves were pointed at the wrist and the skirt ended in a brush train with back gores highlighted with small bow knots.

A semi-pill box of lace embroidered with iridescent sequins with a scalloped open work edge of seed pearls held her cloud veil of imported silk illusion. She carried a white prayer book and her cascade bouquet of green ivy was entwined with sweetheart roses. She carried a sixpence in her shoe for something old and a lace handkerchief of her mother's for something blue. Her jewelry was a single strand of pearls and earrings, gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Rose Marie Mascellino of Washington, cousin of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. She wore a Paris pink nylon chiffon dress with a tight fitted bodice and a ballerina - length full skirt. Her veil was pink net and she wore a tiara of sequins and flower petals and carried a Colonial bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Randy King of Kent, Miss Elsie Thomas of East Liverpool, a classmate of the bride, and her sister, Miss Debbie Bemis. All wore dresses identical to that of the maid of honor and carried Colonial bouquets.

Daniel Spik of Crafton was the best man. Ushers were Joseph Streppa of Crafton and John Bemis, brother of the bride.

A breakfast followed at Piatt's Tea Room and a reception in the afternoon at American Legion home.

Decorations included a four-tiered wedding cake decorated with pink roses and a miniature bridal couple. Other decorations were crystal punch bowls, a musical bridal couple and bowls of white peonies and orange blossoms.

Aides were Mrs. Christine Schneidmiller, Mrs. Alberta McMillan, Mrs. Lucy Rowley, Mrs. Helen Mihalik and Mrs. Wilma Nicols, all of East Liverpool, Mrs. Ann Williamson of Wellsville and Miss Martha Bennett of Chester.

Out - of - town guests were from Pittsburgh, Corry, Midland, Lorain, Akron, Cleveland, Kent Irondale and East Liverpool.

For going away, the bride wore a white linen sheath dress embroidered with medallions and sequins, a blue cummerbund of satin and a blue necklace. She also wore a corsage of white roses. They honeymooned in the lake Erie region.

The bride is a 1958 graduate of Wellsville High School and of the City Hospital School of Nursing.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Crafton High School. An Army veteran who spent two years in Germany, he is a graduate of the Pittsburgh Barber School and is employed in Crafton.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY MEYERS

Mother Shouldn't Imply She's Wisest

Some letters I receive are from fathers and a few are signed both by father and mother. But most of them are from mothers. An increasing number of their letters talk of father-mother togetherness in trying to do their best in bringing up their children. Now and then, alas, a mother says her husband, while a good provider, takes little or no responsibility for the children, spends little time with them, or is at sword's point with one or more of them. Sometimes she says he is too strict and severe in disciplining them. She may admit that she comes to their defense and even criticizes him right in their presence.

SUCH A FATHER knows that, as a rule, the mother, spending so much more time with the children, especially during their earlier years, may hit on some clever and persuasive ways of winning their co-operation.

He also knows that she has usually read and heard far more than he has about understanding children and guiding them with relatively low resistance from them.

When she comes home from her women's club or PTA she may tell him: "You should have heard that talk. It was just what you need."

Or, having read a magazine article or newspaper column on rearing children, she may say: "You should read this."

I fancy that such remarks from a mother or grandmother to fathers have often kept them from reading literature on child rearing.

No matter how surely and often the mother may be right in criticizing her husband's ways with the children, and in choosing the kind of literature he should hear or read, her doing so says in effect: "You are inferior to me as parent."

WERE SHE wiser, she would be more subtle. If she refers at all to things she has heard or read, she would merely note how they helped her as a parent and she would strive hard to prove by deeds and not by words that this is so.

Instead of rebuking the father for ways she doesn't like, she would dwell on those she does like and magnify them. She would build on his strengths. She would wait for private times when she felt serene and lovely before asking him to change his ways.

More often than the mother, the father, in his workaday experience with adults, may be impressed with obedience as a virtue. Consequently, he may be critical of her "easy ways," and so this father and mother may grow more critical of each other toward the children, with the result that, as she grows more mild, he grows more severe. If the mother were to stiffen up on disciplining the children, the father would often grow less severe.

My bulletin, "Celebrate Your Child's Successes," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Overweight Condition Mars Happy Marriage

If you have an overwhelming compulsion to stuff on sweets despite a very real yearning to conquer your weight problem, it is necessary to ferret out what is behind the intense craving. A despairing young woman writes:

Ida Jean Kain

"The only mar in our very happy marriage is my overweight. I look in the mirror and cry at what I see. I make a new resolution which I keep until I see some candy, especially chocolate.

"We don't keep candy in the house, but I buy it on the sly. I don't like what I'm doing, but I go ahead. I'm in my twenties and too old to be acting like a 5-year-old who never knows when she's had enough sweets.

"I'VE TRIED writing down my moods when I crave candy, but I'm usually in good spirits. I've tried 'thinking slim.' Noghing has helped. I realize I must make up my mind to do the job myself.

"I can't ask help from my husband any more. He has lost faith in me, and who can blame him! I will appreciate any help you can give."

The first step is to try to find out what is behind the instense craving. As a precautionary measure, it would be advisable to check with your doctor to first rule out any inability of the system to utilize sugar normally.

When the need for excess sweets is not a physical need, then the unnatural craving represents an unsatisfied psychological need. Pull out of the cycle. Instead of saying, "I stuff on sweets and I don't know why" make the mental effort to think back through the years to when you first started overindulging in sweets.

The challenge is to ferret out the sources of your dissatisfactions at that time. The effort you have to make is to arrive at a clearer idea of the resentments and dissatisfactions. If you cannot ferret out the causes by yourself, it would be wise to seek professional help. Perhaps there is a clinic available.

Your dietitian discussed your letter with a psychiatrist. When I asked if a person could gain insight on her own, he gave this heartening reply: "People can do a great deal by themselves when they are aware of the possibilities."

USE YOUR creative imagination. Whenever the will and the imagination are in conflict, the imagination wins. Think of imagination as imagery.

Picture yourself as you truly desire to be—beautiful normal weight. A basic fact of human nature is that we tend to become what we habitually picture ourselves as being.

Once you gain enlightenment and face the facts realistically, then it will be possible to do something constructive about your weight. Not only will it be possible but, with insight, slimming can be a joyous challenge.

How Can I? ? ?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I remove stubborn stains on concrete?

A. They can often be removed by rubbing them with a hot solution of 4 ounces of trisodium phosphate in one gallon of water, to which may be added 4 ounces of washing soda. After scrubbing, rinse thoroughly with clean water.

Q. How can I test butter when in doubt as to whether I have butter or a substitute?

A. Try this test: Hold a half-teaspoon over the spout of the teakettle. Butter will form a sort of foam, while the substitute will melt.

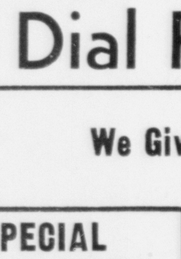
Thumbs Down Symbol Given Boat 'Clowns'

With a long summer ahead and the July Fourth weekend coming up, Police Chief A. J. Radeschi today urged use of a timely new signal and slogan by river boaters to discourage pleasure craft operators whose antics threaten lives and property.



The slogan, "Thumbs Down, Don't Clown," is indicated by a thumbs down gesture from a pleasure boat operator when he observes reckless or careless antics by a fellow boater, the chief said. The slogan and sign are being adopted nationally to help cut down accidents on the crowded lakes and rivers, he added. "Boating is one of our safest forms of recreation, but it has a few smart alecks who imperil the safety of themselves and others, just as 'hot-rod jockeys' and 'drag race show-offs' are a danger on the highways," Chief Radeschi asserted.

"The objective is simply to discourage goofy and dangerous antics by giving the familiar 'thumbs down' gesture to offenders," he said.

The chief tacked on a warning to boating enthusiasts who move their craft to and from the river and district lakes on trailers. Be certain the trailer is equipped with proper lights and signals, he said.

Adventist Bible School To Close With Exercises

Closing exercises for the Vacation Bible School will be conducted Saturday morning at 10 in the Seventh-day Adventist Church with Mrs. Louise Mayhew in charge.

The opening prayer will be offered by Victoria Willey. Bobby King will be flag bearer for the flag pledge, and Brenda Gadd will hold the Bible for the Bible pledge. The closing prayer will be offered by Joel Roy.

The Kindergarten Group, under the direction of Mrs. Joan Brewer, will sing, "God's Wonderful World" and the Primary and Junior Departments, directed by Mrs. Thelma King and Mrs. Mayhew, will sing, "Going Home" and "Who Made Earth, Ocean, and Sky?"

Certificates will be given for perfect attendance.

The 13th Sabbath offering will be taken to help establish a new school in Iraq and to extend medical missionary work in the Sudan of Central Africa.

At the 11:30 a. m. worship, Pastor Elmon H. Roy will speak on "Is It I, God?" Communion will be observed.

The Allied invasion of France on D-Day, June 6, 1944, had the codename "Overlord."

Sylvan Building To Be Auctioned

Fire Chief Charles Bryan said today an order has been obtained to sell the condemned Sylvan Hotel on E. 2nd St. for delinquent taxes.

The old structure will go on the auction block at a sheriff's sale at Lisbon about mid-July with the stipulation that the purchaser raze the building. Some $2,000 in delinquent taxes is owned on the hotel owned by Eugene Breakstone of Chicago.

A tear-down order was received from the state fire marshal's office last summer carrying a Dec. 28 deadline. Breakstone was notified of the action but failed to reply to any of the orders or letters sent him, Bryan said.

The order sale of the building was obtained about six weeks ago. Bryan said he and a deputy fire marshal made another inspection of the property Wednesday.

All of the windows are broken out, the building is full of trash and is contaminated with vermin and rodents, he said.

Bryan said if no one purchased the property, it will be torn down by the city and the expense charged to Breakstone.

Sarah Birch Becomes Bride Of Clevelander In Service

Miss Sarah Jane Birch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. McClellan Birch, 1000 May St., became the bride of Pvt. John Charles Tolley, son of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Tolley of Cleveland, on June 15 at 7:30 o'clock in St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

Vases of white gladioli and carnations formed the altar setting for the double-ring ceremony, with the Rev. Marc Anton Nocerino, rector, officiating.

Mrs. Roland Mason presented a half-hour recital of nuptial music and Miss Mary Lou Anderson of Jefferson, a sorority sister of the bride, sang, "O, Perfect Love."

Escorted and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of peau de soie and lace. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and three-quarter-length sleeves trimmed with iridescent sequins and seed pearls.

The bouffant skirt featured lace panels cascading down from the waist into a fan-shaped cathedral train. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion, made by the bride, was held in place by a crown of sequins and seed pearls. She observed all the familiar traditions and carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, carnations and lily-of-the-valley tied with satin streamers.

Miss Nancy Lou Chadwick, former college roommate of the bride, was maid of honor. Miss Marjorie L. Drake of Pittsburgh and Miss Sondra Knepp of Beaver Falls, sorority sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids.

They wore identical gowns of blue organdy, fashioned with full bell sleeves and bouffant skirts. Matching picture hats and single-strand pearls and earrings, gifts of the bride, completed their attire.

Yellow daisies and pink rosebuds tied with pink ribbons formed the bouquet of the maid of honor and the bridesmaids carried cascade bouquets of yellow daisies and yellow rosebuds tied with yellow ribbon.

Robert H. Bogardus of Beacon, N. Y., college roommate and fraternity brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Frank S. Thornberry Jr., cousin of the bride, and Fred Darling of Cleveland, college friend of the bridegroom, were ushers.

MRS. J. C. TOLLEY
Her Nuptials Held On June 15.

Mrs. Birch wore a blue lace sheath dress with a Dior headband and Mrs. Tolley chose a dress of blue silk print. White accessories and white rose corsages accented their attire.

A reception for 200 followed in the Parish House. A four-tier cake topped with a bridal couple and flowers and candelabra completed the setting for the buffet table. Aides were Mrs. Frank S. Thornberry, aunt of the bride, Miss Nancy Sue Kline of Cleveland, a sorority sister, and Miss Eva Frandrich of Bloomfield, a college friend.

The honeymoon trip included points in Southern Ohio. For traveling, the bride wore a yellow sheath dress with white accessories.

A 1956 graduate of East Liverpool High School, the bride will enter her senior year at Baldwin-Wallace College, where she is affiliated with Alpha Xi Delta, social sorority.

Her husband is a graduate of West Tech High School at Cleveland. He attended Ohio University and was graduated in January from Baldwin-Wallace, where he was a member of Phi Kappa Tau social fraternity. He has returned to his station at Ft. Houston, Tex., where the bride will join him for the summer.

Panel Discussion Features Program For Boyce WSCS

A panel discussion was featured at the meeting of the WSCS Tuesday night in the Boyce Methodist Church.

Mrs. Charmaine Kane, program chairman, presented the topic, "A New Ambassador for Christ—The Tourist," and the speakers, Mrs. Allen Dawson, portraying an American journalist; Mrs. Delbert Cline, the ambassador, and Mrs. Stanton Eddy, the college student. A world globe was used for explanatory purposes.

Mrs. Howard Tice, president, opened the meeting with quotations of Joyce Kilmer.

The worship service was conducted by Mrs. Joseph Hall who read Scripture from 2 Cor.5:17-20, Mat.7:1-13 and Luke 12-15. Prayer was offered by Mrs. Mae Duffy and group humns included, "Jesus Shall Reign" and "O, Zion Haste," with Mrs. Paul Baldwin, accompanist.

Mrs. Tice presided for business with reports given by Mrs. Thelma Sadler, secretary, and Mrs. Hilda Graham, treasurer.

A thank-you note was read from Becky Hall for her graduation Testament.

The society will furnish the ice cream for the church picnic July 15 at Thompson Park and transportation for Brenda Barcus and Donna Springer to the Lakeside Mission School July 21-25.

The apron project of the Community Rescue Mission was explained.

Nine shut-in and 28 sick calls were reported.

Roll call showed Mary Esther, 6; Mary Martha, 4; Naomi Ruth, 3, and Dorothea Memorial, 8.

The group reconvened at the Boyce Auditorium where members of the Naomi Ruth Circle served refreshments. The committee included Mrs. Hall, Mrs. James Flora and Mrs. Baldwin. A dish garden of palms and cactus formed the centerpiece for the buffet table.

The next meeting will be July 28 at the auditorium. Mrs. Robert Jones will have devotions and Mrs. Virginia Ward, the program.

Center Holds Farewell For Elmer Namy

The present officers were re-elected for another year when directors of the Child Counseling Center held a dinner meeting at Piatt's Tea Room in Wellsville Wednesday night.

The dinner honored Elmer Namy, the center's present psychologist who will be leaving soon for a new teaching position in Gary, Ind. Mrs. Namy was a guest.

Re-elected were Judge Louis Tobin, president; Paul H. Blair, first vice president; Mrs. Russell Smith, second vice president; Miss Elizabeth Coleman, treasurer, and Arthur Thomas, recording secretary.

Dr. C. H. Bailey expressed the center's appreciation for the work Namy had done on its behalf and presented him with a gift from the directors.

Regulations Outlined For Washing Of Dishes

The Pennsylvania State Health Department has recently outlined hand dish washing procedures for food service establishments, John McGovern, Beaver County Health Department sanitarian at Beaver said.

Hugh C. Sarrof, chief of the food sanitation section, pointed out that there are two methods of washing and sanitizing dishes and utensils which the department recognizes as satisfactory.

One uses hot water heat, in the other a chemical sanitizes. Sarrof said that if the dishwashing operation is carried out entirely by hand, a three compartment sink is required.

He said that Pennsylvania is one of 35 states requiring the three-compartment sink method, which is recommended by the U. S. Public Health Service.

He said checks are being made constantly in the state either by state sanitarians or by local authorities.

Mr. And Mrs. Michael Ray Establish Home In Crafton

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Thomas Ray are residing in a newly furnished apartment at Crafton, Pa., following their marriage at High Nuptial Mass June 6 at 10 o'clock at the Wellsville Immaculate Conception Catholic Church.

The bride is the former Dorothy Ann Bemis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmun Bemis, 1730 Clark Ave., Wellsville. He is the son of Thomas Ray of Crafton and the late Mrs. Carmella Sanfilippo Ray.

Fr. Anthony Esposito of East Liverpool performed the double-ring ceremony. Mrs. James O'Reilley played an organ recital and sang the Mass. She also sang "Ave Marie" and "O, Beautiful Mother."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a princess - style gown of peau de soie, fashioned with a Sabrina neckline edged with medallions of lace embroidered with iridescent sequins and seed pearls. Her long sleeves were pointed at the wrist and the skirt ended in a brush train with back gores highlighted with small bow knots.

A semi-pill box of lace embroidered with iridescent sequins with a scalloped open work edge of seed pearls held her cloud veil of imported silk illusion. She carried a white prayer book and her cascade bouquet of green ivy was entwined with sweetheart roses. She carried a sixpence in her shoe for something old and a lace handkerchief of her mother's for something blue. Her jewelry was a single strand of pearls and earrings, gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Rose Marie Mascellino of Washington, cousin of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. She wore a Paris pink nylon chiffon dress with a tight fitted bodice and a ballerina - length full skirt. Her veil was pink net and she wore a tiara of sequins and flower petals and carried a Colonial bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Randy King of Kent, Miss Elsie Thomas of East Liverpool, a classmate of the bride, and her sister, Miss Debbie Bemis. All wore dresses identical to that of the maid of honor and carried Colonial bouquets.

Daniel Spik of Crafton was the best man. Ushers were Joseph Streppa of Crafton and John Bemis, brother of the bride.

A breakfast followed at Piatt's Tea Room and a reception in the afternoon at American Legion home.

Decorations included a four-tiered wedding cake decorated with pink roses and a miniature bridal couple. Other decorations were crystal punch bowls, a musical bridal couple and bowls of white peonies and orange blossoms.

Aides were Mrs. Christine Schneidmiller, Mrs. Alberta McMillan, Mrs. Lucy Rowley, Mrs. Helen Mihalik and Mrs. Wilma Nicols, all of East Liverpool, Mrs. Ann Williamson of Wellsville and Miss Martha Bennett of Chester.

Out - of - town guests were from Pittsburgh, Corry, Midland, Lorain, Akron, Cleveland, Kent Irondale and East Liverpool.

For going away, the bride wore a white linen sheath dress embroidered with medallions and sequins, a blue cummerbund of satin and a blue necklace. She also wore a corsage of white roses. They honeymooned in the lake Erie region.

The bride is a 1958 graduate of Wellsville High School and of the City Hospital School of Nursing.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Crafton High School. An Army veteran who spent two years in Germany, he is a graduate of the Pittsburgh Barber School and is employed in Crafton.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

Hitchcock Gets More Shocking

In continuing efforts to prove that homicide can be fun, Alfred Hitchcock wittingly invalidates the book of shockers he once edited titled "Stories They Wouldn't Let Me Do on TV."

Marie Torre

Television — or, more accurately, Hitchcock's "abused" sponsor — will permit him to do some of those grisly stories in his television series next season, and the imperiously proportioned director views the prospects with lip-smacking relish.

"In one of the stories, the one we'll use to open the season," Hitchcock chortles, "a chicken farmer kills his girl friend. He subsequently grinds her body into the chicken feed. Before the story winds up, the farmer gives a pair of the juicy chickens to the local policeman."

The years, you see, haven't altered Hitchcock's devotion to "wholesome mayhem as practiced by civilized people." His goal for next season is at least one real shocker a month, a resolution designed to appease the growing appetite of viewers conditioned to his macabre mysteries.

"AFTER ALL," says Hitchcock, "we're beginning our fifth year in television. We need to get a little spicier — to have growth, in other words. They make a fatal mistake in television when they defy growth."

Outside of bolstering the degree of suspense, Hitchcock's television routine will undergo no change next season. His shows still will be given on a weekly basis over CBS, and he'll continue to effect high product identification with calculated abuse of commercials.

Considering his active movie schedule, one wonders why he puts up with the bothersome business of TV. And we asked him about it.

"I feel at times as if I'm leading a Jekyll and Hyde existence moving between TV and motion pictures," Hitchcock admitted in response. "But I stay in television for a variety of reasons. For one thing, there is satisfaction in knowing that I can do something with economy. Also, I have a television staff and I feel an obligation to them.

"And, of course, there's a lot of money to be made in television — enough to make up for the troubles and the pressures and the nonsense."

Thus, when television problems disturb his best-laid plans, Hitchcock is content to heave a sigh and resign himself to the fact that the inmates have taken over the asylum.

GARRY MOORE, feeling festive this week, takes note of the fact that his performance on Wednesday night's "I've Got a Secret" was his 2,500th television show. . .

The latest prediction about pay TV is that it will be a going business before Jan. 1. The crystal gazer is Louis A. Novins, president of Telemeter, whose closed-circuit cable facilities will be used for a toll TV operation to be set up in Canada soon. . . .

Television may not look better than ever next season, but it promises to sound a lot better. At least 16 of the new fall series, most of them action-adventure shows, will have "live" background music.

THE GROWTH of "adult" Westerns hasn't at all diminished interest in juvenile stuff like "The Lone Ranger." The 18-year-old syndicated series is shown on a record of 174 stations. . . .

Dick Clark was invited to address 200 outstanding high school juniors and seniors at "Tomorrow's Leaders Rotary Camp" in Pennsylvania because he exemplified "the fine qualities of leadership that young men aspire to emulate." Remember the old days when young peeple aspired to emulate the leadership qualities of doctors and lawyers, scientists and such?

Writer Gets Publicity But Ends Up In Jail

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — John Clytus told Judge Gerald Levin he robbed the state unemployment office of $1,500 not for the money but to get publicity for his literary efforts.

The judge let him off with a six-month jail term and five years probation, but warned: "This is not the best way to get publicity for your magnum opus."

Clytus, 29, was arrested several days after the holdup in April when he complained to police that "some dirty crook" broke into the Greyhound locker and stole the $1,500 he had hidden there.

He told Judge Levin he had intended to hold onto the money until he had sent a manuscript to a publisher.

The woodpecker's pecking is believed an effort to attract female birds.

Dirksen Talks Of Ike Veto In Economy Bid

WASHINGTON (AP)—The possibility that President Eisenhower might veto a $4,056,746,581 health-labor money bill that pierces his budget ceiling was raised today by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill).

Dirksen, the Senate Republican leader, said in an interview he thinks Eisenhower is so determined to balance the budget he may well take the unusual course of rejecting the major money measure.

No chief executive has vetoed a major appropriations bill since 1948, when Congress overrode former President Truman's rejection of a labor-federal security money measure.

Guided by Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate passed the bill by a lopsided 83-10 vote Wednesday. Previously it had throttled, 70-26, a move by Dirksen to send it back to committee with instructions to cut the money total down to the $3,691,000,000 Eisenhower requested. The House had voted a $3,849,000,000 total.

Johnson, a heart attack victim as was Eisenhower, led the fight in committee and in the Senate for a 480 million dollar allotment for widescale research programs.

Cancer, heart and mental health research would consume the lion's share of these funds which were about 186 millions above Eisenhower's requests and 136 million more than the House approved.

This money was part of the $3,551,991,081 appropriated for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. The bill carried $485,214,500 for the Labor Department, $14,230,000 for the National Labor Relations Board; $1,357,000 for the National Mediation Board, $4,949,000 for the Federal Mediation and Conciliation service and some smaller items.

Area Pair Completes Studies At Morgantown

Mr. and Mrs. William Householder, former Chester and New Cumberland residents, have moved to Richmond, Va., where he has accepted a position with the DuPont Co.

He just graduated from West Virginia University as an engineer.

Mrs. Householder, the former Sue Ridinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Ridinger of Chester, achieved the dean's list at the College of Education at the university at Morgantown and will complete her final year of college at the University of Richmond. Her husband also achieved the dean's list his final semester.

One Man On A Horse Brings Term In Jail

DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — Paul Vernon, 29, felt a powerful urge to take a horseback ride. But he picked the wrong steed.

Spotting a horse standing with empty saddle on a downtown street, Vernon leaped on its back and went cantering off.

But before you could say "he went that-a-way" the regular rider, Policeman Edwin Waddell, burst from a lunchroom and collared Vernon as he went clop-clopping down an alley.

Vernon was charged with being intoxicated.

120 Attend Joint Club Outing Held At Lisbon

LISBON — Some 120 attended the third annual service clubs dinner Wednesday evening at Willow Grove Park.

Rotarians were hosts this year to the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis, Ruritans and Lions Clubs.

The American Legion auxiliary served the dinner, followed by contests.

Minister Rebuked By Angry Young

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Stephen M. Young (D-Ohio) has rebuked a Fremont, Ohio, minister for what Young terms an "un-Christian attitude."

The minister, Rev. Lawrence S. Price, criticized Young's opposition to President Eisenhower's nomination of Lewis Strauss as secretary of commerce.

Young, defending his Senate vote against confirmation of Strauss, accused Price of being ignorant of facts. Price is minister of Fremont's Grace Lutheran Church.

Young sent a reply to the minister saying:

"Your insulting letter demonstrates an un-Christianlike attitude. Possibly you would avoid that in the future if you would study gospels and try to learn more about saving souls instead of insultingly and untruthfully attacking motives of public officials."

Pittsburgh, Upper Ohio Seen Linked For Future

Common interests link the Upper Ohio River Valley and the Pittsburgh metropolitan area, showing the need for co-operative planning to promote their mutual interests, according to a report issued Wednesday at Pittsburgh by the Regional Industrial Development Corp.

Calling Pittsburgh the "financial and service capital of the valley region," the report asked for "bold thinking and regional planning" for inter-dependent communities from Pittsburgh to Parkersburg.

The report was issued as background information for about 170 guests who will make a three-day tour of the Upper Ohio Valley area, starting Sunday, to study its industrial potential.

Defense Puts Daughter On Stand In Trial

By HAROLD HARRISON

CINCINNATI (AP) — Joan Klumpp, who was 12-years-old Wednesday, is today's first witness as the defense starts its efforts to free her mother of a first-degree murder charge.

Mrs. Edythe Klumpp, a 41-year-old blonde, is accused of killing her lover's estranged wife, Louise Bergen, 32, last Oct. 30, then burning the body the next day after keeping it in the trunk of her automobile overnight.

The state contends Mrs. Klumpp wanted to marry Mrs. Bergen's husband, William, 30, but that his wife didn't want to divorce him. Bergen, who had been living with Mrs. Klumpp, has testified he wanted to return to his wife.

Defense attorney William F. Hopkins said Joan, one of Mrs. Klumpp's three children by her second marriage, and Mrs. Klumpp herself might possibly be the only defense witnesses. Mrs. Klumpp has a son by her first marriage who is in the Air Force.

In any event, the defense, including cross - examination by Hamilton County Prosecutor C. Watson Hover, is not expected to take more than two days. That means the case probably will go to the jury Tuesday.

Hopkins gave no indication as to the type of testimony Joan is to give.

The state completed its case Wednesday. The jury of six men and six women had heard testimony from 34 witnesses, a few less than Hover had said he might call.

After the state rested, Hopkins unsuccessfully renewed his efforts to have the case thrown out on the grounds the state had not proved venue. Proving venue is proving the alleged crime occurred in this (Hamilton) county, thus giving Judge Frank M. Gusweiler's court jurisdiction.

Hopkins moved for a directed verdict of acquittal on the ground that venue had not been proven.

Judge Gusweiler said, however, that "I think there has been ample and sufficient evidence to warrant this question (guilt or innocence of Mrs. Klumpp) being submitted to the jury for their consideration."

The last state witness was Cincinnati Detective Wilbert Stagenhorst. He and Detective Eugene Moore conducted most of the investigation that led to the charges against Mrs. Klumpp.

He told of questioning Mrs. Klumpp and how on Nov. 18, she finally admitted she was involved in the death of Mrs. Bergen, but claimed her love rival was shot accidentally as they grappled for a gun.

Storm Hits Paulding

PAULDING, Ohio (AP)—Power lines and trees were knocked down along with some small buildings when a heavy wind and rainstorm hit Paulding late Wednesday. No injuries were reported.

Globe Brick Worker Hurt

A Glenmoor man, injured at work at the Globe Brick Co. this morning, is in "fair" condition at City Hospital where five youngsters and adults were treated Wednesday after separate mishaps.

Joe Banik, 34, suffered injuries of the left knee and ankle when bricks slipped out of a holding ring and fell against his leg as he was placing them into a kiln.

Marilyn Six, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Six of New Cumberland R. D. 1, was treated yesterday for a laceration of the left hand suffered when she fell on a piece of glass at home.

Mrs. Betty Toothman, 1730 Pennsylvania Ave., suffered injuries to the left hand when caught in a washing machine wringer at home.

Wilmar Black, 43, of Thompson Ave., employe of Waterford Park, was treated yesterday morning for an injury to the right hip suffered at work.

Ralph Pfleger, 8, of Bedford suffered a wrist injury in a fall from a swing set.

James Calder of Louisville R. D. 1 suffered a possible fractured wrist while playing ball.

Sylvan Building To Be Auctioned

Fire Chief Charles Bryan said today an order has been obtained to sell the condemned Sylvan Hotel on E. 2nd St. for delinquent taxes.

The old structure will go on the auction block at a sheriff's sale at Lisbon about mid-July with the stipulation that the purchaser raze the building. Some $2,000 in delinquent taxes is owned on the hotel owned by Eugene Breakstone of Chicago.

A tear-down order was received from the state fire marshal's office last summer carrying a Dec. 28 deadline. Breakstone was notified of the action but failed to reply to any of the orders or letters sent him, Bryan said.

The order sale of the building was obtained about six weeks ago. Bryan said he and a deputy fire marshal made another inspection of the property Wednesday.

All of the windows are broken out, the building is full of trash and is contaminated with vermin and rodents, he said.

Bryan said if no one purchased the property, it will be torn down by the city and the expense charged to Breakstone.

Will Cruise 31-Mile Route

Eisenhower, Queen Await Ceremonies For Seaway

MONTREAL (AP) — President Eisenhower, who shuns the U. S. presidential yacht, will board Queen Elizabeth's plush Britannia Friday and cruise with the Queen along 31 miles of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

The two chiefs of state will meet at Montreal to formally open the seaway, the joint U.S. - Canadian project that can bring three-fourths of the world's ships to the heartland of America.

A cruise aboard the six million dollar yacht Britannia will take them to Beauharnois, Que., from the seaway entrance at St. Lambert. They will go through the first two in a series of locks, the liquid stairways which lift shipping 224 feet from the St. Lawrence River into Lake Ontario.

Seaway authorities are still ironing out kinks. But two months of operation have proved the system works. More than 1,500 ships have used the waterway since it opened April 25.

Friday, in less than 12 hours, the President will fly, walk, motor and sail about 1,000 miles.

Flying from Washington, Eisenhower will land in his plane Columbine III at the St. Hubert Air Base. This jet fighter center eight miles east of Montreal is a unit in the North America Air Defense network that maintains contact 24 hours a day with NORAD headquarters at Colorado Springs, Colo. About 17,000 persons, some of them Americans, work at St. Hubert.

Elizabeth will meet the President there.

Even during the royal greetings a group of pilots will be in the ready room, set to take off in CF-100 jet interceptors if northern radar stations signal an attack.

There will be a 21-gun salute for the President. While the Queen watches, Eisenhower is to inspect a 100-man honor guard.

Then Elizabeth and the President, along with Canada's Prime Minister John Diefenbaker will drive to the Queen's yacht anchored at St. Lambert, across the St. Lawrence from Montreal.

A 21-gun salute by a Canadian warship will send the yacht on her way up the seaway canal.

The Britannia is to pass through symbolic gates in the canal to formally start the seaway on its career.

The party will dine aboard the yacht, watching out portholes and pass Canadian and American warships in line in Lake St. Louis.

At the Beauharnois Locks, 31 miles up the 185-mile-long seaway channel to Lake Ontario, the President is to take leave of the Queen to return to Washington.

Eisenhower will spend five hours aboard the Britannia. Whether the trip changes his mind about the use of yachts remains to be seen. He ordered the presidential yacht Williamsburg out of commission in 1953, calling it a symbol of needless luxury.

The Queen Friday will be repaying Eisenhower for the hospitality he showed her and Prince Philip when they visited Washington in 1957. This time she is visiting only one city in the United States, Chicago.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

Hitchcock Gets More Shocking

In continuing efforts to prove that homicide can be fun, Alfred Hitchcock wittingly invalidates the book of shockers he once edited titled "Stories They Wouldn't Let Me Do on TV."

Marie Torre

Television — or, more accurately, Hitchcock's "abused" sponsor — will permit him to do some of those grisly stories in his television series next season, and the imperiously proportioned director views the prospects with lip-smacking relish.

"In one of the stories, the one we'll use to open the season," Hitchcock chortles, "a chicken farmer kills his girl friend. He subsequently grinds her body into the chicken feed. Before the story winds up, the farmer gives a pair of the juicy chickens to the local policeman."

The years, you see, haven't altered Hitchcock's devotion to "wholesome mayhem as practiced by civilized people." His goal for next season is at least one real shocker a month, a resolution designed to appease the growing appetite of viewers conditioned to his macabre mysteries.

"AFTER ALL," says Hitchcock, "we're beginning our fifth year in television. We need to get a little spicier — to have growth, in other words. They make a fatal mistake in television when they defy growth."

Outside of bolstering the degree of suspense, Hitchcock's television routine will undergo no change next season. His shows still will be given on a weekly basis over CBS, and he'll continue to effect high product identification with calculated abuse of commercials.

Considering his active movie schedule, one wonders why he puts up with the bothersome business of TV. And we asked him about it.

"I feel at times as if I'm leading a Jekyll and Hyde existence moving between TV and motion pictures," Hitchcock admitted in response. "But I stay in television for a variety of reasons. For one thing, there is satisfaction in knowing that I can do something with economy. Also, I have a television staff and I feel an obligation to them.

"And, of course, there's a lot of money to be made in television — enough to make up for the troubles and the pressures and the nonsense."

Thus, when television problems disturb his best-laid plans, Hitchcock is content to heave a sigh and resign himself to the fact that the inmates have taken over the asylum.

GARRY MOORE, feeling festive this week, takes note of the fact that his performance on Wednesday night's "I've Got a Secret" was his 2,500th television show. . .

The latest prediction about pay TV is that it will be a going business before Jan. 1. The crystal gazer is Louis A. Novins, president of Telemeter, whose closed-circuit cable facilities will be used for a toll TV operation to be set up in Canada soon. . . .

Television may not look better than ever next season, but it promises to sound a lot better. At least 16 of the new fall series, most of them action-adventure shows, will have "live" background music.

THE GROWTH of "adult" Westerns hasn't at all diminished interest in juvenile stuff like "The Lone Ranger." The 18-year-old syndicated series is shown on a record of 174 stations. . . .

Dick Clark was invited to address 200 outstanding high school juniors and seniors at "Tomorrow's Leaders Rotary Camp" in Pennsylvania because he exemplified "the fine qualities of leadership that young men aspire to emulate." Remember the old days when young peeple aspired to emulate the leadership qualities of doctors and lawyers, scientists and such?

Writer Gets Publicity But Ends Up In Jail

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — John Clytus told Judge Gerald Levin he robbed the state unemployment office of $1,500 not for the money but to get publicity for his literary efforts.

The judge let him off with a six-month jail term and five years probation, but warned: "This is not the best way to get publicity for your magnum opus."

Clytus, 29, was arrested several days after the holdup in April when he complained to police that "some dirty crook" broke into the Greyhound locker and stole the $1,500 he had hidden there.

He told Judge Levin he had intended to hold onto the money until he had sent a manuscript to a publisher.

Dirksen Talks Of Ike Veto In Economy Bid

WASHINGTON (AP)—The possibility that President Eisenhower might veto a $4,056,746,581 health-labor money bill that pierces his budget ceiling was raised today by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill).

Dirksen, the Senate Republican leader, said in an interview he thinks Eisenhower is so determined to balance the budget he may well take the unusual course of rejecting the major money measure.

No chief executive has vetoed a major appropriations bill since 1948, when Congress overrode former President Truman's rejection of a labor-federal security money measure.

Guided by Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate passed the bill by a lopsided 83-10 vote Wednesday. Previously it had throttled, 70-26, a move by Dirksen to send it back to committee with instructions to cut the money total down to the $3,691,000,000 Eisenhower requested. The House had voted a $3,849,000,000 total.

Johnson, a heart attack victim as was Eisenhower, led the fight in committee and in the Senate for a 480 million dollar allotment for widescale research programs.

Cancer, heart and mental health research would consume the lion's share of these funds which were about 186 millions above Eisenhower's requests and 136 million more than the House approved.

This money was part of the $3,551,991,081 appropriated for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. The bill carried $485,214,500 for the Labor Department, $14,230,000 for the National Labor Relations Board; $1,357,000 for the National Mediation Board, $4,949,000 for the Federal Mediation and Conciliation service and some smaller items.

He just graduated from West Virginia University as an engineer.

Mrs. Householder, the former Sue Ridinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Ridinger of Chester, achieved the dean's list at the College of Education at the university at Morgantown and will complete her final year of college at the University of Richmond. Her husband also achieved the dean's list his final semester.

One Man On A Horse Brings Term In Jail

DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — Paul Vernon, 29, felt a powerful urge to take a horseback ride. But he picked the wrong steed.

Spotting a horse standing with empty saddle on a downtown street, Vernon leaped on its back and went cantering off.

But before you could say "he went that-a-way" the regular rider, Policeman Edwin Waddell, burst from a lunchroom and collared Vernon as he went clop-clopping down an alley.

Vernon was charged with being intoxicated.

Minister Rebuked By Angry Young

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Stephen M. Young (D-Ohio) has rebuked a Fremont, Ohio, minister for what Young terms an "un-Christian attitude."

The minister, Rev. Lawrence S. Price, criticized Young's opposition to President Eisenhower's nomination of Lewis Strauss as secretary of commerce.

Young, defending his Senate vote against confirmation of Strauss, accused Price of being ignorant of facts. Price is minister of Fremont's Grace Lutheran Church.

Young sent a reply to the minister saying:

"Your insulting letter demonstrates an un-Christianlike attitude. Possibly you would avoid that in the future if you would study gospels and try to learn more about saving souls instead of insultingly and untruthfully attacking motives of public officials."

Pittsburgh, Upper Ohio Seen Linked For Future

Common interests link the Upper Ohio River Valley and the Pittsburgh metropolitan area, showing the need for co-operative planning to promote their mutual interests, according to a report issued Wednesday at Pittsburgh by the Regional Industrial Development Corp.

Calling Pittsburgh the "financial and service capital of the valley region," the report asked for "bold thinking and regional planning" for inter-dependent communities from Pittsburgh to Parkersburg.

The report was issued as background information for about 170 guests who will make a three-day tour of the Upper Ohio Valley area, starting Sunday, to study its industrial potential.

Defense Puts Daughter On Stand In Trial

By HAROLD HARRISON

CINCINNATI (AP) — Joan Klumpp, who was 12-years-old Wednesday, is today's first witness as the defense starts its efforts to free her mother of a first-degree murder charge.

Mrs. Edythe Klumpp, a 41-year-old blonde, is accused of killing her lover's estranged wife, Louise Bergen, 32, last Oct. 30, then burning the body the next day after keeping it in the trunk of her automobile overnight.

The state contends Mrs. Klumpp wanted to marry Mrs. Bergen's husband, William, 30, but that his wife didn't want to divorce him. Bergen, who had been living with Mrs. Klumpp, has testified he wanted to return to his wife.

Defense attorney William F. Hopkins said Joan, one of Mrs. Klumpp's three children by her second marriage, and Mrs. Klumpp herself might possibly be the only defense witnesses. Mrs. Klumpp has a son by her first marriage who is in the Air Force.

In any event, the defense, including cross - examination by Hamilton County Prosecutor C. Watson Hover, is not expected to take more than two days. That means the case probably will go to the jury Tuesday.

Hopkins gave no indication as to the type of testimony Joan is to give.

The state completed its case Wednesday. The jury of six men and six women had heard testimony from 34 witnesses, a few less than Hover had said he might call.

After the state rested, Hopkins unsuccessfully renewed his efforts to have the case thrown out on the grounds the state had not proved venue. Proving venue is proving the alleged crime occurred in this (Hamilton) county, thus giving Judge Frank M. Gusweiler's court jurisdiction.

Hopkins moved for a directed verdict of acquittal on the ground that venue had not been proven.

Judge Gusweiler said, however, that "I think there has been ample and sufficient evidence to warrant this question (guilt or innocence of Mrs. Klumpp) being submitted to the jury for their consideration."

The last state witness was Cincinnati Detective Wilbert Stagenhorst. He and Detective Eugene Moore conducted most of the investigation that led to the charges against Mrs. Klumpp.

He told of questioning Mrs. Klumpp and how on Nov. 18, she finally admitted she was involved in the death of Mrs. Bergen, but claimed her love rival was shot accidentally as they grappled for a gun.

Former Champ Fritzie Zivic Says 'Patterson In 6 Rounds'

FLOYD PATTERSON
Zivic's Choice In 6 Rounds.

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

"Patterson in six rounds." That is the prediction by former welterweight champ Fritzie Zivic, who was the guest of honor at a dinner Wednesday night at American Legion Post 70 in Wellsville.

"Patterson is a good fighter," Fritzie said and "I like the way he licked Archie Moore."

"You have to stick with the champ, and Patterson is very fast," Zivic added. "Of course nobody knows too much about this Johansson."

The former boxing great from Pittsburgh spoke to 75 ring enthusiasts during the dinner sponsored by the Curbstone Coaches of Post 70.

Zivic agrees with most of the other boxing experts on tonight's heavyweight championship bout between champ Floyd Patterson and Sweden's Ingemar Johansson in Yankee Stadium.

Fritzie just shook his head when the training methods of Johansson were discussed. "I always had to work hard before every fight, especially before the title fight when I defeated Henry Armstrong for the welterweight crown."

"I ran almost every day for 15 years training for the ring," Fritzie added.

Johansson had been ridiculed for his methods, which included swimming with his fiance and playing golf in his mountain resort training camp, while Patterson was hard at work.

Zivic, known as a "terrific puncher" in the ring, made quite a hit with those who attended Wednesday night's dinner.

The jovial Zivic reviewed humerous incidents in his 20-year ring career.

One of five boxing brothers, Fritzie started fighting in 1929, turning professional in 1931.

He toured the country, won a few fights in California, then finally boxed his way back to Pittsburgh and started his climb to the title.

Fritzie recalled the night he took the crown away from Henry Armstrong with a 15-round decision in New York. Armstrong was a triple title holder owning the welterweight, lightweight and featherweight crowns at the same time.

Zivic lifted the welterweight crown from Armstrong in 1940.

He fought some of the best in his career, including Billy Conn, Al "Bummy" Davis and Sammy Agnott.

Freddy Cochrane took the championship away from Zivic at Newark, N. J., in 1941 on one of the worst decisions in the history of the ring.

Zivic said the contract called for another fight within a month, but Cochrane "ducked" into the Navy and Fritzie never got another crack at him.

The former welter champ is 45 and retired from the ring in 1947. He is now a pipe wrapper at the Stratton Dam.

Last night's "ringside dinner" brought together some of the district's topnotch boxers of the past, including Tad DiLoreto, Eddie "Kid" Woods and Al Sayre.

DiLoreto, who handles several boxers now, is a longtime friend of Zivic, while Woods fought one of Fritzie's younger brothers in the 1920's.

Mike Raffa, "the Blonde Bomber" from Newell, was unable to attend.

George Mueller served as master of ceremonies and Francis J. House was general chairman.

Following the talk by Zivic, movies of the Marciano-Moore fight were screened by Bob Carano of WFMJ-TV in Youngstown.

Champ 4-1 Choice To Defeat Swede

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, grimly determined to win the public's full acclaim, and Ingemar Johansson, just as eager to become Sweden's first world boxing champion, clash tonight — weather permitting—in their long-awaited title fight.

The 24 - year - old New Yorker, making his fifth defense of the crown, was a strong, 4-1 favorite today to beat back the challenge of the undefeated, 26-year-old European champion in the 15-rounder before 35,000 at Yankee Stadium. Starting time is 9:30 p.m. (EST).

With the bout outdoors, the weather was the main concern of the principals as they headed for the weigh-in ceremony at a midtown hotel. The forecast was for increasing cloudiness and a chance of showers in the afternoon and evening. If a postponement is necessary the fight will be held Friday night.

With the closed circuit telecast to theaters and arenas, coast-to-coast radio (ABC) and the movies thrown in, Patterson figures to make between $400,000 and $500,000 and Johansson from $150,000 to $200,000.

The lopsided odds, the picks of most of the experts for Patterson and criticism of his unique training methods —he didn't unleash his "thunderbolt" right once—apparently haven't dismayed Ingemar.

"If I hit him with my right—and I am confident I will—he will go down and out," said the optimistic Swede. Johansson speaks of his right hand as if it was not part of him but a gun instead.

"I haven't been as eager for any fight since I knocked out Archie Moore (in five rounds, 1956) to win the title," said Patterson. "He is the No. 1 contender and I want to beat the best."

The champion has been vicious and sensational in his workouts as Johansson has been tame and dull. Floyd has left no doubt that he hopes to win quickly. For the first time he has shown signs of being irked by criticism of the calibre of his title opponents. And for the first time he has become mean and surly, according to his trainer, Dan Florio.

Johansson has been idle since he flattened California Eddie Machen in the first round at Goteberg, Sweden, last Sept. 14. That made his record 21-0, including 13 knockouts.

Even if he has that great right, Ingemar may have trouble landing it squarely against the elusive, fast moving, bobbing and weaving champion.

Johansson, a strong, 198-pounder, is accustomed to fighting the standup classic style fighters of the British-European school. They don't go in much for body punching.

Patterson's style is vastly different. He holds his gloves in front of his face, peek-a-boo style, and his forearms protect his body. From that position he strikes out with flashing fists, aiming searing combinations to the body and head.

This observer believes Patterson will cut down his rival with these punishing body blows in one round. They will be using the thin, six-ounce gloves, instead of the eight-ouncers Patterson used against London.

Johansson would have to nail Patterson square and quick. But he doesn't have the speed and finesse to match the champ.

Although heavyweight fight fever gripped the city little betting action was reported on the Broadway bourse. What wagering was done was mostly on knockouts. It was 3-1 that the fight wouldn't go the route, 2-1 that Patterson would win by a kayo, and 6-1 against Johansson stopping Patterson.

Scoring of the fight will be by the rounds system. A supplementary point system also is used to break draws. The winner of each round gets from 1 to 4 points, the loser none.

Cox Construction Extends Streak To Five

4th Straight Won By Chamberlain

The Cox Construction pitching staff seems to consist of one man — Dick Chamberlain.

The veteran was called upon again Wednesday and responded with a three-hit performance as Cox defeated the Merchants, 7-1, for its fifth straight City League victory at Patterson Field.

Chamberlain has received credit for four of the five Cox victories.

The Merchants ruined his shutout by scoring their lone run in the fourth inning.

The winners collected nine hits off two Merchant hurlers. The defending champs scored their first run in the second inning, added a pair in the third, then scored two runs each in the fifth and sixth.

Chamberlain helped his own cause with two hits, including a double. First baseman Jack Call collected a pair of safeties in three trips to the plate and Bernie Allen, the Purdue star, drove in two runs with a single.

Johnny Zawoysky was the losing hurler and was relieved by Rambo in the sixth inning. Zawoysky collected two of his team's three hits.

The Merchants helped the Cox cause by coming up with four errors.

CHICAGO (AP)—National Open Champion Bill Casper today headed a field of 150 teeing off in the $57,000 Chicago Open. The 72-hole test over the exacting Gleneagles municipal fee course carries the biggest purse distribution of the summer tourney trail. The winner pockets $9,000.

Kuenn Gives Dykes Credit For Upsurge

By DAVE DILES
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Harvey Kuenn, who called Bill Norman's firing a "bum rap," says the man who succeeded Norman as manager has the Detroit Tigers thinking more about winning and less about personal glory.

Kuenn's booming bat has been a major factor as the Tigers have bounced off the American League floor and become a first place contender. But the Tiger veteran, the league's leading hitter, gives most of the credit to Jimmie Dykes.

When Norman was fired May 2, Kuenn lashed out at the Detroit management. "Bill Norman got a bum rap," Kuenn said. "It's not his fault we're not winning."

At the time, the Tigers had lost 15 of their first 17 starts. And the players were hearing old charges that they were merely fat cats contended with any old spot in the standings.

"I still don't think our early trouble can be blamed on Norman," Kuenn said. "Bill is a great guy, and he tried to relay us and lift us up. But it seemed like we kept finding ways to lose."

Kuenn said the revitalized Tigers are not so concerned about the home run they missed by inches, or the catch someone made.

"Maybe we didn't realize it before," he explained, "but I think we talked too much about the unimportant things. We didn't concentrate enough on winning."

"We know we weren't as bad as we looked early in the season. It's just that Dykes has helped us prove it."

Tridico Pitches One-Hitter In 5-0 Win For Dairymen

The final game of the first half in the Pony League found Golden Star scoring a 5-0 victory over Burbicks on an outstanding pitching performance by Jim Tridico.

The Golden Star victory threw the final standings into a three-way tie for second, with the teams showing identical 3-6 records. Littens won the first half play with a 9-0 mark.

Tridico was never better as he fanned 11 batters and gave up only one hit, a two-base knock to John Weaver.

Eddie Pruden, the losing hurler, also pitched good ball, allowing only three hits and fanning nine.

Tridico, Johnson and Conkel collected the hits.

In two other contests, Travelers took a half-game lead in the American Division with a 7-1 win over Laughlins and Medics handed McBurneys a 6-3 setback.

Keith Locke pitched and batted Travelers to victory. He hurled a three-hitter at Laughlins and belted a home run. Roy Scott also homered for the winners. Bob Woods and Larry Radcliff each had two hits.

Bob Francis had the only extra base blow for Laughlins, a double.

The Medics were aided by five errors in their victory over McBurneys. Bill Myer was the winning pitcher, allowing only two hits and fanning six.

Phil Stewart led the winners with two singles, while Frank Taylor collected both safeties for McBurneys — a home and double.

Minors Dissolved, Become Division Of Little League

The board of directors of the East Liverpool Little League announced today that the Little Minor League will be dissolved and become a division of the Little League.

Officers of the Minor League were elevated to posts in the Little League during the meeting Wednesday night at the Travelers Hotel.

Harry Podwell became assistant to the Little League commissioner, William Kelly was named assistant to the president of the National League and Clarence Ammon assistant to the president of the American Loop.

Dave McDonald was named assistant to the treasurer and Ted Morgan assistant to the secretary.

The Little Minor League will finish this season with its present officers, but next season will become a division of the Little League.

Larry (Bobo) Osborne, rookie Detroit first baseman, is a graduate of the Carolina League. He played for the Durham Bulls in 1954.

Yesterday's Stars

Pitching — Jim Brosnan, Reds, blanked the Cubs 5-0 on four singles, walking three and striking out seven for first complete game in more than a year and first shutout in three seasons.

Hitting — Don Buddin, Pete Runnels, Red Sox, each had three hits and each had an RBI single in deciding, two-run seventh inning that beat the Tigers 4-2.

Will Cruise 31-Mile Route

Eisenhower, Queen Await Ceremonies For Seaway

MONTREAL (AP) — President Eisenhower, who shuns the U. S. presidential yacht, will board Queen Elizabeth's plush Britannia Friday and cruise with the Queen along 31 miles of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

The two chiefs of state will meet at Montreal to formally open the seaway, the joint U.S. - Canadian project that can bring three-fourths of the world's ships to the heartland of America.

A cruise aboard the six million dollar yacht Britannia will take them to Beauharnois, Que., from the seaway entrance at St. Lambert. They will go through the first two in a series of locks, the liquid stairways which lift shipping 224 feet from the St. Lawrence River into Lake Ontario.

Seaway authorities are still ironing out kinks. But two months of operation have proved the system works. More than 1,500 ships have used the waterway since it opened April 25.

Friday, in less than 12 hours, the President will fly, walk, motor and sail about 1,000 miles.

Flying from Washington, Eisenhower will land in his plane Columbine III at the St. Hubert Air Base. This jet fighter center eight miles east of Montreal is a unit in the North America Air Defense network that maintains contact 24 hours a day with NORAD headquarters at Colorado Springs, Colo. About 17,000 persons, some of them Americans, work at St. Hubert.

Elizabeth will meet the President there.

Even during the royal greetings a group of pilots will be in the ready room, set to take off in CF-100 jet interceptors if northern radar stations signal an attack.

There will be a 21-gun salute for the President. While the Queen watches, Eisenhower is to inspect a 100-man honor guard.

Then Elizabeth and the President, along with Canada's Prime Minister John Diefenbaker will drive to the Queen's yacht anchored at St. Lambert, across the St. Lawrence from Montreal.

A 21-gun salute by a Canadian warship will send the yacht on her way up the seaway canal.

The Britannia is to pass through symbolic gates in the canal to formally start the seaway on its career.

The party will dine aboard the yacht, watching out portholes and pass Canadian and American warships in line in Lake St. Louis.

At the Beauharnois Locks, 31 miles up the 185-mile-long seaway channel to Lake Ontario, the President is to take leave of the Queen to return to Washington.

Eisenhower will spend five hours board the Britannia. Whether the trip changes his mind about the use of yachts remains to be seen. He ordered the presidential yacht Williamsburg out of commission in 1953, calling it a symbol of needless luxury.

The Queen Friday will be repaying Eisenhower for the hospitality he showed her and Prince Philip when they visited Washington in 1957. This time she is visiting only one city in the United States, Chicago.

Bunt Causes Damage As Baltimore Trips Cleveland, 7-4

Dodgers Press Bid For Lead By Winning Third Straight

Cleveland's Margin Cut To Half Game By Defeat

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians put their first place lead—a shaky half-game advantage—on the line against the Baltimore Orioles today with a rookie pitcher who has never been on the Municipal Stadium mound.

Young Bobby Locke (0-0) faces the Orioles' veteran knuckle ball ace, Hoyt Wilhelm (9-2) in the game the Indians must win to stay atop the American League race.

The Orioles moved into the second place spot with a 7-4 victory over Cleveland Wednesday night, making it two in a row over the Tribe. Baltimore won it with three runs in the ninth inning.

In a game in which six home runs were struck, four by Baltimore, it was a little bunt that proved to be the biggest hit of the game. With two runners on and none out, Dick Brodowski came in to relieve Herb Score, who took his fifth loss against seven victories.

Bob Boyd laid down a neat bunt along the third base line and beat it out. Brodowski fielded the ball and hurrying his throw, heaved it over first baseman Vic Power's head and two runners scored. Boyd then scored on a long sacrifice fly to close out the scoring.

The Indians broke on top after Woodie Held walked and Tito Francona homered into the right field seats in the first inning.

But Score really got bombed by the Orioles in the fourth when he gave up three solo homers — by Gus Triandos (No. 18), Walt Dropo and Billy Gardner.

Bob Nieman added another homer against Score in the sixth to give the Orioles a 4-3 lead. Cleveland tied it up in its half of the inning on doubles by Power and Rocky Colavito. It rode that way until the ninth when the bunt and Brodowski's two-base error spelled defeat for Cleveland.

Braves Win; Giants Nip Pittsburgh In Ninth, 4-3

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Los Angeles Dodgers made it eight out of 11 on their current home stand, which they started in fifth place, and swept their third straight from Philadelphia Wednesday night, 9-6. That tightened their grip on third, just a game behind San Francisco and only three short of first place Milwaukee.

The Braves retained their two-game lead by beating St. Louis 4-0, in a game ended in the seventh inning by rain, after San Francisco had defeated Pittsburgh 4-3. Cincinnati whipped the Chicago Cubs 5-0.

In the American Leaague, Baltimore took second and trimmed Cleveland's lead to a half game by beating the Indians 7-4. Washington skidded Chicago's White Sox to third, 4-2. Kansas City beat New York 4-3, and Boston defeated Detroit 4-2.

A two-run homer by Wally Moon extending his hitting streak to 17 games, broke a 6-6 tie in the sixth inning for the Dodgers, who had blown a 6-1 lead. Don Demeter drove in three runs for Los Angeles with a double, triple and his 15th homer. Roger Craig, now 2-0 since his recall from the minors last week, was the winner, but needed Clem Labine's four-hit, shutout relief after the Phils tied it with a four-run sixth.

Wally Post and Valmy Thomas homered for the last place Phils. Don Cardwell (1-5) was the loser in relief.

Milwaukee's Joey Jay (3-5) gave up eight hits and three walks, but gained his first victory since May 19 after Hank Aaron belted his 20th homer, with two on, in a four-run first. Rookie Dick Ricketts (0-3) lost it as the Cards dropped back to seventh place with their third straight defeat after winning 11 of 14.

Right - hander Jim Brosnan blanked the Cubs on four hits for his second shutout in the majors and first nine-inning job in 13 starts since Memorial Day, 1958. Brosnan (3-3) got this one by giving up nothing but singles. He walked three, struck out seven.

The Reds backed him with a four-run first against loser Dick Drott (1-2) after two were out. Ed Bailey's two-run homer capped it.

A bases-loaded error by center fielder Bill Virdon, whose single had given Pittsburgh a 3-3 tie in the top of the frame, gave the Giants the winning run in the ninth. Virdon dropped a bloop fly by pinch-hitter Leon Wagner after colliding with second baseman Bill Mazeroski. Mike McCormick (5-7) was the winner, with Bennie Daniels (4-6) the loser, both in relief. The Bucs' Dick Stuart and San Francisco's Willie Kirkland swapped 400-foot-plus home runs.

White Sox Skid To Third After Loss To Washington

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

There's something about a Baltimore bunt that makes Cleveland's Tribe a bunch of dead Injuns.

Remember when the Orioles gained a share of the American League lead two weeks ago? They did it when the Indians goofed twice on a bunt that scored three runs.

Wednesday night, the Orioles were at it again, jumping into second place, a half-game behind the front-stumbling Indians, when an error on a bunt gave them three ninth-inning runs for a 7-4 victory at Cleveland.

It was the fifth defeat in seven games for the Indians while Baltimore, scoring its first four runs on solo homers by Gus Triandos, Walt Dropo, Billy Gardner and Bob Nieman, leap-frogged the Chicago White Sox with its sixth victory in eight games.

The White Sox skidded to third with a 4-2 defeat by Washington, their sixth loss in eight games. Kansas City barred New York's chance for a third place tie by beating the Yankees 4-3. Boston held Detroit in fifth, handing the Tigers their fourth straight defeat 4-2.

In the National League, Milwaukee retained a two-game lead with a 4-0 victory over St. Louis in a game ended in the seventh inning by rain. Second place San Francisco defeated Pittsburgh 4-3, staying a game ahead of the Los Angeles Dodgers, who beat Philadelphia 9-6. Cincinnati defeated the Chicago Cubs 5-0.

The Orioles opened their winning ninth with singles by Gardner and pinch-hitter Gene Woodling that chased southpaw Herb Score. Both scored when reliever Dick Brodowski threw wild after fielding a bunt by Bob Boyd, hitting for winner Hec Brown (5-2). Boyd went to third on the error and scored on Jim Finigan's sacrifice fly.

Brown, now 4-0 against the Indians since 1956, gave up only five hits, two of them homers by Tito Francona and Minnie Minoso. Billy Loes saved it with a perfect mop-up in the ninth.

The A's, who had lost seven of nine to the Yankees, stopped that nonsense behind the seven-hit pitching of southpaw Bud Daley (7-5). Dick Williams figured in all the Kansas City runs, hitting a two-run homer in the fifth against loser Jim Bronstad and singling along with Bill Tuttle and Roger Maris for the clincher in the seventh against reliever Jim Coates.

The last-place Senators beat the usually sure-fielding White Sox with three unearned runs in the ninth. Singles by Jim Lemon, Roy Sievers and Ken Aspromonte, plus errors by Luis Aparicio and Earl Torgeson, tagged Dick Donovan (4-5) with the defeat. Tex Clevenger (4-1) was the winner.

Don Buddin and Pete Runnels each had three hits for Boston and had RBI singles, in a winning two-run seventh against loser Don Mossi (5-3). Mike Fornieles' perfect 2 2-3 relief innings saved it for Jack Harshman (2-6).

Brosnan Wins For Reds, 5-0

CINCINNATI (AP) — A castoff pitcher, who says he'd rather be a starter because he can make more money, apparently has found a home here—in his home town.

Jim Brosnan, a graduate of baseball - powered Elder High School, gave the Chicago Cubs only four hits—all singles—Wednesday night as he hurled the Cincinnati Reds to a 5-0 victory.

The win was the right-hander's second in as many starts since he came here two weeks ago from St. Louis in a trade for Hal Jeffcoat. It was his first complete game of the year and his second shutout in the majors.

Used mainly as a relief pitcher with the Cardinals, Brosnan said he thought he'd rather be a starter because "you win more games being a starter and they pay you by how many games you win."

The bespectacled 29-year-old entered pro baseball in the Cubs' organization in 1947 after graduation from high school. He hurled with Chicago in 1954, 1956 and 1957, then was traded to the Cards.

In Chicago, he compiled an 11-14 record and last year won 11 and lost 8 in St. Louis. Before coming here he had a 1-3 mark.

Brosnan, a 6-foot-4, 21-pounder, credited Redlegs' pitching coach Clyde King with ironing out several pitching problems he had had.

"I used to be too careful and apparently lacked self-confidence so I used too many pitches and would be worked out by the fifth or sixth inning," Brosnan said.

"Now, I come right in; I guess because I'm a little more sure of myself."

Wednesday night, Brosnan faced only 32 men. He struck out seven and walked two. Only one Cub reached third base.

The Reds scored four of their runs in the first inning when Jerry Lynch walked, Frank Robinson doubled, Gus Bell singled and Ed Bailey cleaned the bases with a home run, his fifth.

Cincinnati got its other run in the fifth on a leadoff double by Robinson and a single by Bell.

Tonight, Bob Purkey will start for the Reds and Bob Anderson will open for Chicago.

National League managers Fred Haney, Walter Alston, Bill Rigney, Danny Murtaugh and Solly Hemus did most of their playing as infielders.

Olmedo Gets His Chance To Avenge Earlier Loss

By STERLING SLAPPEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Alex Olmedo get his chance for revenge today.

The United States Davis Cup star from Peru meets Ramanathan Krishnan of India, probably the best non-seeded player in the tournament, in the third round of the All-England Tennis Championships.

Last week Krishnan whipped Olmedo in three sets in the semi-finals of the London Championships at Queen's Club. The quiet spoken Preuvian has vowed it'll not happen again, especially at Wimbledon where he is seeded No. 1.

But Krishnan went into the match saying:

"I've got nothing to loose. I'm going for everything and I might beat him again."

The 23-year old Olmedo had all his strokes working Wednesday as he polished off 17-year old Rodney Mandelstam of South Africa, 6-1, 6-1, 6-3, in 55 minutes, Krishnan, a year younger than Olmedo, disposed of Bob Phillips - Moore of Australia, 6-2, 6-2, 6-2.

While rain interrupted play in this 82-year old tournament seven times Wednesday, causing a revamping of the schedule, many of the 20,000 fans turned to the discussion of Olmedo's chances and the sparkling play of 18-year-old Earl Buchholz of St. Louis.

It was a question which was the most important — the victory of America's top young prospect, the triumph of Olmedo or the defeat of Kurt Nielsen of Denmark.

Before, between and after the showers, Buchholz defeated Gordon Forbes of South Africa, 3-6, 7-5, 11-9, 10-8 although suffering from a slightly strained stomach muscle.

Nielsen lost to Rod Laver of Australia, 10-8, 6-4, 7-5.

Two top seeded men now have failed to survive two rounds. Nielsen was seventh seeded. In a first round match Monday, Buchholz eliminted third seeded Nicola Pietrangeli of Italy.

Barry Mackay of Dayton, Ohio, won 6-4, 6-3, 3-6, 6-1 victory over Vladimer Skonecki of Poland.

Five of the 12 tackles on North Carolina State's spring football roster com from Pennsylvania.

Post 374 Gains Finals On Burks' Two-Hitter

East Liverpool American Legion Post 374 is one victory away from another Columbiana County baseball title after Jim Burks pitched the locals to a 6-0 victory over Columbiana Wednesday.

Post 374 will meet the winner of the Columbiana-Salem game on Saturday at 3 p. m. at Columbiana.

The Post 374 nine has defeated Salem and Columbiana in the double-elimination tourney. Another victory Saturday will send the East Liverpool entry to the district legion finals at Dover on July 4-5.

Burks, a southpaw, shut out Columbiana on just two hits and struck out 12 batters over the seven innings.

His teammates came up with a solid 12-hit attack led by Kenny Cunningham. The hard-hitting second baseman clubbed a home run and two singles, while Jimmy Miles, Ken Miller and Burks collected two hits apiece.

Fritch and Perkins were the only Columbiana batters to solve Burks' delivery.

Former Champ Fritzie Zivic Says 'Patterson In 6 Rounds'

FLOYD PATTERSON
Zivic's Choice In 6 Rounds.

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

"Patterson in six rounds." That is the prediction by former welterweight champ Fritzie Zivic, who was the guest of honor at a dinner Wednesday night at American Legion Post 70 in Wellsville.

"Patterson is a good fighter," Fritzie said and "I like the way he licked Archie Moore."

"You have to stick with the champ, and Patterson is very fast," Zivic added. "Of course nobody knows too much about this Johansson."

The former boxing great from Pittsburgh spoke to 75 ring enthusiasts during the dinner sponsored by the Curbstone Coaches of Post 70.

Zivic agrees with most of the other boxing experts on tonight's heavyweight championship bout between champ Floyd Patterson and Sweden's Ingemar Johansson in Yankee Stadium.

Fritzie just shook his head when the training methods of Johansson were discussed. "I always had to work hard before every fight, especially before the title fight when I defeated Henry Armstrong for the welterweight crown."

"I ran almost every day for 15 years training for the ring," Fritzie added.

Johansson had been ridiculed for his methods, which included swimming with his fiance and playing golf in his mountain resort training camp, while Patterson was hard at work.

Zivic, known as a "terrific puncher" in the ring, made quite a hit with those who attended Wednesday night's dinner.

The jovial Zivic reviewed humerous incidents in his 20-year ring career.

One of five boxing brothers, Fritzie started fighting in 1929, turning professional in 1931.

He toured the country, won a few fights in California, then finally boxed his way back to Pittsburgh and started his climb to the title.

Fritzie recalled the night he took the crown away from Henry Armstrong with a 15-round decision in New York. Armstrong was a triple title holder owning the welterweight, lightweight and featherweight crowns at the same time.

Zivic lifted the welterweight crown from Armstrong in 1940.

He fought some of the best in his career, including Billy Conn, Al "Bummy" Davis and Sammy Agnott.

Freddy Cochrane took the championship away from Zivic at Newark, N. J., in 1941 on one of the worst decisions in the history of the ring.

Zivic said the contract called for another fight within a month, but Cochrane "ducked" into the Navy and Fritzie never got another crack at him.

The former welter champ is 45 and retired from the ring in 1947.

He is now a pipe wrapper at the Stratton Dam.

Last night's "ringside dinner" brought together some of the district's topnotch boxers of the past, including Tad DiLoreto, Eddie "Kid" Woods and Al Sayre.

DiLoreto, who handles several boxers now, is a longtime friend of Zivic, while Woods fought one of Fritzie's younger brothers in the 1920's.

Mike Raffa, "the Blonde Bomber" from Newell, was unable to attend.

George Mueller served as master of ceremonies and Francis J. House was general chairman.

Following the talk by Zivic, movies of the Marciano-Moore fight were screened by Bob Carano of WFMJ-TV in Youngstown.

Champ 4-1 Choice To Defeat Swede

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, grimly determined to win the public's full acclaim, and Ingemar Johansson, just as eager to become Sweden's first world boxing champion, clash tonight — weather permitting—in their long-awaited title fight.

The 24 - year - old New Yorker, making his fifth defense of the crown, was a strong, 4-1 favorite today to beat back the challenge of the undefeated, 26-year-old European champion in the 15-rounder before 35,000 at Yankee Stadium. Starting time is 9:30 p.m. (EST).

With the bout outdoors, the weather was the main concern of the principals as they headed for the weigh-in ceremony at a mid-town hotel. The forecast was for increasing cloudiness and a chance of showers in the afternoon and evening. If a postponement is necessary the fight will be held Friday night.

With the closed circuit telecast to theaters and arenas, coast-to-coast radio (ABC) and the movies thrown in, Patterson figures to make between $400,000 and $500,000 and Johansson from $150,000 to $200,000.

The lopsided odds, the picks of most of the experts for Patterson and criticism of his unique training methods —he didn't unleash his "thunderbolt" right once—apparently haven't dismayed Ingemar.

"If I hit him with my right—and I am confident I will—he will go down and out," said the optimistic Swede. Johansson speaks of his right hand as if it was not part of him but a gun instead.

"I haven't been as eager for any fight since I knocked out Archie Moore (in five rounds, 1956) to win the title," said Patterson. "He is the No. 1 contender and I want to beat the best."

The champion has been vicious and sensational in his workouts as Johansson has been tame and dull. Floyd has left no doubt that he hopes to win quickly. For the first time he has shown signs of being irked by criticism of the calibre of his title opponents. And for the first time he has become mean and surly, according to his trainer, Dan Florio.

Johansson has been idle since he flattened California Eddie Machen in the first round at Goteberg, Sweden, last Sept. 14. That made his record 21-0, including 13 knockouts.

Even if he has that great right, Ingemar may have trouble landing it squarely against the elusive, fast moving, bobbing and weaving champion.

Johansson, a strong, 198-pounder, is accustomed to fighting the standup classic style fighters of the British-European school. They don't go in much for body punching.

Patterson's style is vastly different. He holds his gloves in front of his face, peek-a-boo style, and his forearms protect his body. From that position he strikes out with flashing fists, aiming searing combinations to the body and head.

This observer believes Patterson will cut down his rival with these punishing body blows in one round. They will be using the thin, six-ounce gloves, instead of the eight-ouncers Patterson used against London.

Johansson would have to nail Patterson square and quick. But he doesn't have the speed and finesse to match the champ.

Although heavyweight fight fever gripped the city little betting action was reported on the Broadway bourse. What wagering was done was mostly on knockouts. It was 3-1 that the fight wouldn't go the route, 2-1 that Patterson would win by a kayo, and 6-1 against Johansson stopping Patterson.

Scoring of the fight will be by the rounds system. A supplementary point system also is used to break draws. The winner of each round gets from 1 to 4 points, the loser none.

Cox Construction Extends Streak To Five

The Cox Construction pitching staff seems to consist of one man — Dick Chamberlain.

The veteran was called upon again Wednesday and responded with a three-hit performance as Cox defeated the Merchants, 7-1, for its fifth straight City League victory at Patterson Field.

Chamberlain has received credit for four of the five Cox victories.

The Merchants ruined his shutout by scoring their lone run in the fourth inning.

The winners collected nine hits off two Merchant hurlers. The defending champs scored their first run in the second inning, added a pair in the third, then scored two runs each in the fifth and sixth.

Chamberlain helped his own cause with two hits, including a double. First baseman Jack Call collected a pair of safeties in three trips to the plate and Bernie Allen, the Purdue star, drove in two runs with a single.

Johnny Zawoysky was the losing hurler and was relieved by Rambo in the sixth inning. Zawoysky collected two of his team's three hits.

The Merchants helped the Cox cause by coming up with four errors.

Kuenn Gives Dykes Credit For Upsurge

By DAVE DILES
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Harvey Kuenn, who called Bill Norman's firing a "bum rap," says the man who succeeded Norman as manager has the Detroit Tigers thinking more about winning and less about personal glory.

Kuenn's booming bat has been a major factor as the Tigers have bounced off the American League floor and become a first place contender. But the Tiger veteran, the league's leading hitter, gives most of the credit to Jimmie Dykes.

When Norman was fired May 2, Kuenn lashed out at the Detroit management. "Bill Norman got a bum rap," Kuenn said. "It's not his fault we're not winning."

At the time, the Tigers had lost 15 of their first 17 starts. And the players were hearing old charges that they were merely fat cats contended with any old spot in the standings.

"I still don't think our early trouble can be blamed on Norman," Kuenn said. "Bill is a great guy, and he tried to relay us and lift us up. But it seemed like we kept finding ways to lose."

Kuenn said the revitalized Tigers are not so concerned about the home run they missed by inches, or the catch someone made.

"Maybe we didn't realize it before," he explained, "but I think we talked too much about the unimportant things. We didn't concentrate enough on winning."

"We know we weren't as bad as we looked early in the season. It's just that Dykes has helped us prove it."

Tridico Pitches One-Hitter In 5-0 Win For Dairymen

The final game of the first half in the Pony League found Golden Star scoring a 5-0 victory over Burbicks on an outstanding pitching performance by Jim Tridico.

The Golden Star victory threw the final standings into a three-way tie for second, with the teams showing identical 3-6 records. Littens won the first half play with a 9-0 mark.

Tridico was never better as he fanned 11 batters and gave up only one hit, a two-base knock to John Weaver.

Eddie Pruden, the losing hurler, also pitched good ball, allowing only three hits and fanning nine.

Tridico, Johnson and Conkel collected the hits.

In two other contests, Travelers took a half-game lead in the American Division with a 7-1 win over Laughlins and Medics handed McBurneys a 6-3 setback.

Keith Locke pitched and batted Travelers to victory. He hurled a three-hitter at Laughlins and belted a home run. Roy Scott also homered for the winners. Bob Woods and Larry Radcliff each had two hits.

Bob Francis had the only extra base blow for Laughlins, a double.

The Medics were aided by five errors in their victory over McBurneys. Bill Myer was the winning pitcher, allowing only two hits and fanning six.

Minors Dissolved, Become Division Of Little League

The board of directors of the East Liverpool Little League announced today that the Little Minor League will be dissolved and become a division of the Little League.

Officers of the Minor League were elevated to posts in the Little League during the meeting Wednesday night at the Travelers Hotel.

Harry Podwell became assistant to the Little League commissioner, William Kelly was named assistant to the president of the National League and Clarence Ammon assistant to the president of the American Loop.

Dave McDonald was named assistant to the treasurer and Ted Morgan assistant to the secretary.

The Little Minor League will finish this season with its present officers, but next season will become a division of the Little League.

Larry (Bobo) Osborne, rookie Detroit first baseman, is a graduate of the Carolina League. He played for the Durham Bulls in 1954.

Yesterday's Stars

Pitching — Jim Brosnan, Reds, blanked the Cubs 5-0 on four singles, walking three and striking out seven for first complete game in more than a year and first shutout in three seasons.

Hitting — Don Buddin, Pete Runnels, Red Sox, each had three hits and each had an RBI single in deciding, two-run seventh inning that beat the Tigers 4-2.

Game Courts Plan Reviewed

Plans for the construction of a volley ball-basketball court at the Chester City Park were reviewed at a meeting of the Park Commission Wednesday night at the City Hall.

Estimates are being sought for installation of either a blacktop or concrete court. The commission is studying the possibility of having a curb installed around a concrete court to provide facilities for ice skating in the winter.

Plans call for volunteers to construct the foundation forms.

A volunteer work session is slated Saturday morning at 8 at the community building, Harold Dickey, chairman, said.

Dickey reported Miss Doris Bourne of Virginia Ave. has been provided by the East Liverpool Recreation Council as a supervisor at the City Park playground.

New equipment has been installed and completion of the erection of a merry-go-round device is slated next week. Dickey said between 75 and 100 youngsters have attended the playlot since it was opened earlier this month.

Miss Sara Thomas, treasurer, reported about $400 has been contributed to park funds in the current quarterly free-will offering campaign in which letters were mailed to area residents.

The next meeting will be July 8.

Backtracking Banned For City Trash Trucks

Incinerator Supt. James A. McKinnon today reminded householders they must put trash containers at the property line the night before a scheduled semi-monthly collection because backtracking is banned for the department's trucks in cases where refuse is put out belatedly.

Since the collection trucks start their rounds at 7 each morning, householders must place the trash at the front or rear property line and the night before to assure it will not be missed, McKinnon added. He said the department receives frequent complaints from householders who put out their trash after the trucks have passed, then declare that it was overlooked.

Hancock Red Cross Aide Has Served For 23 Years

By CHARLES CRONIN

The dark, grim days of World War II, when surgical dressing sessions were commonplace, are recalled today by a Newell woman on the 100th anniversary of the idea which sparked the organizing of the American Red Cross.

Mrs. Ruth A. Sprouse, 208 Grant St., a volunteer Red Cross worker for 23 years, vividly recalls when women of the Chester-Newell area gathered in a hushed atmosphere to prepare bandages and dressings for wounds of the injured at the front.

She particularly remembers how active the Red Cross was in the war days, when the organization took charge of supervising the calls for volunteer blood donors and conducted fund campaigns to help with the nation's defense program.

—:—

MRS. SPROUSE was the first chairman of what is now the North Hancock County Chapter of the Red Cross and is its present executive secretary.

Today—on the 100th anniversary of the Red Cross—no special activities are being held by chapters in Newell or East Liverpool, although posters have been distributed in commemoration of the event.

However, the unveiling of a stone monument in Solferino, Italy, officially marks the 100th anniversary of a famous battle out of which originated the Red Cross.

The Solferino battlefield in 1859 was the scene of a bloody conflict in which there were 39,000 casualties in less than 12 hours of fighting between a French-Sardinian force united against the Austrians in an effort to settle Italy's political future by clash of arms.

—:—

THERE WAS little provision for the wounded, most of whom were left to care for themselves on the battlefield when opposing forces retired from the fight.

The day after the battle, Henri Dunant, a young Swiss philanthropist and businessman traveling in Italy, came upon the nightmarish battlefield scene.

He wrote later that "bodies of men and horses covered the battlefield; the approaches to Solferino were literally thick with dead; corpses were strewn over the roads, ditches and fields."

"The poor wounded men...were ghastly pale and exhausted. Some, who had gaping wounds already beginning to show infection, were almost crazed with suffering. They begged to be put out of their misery, and writhed with faces distorted in the grip of the death struggle."

—:—

APPALLED BY the suffering, Dunant organized aid from the nearby village of Castiglione. The group carried the wounded out of the blazing sun and did what little they could for them, records show.

The idea of the Red Cross came from the suffering there, as Dunant was haunted by the experience and published a volume recounting the horror of the battle.

Today, on the centenary of the birth of the idea, there are 82 nations who have Red Cross societies performing humanitarian services.

The work that was begun at Solferino for the servicemen of that day has undergone many adaptations and refinements.

In this country, Dunant's basic idea was broadened by Clara Barton to include relief to the victims of disaster as well as war. Later, the service was again broadened to include nurses practicing through the Red Cross.

—:—

MRS. SPROUSE started in Red Cross volunteer work in 1936 because, she said, "it afforded an opportunity to help people whom I was not able to help otherwise."

She remembers that this was the year of the famous flood and that the organization aided in evacuation of nearly all residents of the Congo area, left homeless by the raging waters of the Ohio River.

It was in that year that Mrs. Sprouse became chairman of what is now the North Hancock County Chapter, which serves the Chester-Newell-New Cumberland areas.

Later, when the chapter's executive secretary— Mrs. Robert Crawford—left for a trip to Hawaii, Mrs. Sprouse filled the secretarial vacancy and held the post for 10 years. Sidney Porter was then chairman.

—:—

SHE SERVED as executive secretary for 13 years, including most of the period spanning World War II when one of the most interesting aspects of Red Cross work was blood collection, she said.

Headquarters for blood donors in the war years was the Chester American Legion Post, with collections taken two or three times a year.

The final collection of blood by the chapter was in 1953 when it was held in Plant No. 6 of the Homer Laughlin China Co. at Newell.

The chapter guided the preparation of approximately one million bandage dressings for servicemen over a decade ago. Mrs. Sprouse recalls that area women would gather each afternoon in the Aaron Building in Newell around large tables lined with materials and diagrams showing methods of correct preparation.

Sanitation was a "must," Mrs. Sprouse pointed out, and women had to work while wearing clean, washable clothing, their hair swept back and covered.

THE ABSENCE of any jewelry was very noticable, she recalls, with watches, rings or earrings banned while working.

Mrs. Clyde Cozzens and Mrs. Martha Higgins supervised daily sessions, Mrs. Sprouse said.

Though the chapter spearheaded many fund-raising campaigns, Mrs. Sprouse remembers one in particular when $15,000 was raised in a single night for the nation's war effort.

From the days of ration stamps and the "black market" to the Cold War of today, the chapter has remained organized for the welfare of the nearby communities, although its principal functions now are in an emergency capacity, more or less, Mrs. Sprouse commented.

HELPING TO provide emergency leaves for servicemen and their families is its main function, although the chapter is planning to sponsor swimming and water safety classes this summer at Tomlinson Run State Park.

The unit proved that it still is able to assist in local emergencies when a flood struck in New Cumberland this winter. The chapter organized volunteers to evacuate 100 families and spent $275 aiding the stricken residents of the county seat.

Mrs. Sprouse said future plans include enlistment "on a small scale" of volunteers for canteen service, Nurses Aides and "Grey Ladies" who will assist in comforting patients in area rest homes.

The chapter's "loan cabinet" of hospital supplies is still used daily by residents of the county. Available are hospital beds, linens, invalid cushions and other equipment, all free of charge, she said.

—:—

OTHER CHAIRMEN of the unit have been E. R. Chandler, Alvin West, V. R. Zerkle and the Rev. William H. Flurkey, present chapter chairman.

Tentative plans call for the anniversary year of the Red Cross idea to be further celebrated in October.

VETERAN ON DUTY. Mrs. Ruth Sprouse probably has more chevrons on her sleeve than any other Red Cross volunteer in the Tri-State area. She has served 23 years. Secretary of the North Hancock County chapter, she is shown at her desk in the Newell headquarters.

Cambridge, Mass., where Harvard University is located, was originally named New Towne.

Ayres Backs Rights

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. William H. Ayres was the only member of the Ohio GOP delegation in the House to vote for passage of the states rights bill. He was joined by seven Ohio Democrats as the House passed the measure Wednesday, 225-192, and sent it to the Senate. Ayres' 13 Republican colleagues from Ohio all voted against the bill. Rep. Robert E. Cook (D-Ohio) did not vote, but was recorded on the roll call as being against the bill.

Bunt Causes Damage As Baltimore Trips Cleveland, 7-4

Dodgers Press Bid For Lead By Winning Third Straight

Cleveland's Margin Cut To Half Game By Defeat

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians put their first place lead—a shaky half-game advantage—on the line against the Baltimore Orioles today with a rookie pitcher who has never been on the Municipal Stadium mound.

Young Bobby Locke (0-0) faces the Orioles' veteran knuckle ball ace, Hoyt Wilhelm (9-2) in the game the Indians must win to stay atop the American League race.

The Orioles moved into the second place spot with a 7-4 victory over Cleveland Wednesday night, making it two in a row over the Tribe. Baltimore won it with three runs in the ninth inning.

In a game in which six home runs were struck, four by Baltimore, it was a little bunt that proved to be the biggest hit of the game. With two runners on and none out, Dick Brodowski came in to relieve Herb Score, who took his fifth loss against seven victories.

Bob Boyd laid down a neat bunt along the third base line and beat it out. Brodowski fielded the ball and hurrying his throw, heaved it over first baseman Vic Power's head and two runners scored. Boyd then scored on a long sacrifice fly to close out the scoring.

The Indians broke on top after Woodie Held walked and Tito Francona homered into the right field seats in the first inning.

But Score really got bombed by the Orioles in the fourth when he gave up three solo homers — by Gus Triandos (No. 18), Walt Dropo and Billy Gardner.

Bob Nieman added another homer against Score in the sixth to give the Orioles a 4-3 lead. Cleveland tied it up in its half of the inning on doubles by Power and Rocky Colavito. It rode that way until the ninth when the bunt and Brodowski's two-base error spelled defeat for Cleveland.

Braves Win; Giants Nip Pittsburgh In Ninth, 4-3

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Los Angeles Dodgers made it eight out of 11 on their current home stand, which they started in fifth place, and swept their third straight from Philadelphia Wednesday night, 9-6. That tightened their grip on third, just a game behind San Francisco and only three short of first place Milwaukee.

The Braves retained their two-game lead by beating St. Louis 4-0, in a game ended in the seventh inning by rain, after San Francisco had defeated Pittsburgh 4-3. Cincinnati whipped the Chicago Cubs 5-0.

In the American Leaague, Baltimore took second and trimmed Cleveland's lead to a half game by beating the Indians 7-4. Washington skidded Chicago's White Sox to third, 4-2. Kansas City beat New York 4-3, and Boston defeated Detroit 4-2.

A two-run homer by Wally Moon extending his hitting streak to 17 games, broke a 6-6 tie in the sixth inning for the Dodgers, who had blown a 6-1 lead. Don Demeter drove in three runs for Los Angeles with a double, triple and his 15th homer. Roger Craig, now 2-0 since his recall from the minors last week, was the winner, but needed Clem Labine's four-hit, shutout relief after the Phils tied it with a four-run sixth.

Wally Post and Valmy Thomas homered for the last place Phils. Don Cardwell (1-5) was the loser in relief.

Milwaukee's Joey Jay (3-5) gave up eight hits and three walks, but gained his first victory since May 19 after Hank Aaron belted his 20th homer, with two on, in a four-run first. Rookie Dick Ricketts (0-3) lost it as the Cards dropped back to seventh place with their third straight defeat after winning 11 of 14.

Right - hander Jim Brosnan blanked the Cubs on four hits for his second shutout in the majors and first nine-inning job in 13 starts since Memorial Day, 1958. Brosnan (3-3) got this one by giving up nothing but singles. He walked three, struck out seven.

The Reds backed him with a four-run first against loser Dick Drott (1-2) after two were out. Ed Bailey's two-run homer capped it.

A bases-loaded error by center fielder Bill Virdon, whose single had given Pittsburgh a 3-3 tie in the top of the frame, gave the Giants the winning run in the ninth. Virdon dropped a bloop fly by pinch-hitter Leon Wagner after colliding with second baseman Bill Mazeroski. Mike McCormick (5-7) was the winner, with Bennie Daniels (4-6) the loser, both in relief. The Bucs' Dick Stuart and San Francisco's Willie Kirkland swapped 400-foot-plus home runs.

White Sox Skid To Third After Loss To Washington

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

There's something about a Baltimore bunt that makes Cleveland's Tribe a bunch of dead Injuns.

Remember when the Orioles gained a share of the American League lead two weeks ago? They did it when the Indians goofed twice on a bunt that scored three runs.

Wednesday night, the Orioles were at it again, jumping into second place, a half-game behind the front-stumbling Indians, when an error on a bunt gave them three ninth-inning runs for a 7-4 victory at Cleveland.

It was the fifth defeat in seven games for the Indians while Baltimore, scoring its first four runs on solo homers by Gus Triandos, Walt Dropo, Billy Gardner and Bob Nieman, leap-frogged the Chicago White Sox with its sixth victory in eight games.

The White Sox skidded to third with a 4-2 defeat by Washington, their sixth loss in eight games. Kansas City barred New York's chance for a third place tie by beating the Yankees 4-3. Boston held Detroit in fifth, handing the Tigers their fourth straight defeat 4-2.

In the National League, Milwaukee retained a two-game lead with a 4-0 victory over St. Louis in a game ended in the seventh inning by rain. Second place San Francisco defeated Pittsburgh 4-3, staying a game ahead of the Los Angeles Dodgers, who beat Philadelphia 9-6. Cincinnati defeated the Chicago Cubs 5-0.

The Orioles opened their winning ninth with singles by Gardner and pinch-hitter Gene Woodling that chased southpaw Herb Score. Both scored when reliever Dick Brodowski threw wild after fielding a bunt by Bob Boyd, hitting for winner Hec Brown (5-2). Boyd went to third on the error and scored on Jim Finigan's sacrifice fly.

Brown, now 4-0 against the Indians since 1956, gave up only five hits, two of them homers by Tito Francona and Minnie Minoso. Billy Loes saved it with a perfect mop-up in the ninth.

The A's, who had lost seven of nine to the Yankees, stopped that nonsense behind the seven-hit pitching of southpaw Bud Daley (7-5). Dick Williams figured in all the Kansas City runs, hitting a two-run homer in the fifth against loser Jim Bronstad and singling along with Bill Tuttle and Roger Maris for the clincher in the seventh against reliever Jim Coates.

The last-place Senators beat the usually sure-fielding White Sox with three unearned runs in the ninth. Singles by Jim Lemon, Roy Sievers and Ken Aspromonte, plus errors by Luis Aparicio and Earl Torgeson, tagged Dick Donovan (4-5) with the defeat. Tex Clevenger (4-1) was the winner.

Don Buddin and Pete Runnels each had three hits for Boston and had RBI singles, in a winning two-run seventh against loser Don Mossi (5-3). Mike Fornieles' perfect 2 2-3 relief innings saved it for Jack Harshman (2-6).

Brosnan Wins For Reds, 5-0

CINCINNATI (AP) — A castoff pitcher, who says he'd rather be a starter because he can make more money, apparently has found a home here—in his home town.

Jim Brosnan, a graduate of baseball - powered Elder High School, gave the Chicago Cubs only four hits—all singles—Wednesday night as he hurled the Cincinnati Reds to a 5-0 victory.

The win was the right-hander's second in as many starts since he came here two weeks ago from St. Louis in a trade for Hal Jeffcoat. It was his first complete game of the year and his second shutout in the majors.

Used mainly as a relief pitcher with the Cardinals, Brosnan said he thought he'd rather be a starter because "you win more games being a starter and they pay you by how many games you win."

The bespectacled 29-year-old entered pro baseball in the Cubs' organization in 1947 after graduation from high school. He hurled with Chicago in 1954, 1956 and 1957, then was traded to the Cards.

In Chicago, he compiled an 11-14 record and last year won 11 and lost 8 in St. Louis. Before coming here he had a 1-3 mark.

Brosnan, a 6-foot-4, 21-pounder, credited Redlegs' pitching coach Clyde King with ironing out several pitching problems he had had.

"I used to be too careful and apparently lacked self-confidence so I used too many pitches and would be worked out by the fifth or sixth inning," Brosnan said.

"Now, I come right in; I guess because I'm a little more sure of myself."

Wednesday night, Brosnan faced only 32 men. He struck out seven and walked two. Only one Cub reached third base.

The Reds scored four of their runs in the first inning when Jerry Lynch walked, Frank Robinson doubled, Gus Bell singled and Ed Bailey cleaned the bases with a home run, his fifth.

Cincinnati got its other run in the fifth on a leadoff double by Robinson and a single by Bell.

Tonight, Bob Purkey will start for the Reds and Bob Anderson will open for Chicago.

National League managers Fred Haney, Walter Alston, Bill Rigney, Danny Murtaugh and Solly Hemus did most of their playing as infielders.

Olmedo Gets His Chance To Avenge Earlier Loss

By STERLING SLAPPEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Alex Olmedo get his chance for revenge today.

The United States Davis Cup star from Peru meets Ramanathan Krishnan of India, probably the best non-seeded player in the tournament, in the third round of the All-England Tennis Championships.

Last week Krishnan whipped Olmedo in three sets in the semi-finals of the London Championships at Queen's Club. The quiet spoken Preuvian has vowed it'll not happen again, especially at Wimbledon where he is seeded No. 1.

But Krishnan went into the match saying:

"I've got nothing to loose. I'm going for everything and I might beat him again."

The 23-year old Olmedo had all his strokes working Wednesday as he polished off 17-year old Rodney Mandelstam of South Africa, 6-1, 6-1, 6-3, in 55 minutes, Krishnan, a year younger than Olmedo, disposed of Bob Phillips - Moore of Australia, 6-2, 6-2, 6-2.

While rain interrupted play in this 82-year old tournament seven times Wednesday, causing a revamping of the schedule, many of the 20,000 fans turned to the discussion of Olmedo's chances and the sparkling play of 18-year-old Earl Buchholz of St. Louis.

It was a question which was the most important — the victory of America's top young prospect, the triumph of Olmedo or the defeat of Kurt Nielsen of Denmark.

Before, between and after the showers, Buchholz defeated Gordon Forbes of South Africa, 3-6, 7-5, 11-9, 10-8 although suffering from a slightly strained stomach muscle.

Nielsen lost to Rod Laver of Australia, 10-8, 6-4, 7-5.

Two top seeded men now have failed to survive two rounds. Nielsen was seventh seeded. In a first round match Monday, Buchholz eliminted third seeded Nicola Pietrangeli of Italy.

Barry Mackay of Dayton, Ohio, won 6-4, 6-3, 3-6, 6-1 victory over Vladimer Skonecki of Poland.

Five of the 12 tackles on North Carolina State's spring football roster com from Pennsylvania.

Post 374 Gains Finals On Burks' Two-Hitter

East Liverpool American Legion Post 374 is one victory away from another Columbiana County baseball title after Jim Burks pitched the locals to a 6-0 victory over Columbiana Wednesday.

Post 374 will meet the winner of the Columbiana-Salem game on Saturday at 3 p. m. at Columbiana.

The Post 374 nine has defeated Salem and Columbiana in the double-elimination tourney. Another victory Saturday will send the East Liverpool entry to the district legion finals at Dover on July 4-5.

Burks, a southpaw, shut out Columbiana on just two hits and struck out 12 batters over the seven innings.

His teammates came up with a solid 12-hit attack led by Kenny Cunningham. The hard-hitting second baseman clubbed a home run and two singles, while Jimmy Miles, Ken Miller and Burks collected two hits apiece.

Fritch and Perkins were the only Columbiana batters to solve Burks' delivery.

Would Revise Other Levies

Road 'Trust Fund' Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A simple tax extension bill mushroomed today into a possible vehicle for financing interstate highways, wiping out a passenger travel tax and revising other levies.

The need for meeting a July 1 deadline complicated the Senate's problem as it headed into a marathon session to consider proposed amendments to the revenue measure.

The bill as passed by the House June 8 would extend for another year the present rates on various excise and corporate income taxes. Unless it becomes law by July 1, these would drop to pre-Korean war levels, and government revenues would decline an estimated three billion dollars a year.

The proposal to divert other revenues into the highway trust fund, to assure continued road building, was a last-minute addition to the list of amendments to be considered.

It was put forth by Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn) as President Eisenhower cautioned that unless Congress acts, new lack of funds will force an almost complete halt in new interstate road building projects within the next two years.

To keep the program going, Eisenhower has been urging a 1½-cents-a-gallon increase in the federal gasoline tax, now three cents. He said Wednesday that other alternatives being considered "would be unacceptable to me."

Gore nevertheless proposed to divert to the special highway trust fund 968 million dollars a year of highway user taxes on automobiles, trucks, buses, auto and truck parts and lubricating oil.

These funds now go into the treasury's general fund. Eisenhower contends they are needed there to help meet other government costs.

But the President would find it difficult to veto the tax extension bill if the diversion amendment were included, because of the loss of other taxes.

The tax extension bill was approved only Wednesday by the Senate Finance Committee. To the House bill, it added provisions to end this year a 10 per cent tax on passenger tickets, and to wipe out next year a similar levy on telephone and telegraph messages.

Strauss Vote Stresses Split In Views Of Lausche, Young

WASHINGTON (AP)—Frank J. Lausche tried to help Republicans confirm Lewis L. Strauss. Stephen M. Young attacked Strauss as having helped cover up a 220 million dollar scandal.

Their opinions, in fact, are so often irreconciliable that it might be worth considering this one case—the unsuccessful attempt to make Strauss secretary of commerce — in some detail.

Lausche, as it happened, had a much bigger part to play. As a member of the Senate Commerce Committee, he had a vote in deciding whether the nomination would even reach the Senate floor.

This vote—in favor of Strauss—was critical, since committee approval was 9-8. Had Lausche joined most of the Democrats in voting "no" the issue would not have reached the Senate.

And just before the final vote, Lausche joined Republican senators in defending Strauss as an able man.

Now consider Young's position on Strauss. Without naming anybody, Young said Republicans and some "alleged Democrats" approved him in committee.

These same senators, Young went on, "piously held their noses at Sherman Adams' $700 vicuna coat" but saw nothing wrong with the Dixon-Yates 220 million dollar contract.

This was the arrangement, later cancelled, whereby the Eisenhower administration was going to let a private power firm supplement power in the TVA system.

Strauss, said Young, helped conceal the plan, and shouldn't be secretary of commerce.

Reprieve Granted As Chair Neared

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—"I was prepared to die, but I felt sure I would get a break."

That was the way Walter J. Byomin expressed himself Wednesday when the prison chaplain at Ohio Penitentiary told him he had been granted a reprieve from his 8 p.m. date with death.

Byomin, 43, of Cleveland, had been scheduled for execution in the electric chair for fatally shooting Deputy Edmund G. Smith of Wellington in Lorain County on May 4, 1957.

But just four hours before he was to walk "the last mile," the Ohio Supreme Court granted him a stay of execution until July 3 to consider his petition for a writ of habeas corpus.

Byomin filed the petition last Monday in an attempt to win a new trial. He claimed the Lorain County sheriff perjured himself in testimony at Byomin's first-degree murder trial.

At the time the petition was filed, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle announced he would not grant Byomin clemency.

Byomin was convicted Sept. 18, 1957, for slaying Smith when Smith tried to arrest him after an automobile chase.

Smith had sought to question Byomin over his attentions to a woman. Her relatives objected to Byomin seeing her.

52-Year-Old Ticket Brings 8-Minute Ride

Recently he found it among his papers and noticed it had no expiration date. L.&N. assured him the ticket still was valid.

Wednesday Smith boarded the Florida-bound Dixie Flier at Estill Springs, Tenn., for an eight-minute ride to Decherd, Tenn.

Strike Session Slated Today At Lisbon Firm

LISBON — A move toward settlement of a 21-day-old strike at the Thomas Works of the H. K. Porter Co. was to be attempted at a scheduled meeting this afternoon between management and representatives of the 120 employes.

Members of the United Brick & Clay Workers voted June 5 to walk out after negotiations for a new contract broke down over such issues as working conditions and a pay hike.

Little progress was made in a session with a mediator last Thursday, and today's meeting was scheduled. The plant manufactures electric insulators.

Romance 'Cools Off' As Ice Attracts Skater

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—An ice skater says her marriage to her rink partner cooled because he spent 12 to 14 hours daily on the ice without her.

"I became very lonely," Anne Holt, 29, testified Wednesday as she divorced Austin Holt, 33.

The Holts hold seventh ranking as world figure-skating pairs, she said. She is also an actress, whom TV fans have seen in "Dragnet" and Alfred Hitchcock thrillers.

Game Courts Plan Reviewed

Plans for the construction of a volley ball-basketball court at the Chester City Park were reviewed at a meeting of the Park Commission Wednesday night at the City Hall.

Estimates are being sought for installation of either a blacktop or concrete court. The commission is studying the possibility of having a curb installed around a concrete court to provide facilities for ice skating in the winter.

Plans call for volunteers to construct the foundation forms.

A volunteer work session is slated Saturday morning at 8 at the community building, Harold Dickey, chairman, said.

Dickey reported Miss Doris Bourne of Virginia Ave. has been provided by the East Liverpool Recreation Council as a supervisor at the City Park playground.

New equipment has been installed and completion of the erection of a merry-go-round device is slated next week. Dickey said between 75 and 100 youngsters have attended the playlot since it was opened earlier this month.

Miss Sara Thomas, treasurer, reported about $400 has been contributed to park funds in the current quarterly free-will offering campaign in which letters were mailed to area residents.

The next meeting will be July 8.

Backtracking Banned For City Trash Trucks

Incinerator Supt. James A. McKinnon today reminded householders they must put trash containers at the property line the night before a scheduled semi-monthly collection because backtracking is banned for the department's trucks in cases where refuse is put out belatedly.

Since the collection trucks start their rounds at 7 each morning, householders must place the trash at the front or rear property line and the night before to assure it will not be missed, McKinnon added. He said the department receives frequent complaints from householders who put out their trash after the trucks have passed, then declare that it was overlooked.

Hancock Red Cross Aide Has Served For 23 Years

By CHARLES CRONIN

The dark, grim days of World War II, when surgical dressing sessions were commonplace, are recalled today by a Newell woman on the 100th anniversary of the idea which sparked the organizing of the American Red Cross.

Mrs. Ruth A. Sprouse, 208 Grant St., a volunteer Red Cross worker for 23 years, vividly recalls when women of the Chester-Newell area gathered in a hushed atmosphere to prepare bandages and dressings for wounds of the injured at the front.

She particularly remembers how active the Red Cross was in the war days, when the organization took charge of supervising the calls for volunteer blood donors and conducted fund campaigns to help with the nation's defense program.

—:—

MRS. SPROUSE was the first chairman of what is now the North Hancock County Chapter of the Red Cross and is its present executive secretary.

Today—on the 100th anniversary of the Red Cross—no special activities are being held by chapters in Newell or East Liverpool, although posters have been distributed in commemoration of the event.

However, the unveiling of a stone monument in Solferino, Italy, officially marks the 100th anniversary of a famous battle out of which originated the Red Cross.

The Solferino battlefield in 1859 was the scene of a bloody conflict in which there were 39,000 casualties in less than 12 hours of fighting between a French-Sardinian force united against the Austrians in an effort to settle Italy's political future by clash of arms.

—:—

THERE WAS little provision for the wounded, most of whom were left to care for themselves on the battlefield when opposing forces retired from the fight.

The day after the battle, Henri Dunant, a young Swiss philanthropist and businessman traveling in Italy, came upon the nightmarish battlefield scene.

He wrote later that "bodies of men and horses covered the battlefield; the approaches to Solferino were literally thick with dead; corpses were strewn over the roads, ditches and fields."

"The poor wounded men...were ghastly pale and exhausted. Some, who had gaping wounds already beginning to show infection, were almost crazed with suffering. They begged to be put out of their misery, and writhed with faces distorted in the grip of the death struggle."

—:—

APPALLED BY the suffering, Dunant organized aid from the nearby village of Castiglione. The group carried the wounded out of the blazing sun and did what little they could for them, records show.

The idea of the Red Cross came from the suffering there, as Dunant was haunted by the experience and published a volume recounting the horror of the battle.

Today, on the centenary of the birth of the idea, there are 82 nations who have Red Cross societies performing humanitarian services.

The work that was begun at Solferino for the servicemen of that day has undergone many adaptations and refinements.

In this country, Dunant's basic idea was broadened by Clara Barton to include relief to the victims of disaster as well as war. Later, the service was again broadened to include nurses practicing through the Red Cross.

MRS. SPROUSE started in Red Cross volunteer work in 1936 because, she said, "it afforded an opportunity to help people whom I was not able to help otherwise."

She remembers that this was the year of the famous flood and that the organization aided in evacuation of nearly all residents of the Congo area, left homeless by the raging waters of the Ohio River.

It was in that year that Mrs. Sprouse became chairman of what is now the North Hancock County Chapter, which serves the Chester-Newell-New Cumberland areas.

Later, when the chapter's executive secretary— Mrs. Robert Crawford—left for a trip to Hawaii, Mrs. Sprouse filled the secretarial vacancy and held the post for 10 years. Sidney Porter was then chairman.

—:—

SHE SERVED as executive secretary for 13 years, including most of the period spanning World War II when one of the most interesting aspects of Red Cross work was blood collection, she said.

Headquarters for blood donors in the war years was the Chester American Legion Post, with collections taken two or three times a year.

The final collection of blood by the chapter was in 1953 when it was held in Plant No. 6 of the Homer Laughlin China Co. at Newell.

The chapter guided the preparation of approximately one million bandage dressings for servicemen over a decade ago. Mrs. Sprouse recalls that area women would gather each afternoon in the Aaron Building in Newell around large tables lined with materials and diagrams showing methods of correct preparation.

Sanitation was a "must," Mrs. Sprouse pointed out, and women had to work while wearing clean, washable clothing, their hair swept back and covered.

THE ABSENCE of any jewelry was very noticable, she recalls, with watches, rings or earrings banned while working.

Mrs. Clyde Cozzens and Mrs. Martha Higgins supervised daily sessions, Mrs. Sprouse said.

Though the chapter spearheaded many fund-raising campaigns, Mrs. Sprouse remembers one in particular when $15,000 was raised in a single night for the nation's war effort.

From the days of ration stamps and the "black market" to the Cold War of today, the chapter has remained organized for the welfare of the nearby communities, although its principal functions now are in an emergency capacity, more or less, Mrs. Sprouse commented.

HELPING TO provide emergency leaves for servicemen and their families is its main function, although the chapter is planning to sponsor swimming and water safety classes this summer at Tomlinson Run State Park.

The unit proved that it still is able to assist in local emergencies when a flood struck in New Cumberland this winter. The chapter organized volunteers to evacuate 100 families and spent $275 aiding the stricken residents of the county seat.

Mrs. Sprouse said future plans include enlistment "on a small scale" of volunteers for canteen service, Nurses Aides and "Grey Ladies" who will assist in comforting patients in area rest homes.

The chapter's "loan cabinet" of hospital supplies is still used daily by residents of the county. Available are hospital beds, linens, invalid cushions and other equipment, all free of charge, she said.

—:—

OTHER CHAIRMEN of the unit have been E. R. Chandler, Alvin West, V. R. Zerkle and the Rev. William H. Flurkey, present chapter chairman.

Tentative plans call for the anniversary year of the Red Cross idea to be further celebrated in October.

Cambridge, Mass., where Harvard University is located, was originally named New Towne.

VETERAN ON DUTY. Mrs. Ruth Sprouse probably has more chevrons on her sleeve than any other Red Cross volunteer in the Tri-State area. She has served 23 years. Secretary of the North Hancock County chapter, she is shown at her desk in the Newell headquarters.

Ayres Backs Rights

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. William H. Ayres was the only member of the Ohio GOP delegation in the House to vote for passage of the states rights bill. He was joined by seven Ohio Democrats as the House passed the measure Wednesday, 225-192, and sent it to the Senate. Ayres' 13 Republican colleagues from Ohio all voted against the bill. Rep. Robert E. Cook (D-Ohio) did not vote, but was recorded on the roll call as being against the bill.

Midland Art Show Opens With 96 Entries In Kaycee Exhibit

The third annual art exhibit sponsored by Midland Council 205 of the Knights of Columbus opened informally Wednesday in the K. of C. Hall and Anthony Martell and Joseph M. Jonas, co-chairmen, said Jesse W. Badger will be judge. The show closes July 11.

The council's 40th anniversary dinner will be held Sunday at 5:30 p. m. at Deramo's Restaurant, preceeding the official opening of the show. Winners will be announced.

Badger, art authority and director of art education for New Castle public school, has exhibited paintings with the Associated Artists of Pittsburgh and at the Butler Art Institute in Youngstown.

He has taught adult amateur painting groups for the past 10 years in New Castle and Kitanning. He studied at the Institute of Art in Chicago and holds a master's degree in art from Teachers College of Columbia University.

Entrants include Matthew Mawhinney of Salem, whose "To Rust Returneth" won best-in-the show in 1957 and Hans Hacker of East Liverpool, whose "Sunday Morning" received the same award last year.

Other former winners entered include Mrs. Victor George and Mrs. Lyle Hough of Ohio View, Foster McBride of Damascas, Mrs. Sarah Ross of Aliquippa, Hugh Fischer, Mrs. Hellen Fisher and Margaret T. Beeken of Beaver and Jessie R. Moulton of Sewickley.

Other towns represented include Midland, Chester, Wellsville, Alliance, Beaver Falls, Center Township, Darlington, Ellwood City, Homeworth, Monaca, Rochester, Warren and West Bridgewater.

Paintings include oils, water colors, pastels and portraits. Prizes will be awarded July 4th at 2 p. m.

John Cooney, Knights of Columbus state deputy of Port Carbon, who will officially open the exhibit, will be a guest at the dinner. He is prominent in K. of C. activities and is a labor market analyst in the Bureau of Employment Security of the Department of Labor and Industry.

Burgess Eli G. Corak will welcome guests. Cooney will speak, along with Emeric Davis, council member and 49th district deputy. Ralph Bernabie, fraternal activities committee chairman, will present the "Knight of the Year" award and charter members will be honored.

Fr. Francis E. Paul, council chaplain, will give the invocation and benediction. Leo Curto will direct singing and Albert Susie will report on the council's six - point program. Dr. Frank J. Benedict will be toastmaster.

Tickets for the dinner may be secured until Friday from committee members.

Newell Man Injured In Tumble From Tree

A 54-year-old Newell man was injured seriously in a fall when a section of cherry tree gave way as he was picking the fruit at the home of a Chester relative Wednesday night.

Walter Juszczak, 913 Grant St., a Globe Brick Co. employe, is in "poor" condition today at City Hospital with a skull injury and other injuries suffered in the fall.

He was on a ladder, picking cherries at a small orchard at the home of his brother, Casimer Juszczak, of 3rd St., Chester, when the mishap occurred.

The injured man is slated for removal to Mercy Hospital at Pittsburgh for special treatment, a relative said.

Midland Heights Youth Injured In Car Wreck

A Midland Heights youth was hospitalized with injuries received in a one - car crash on a rural road near Wellsville Wednesday about midnight.

Ronald Perkins, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bryant Perkins of 66-C, Midland Heights, is in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with a possible fractured skull.

Perkins was a passenger in a car driven by James Green of Midland Ave., Midland, which ran into an embankment. They were en route home from the Frischkorn Skating Rink on Route 39.

A passing motorist took Perkins to the hospital. Wellsville police said they received a report of an accident on Route 45 about that time but could find nothing when they investigated.

Composer Dies At 63

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Archie Gottler, 63, composer, died of a heart ailment Wednesday. Among his songs was one with one of the longest titles on record, "Would You Rather Be a Colonel with an Eagle on your Shoulder or a Private with a Chicken of your Knee?"

Wellsville Firemen's Parade Units May Exceed Past Totals

More musical units, drill squads and floats than participated in the past are expected for the annual Wellsville volunteer fire department's homecoming parade Friday night at 8.

The principal route will be on Main St. from 3rd to 17th Sts. The judging stand will be at 9th St. Jack E. Phillips, homecoming chairman, said about 80 units are expected.

Bands registered so far include Goshen Union High School, United Local High, Irondale High, Wellsville High, Sebring High, Salem Legion Band and the Imperial Firemen's Band. The Boys Industrial School of Western Pennsylvania will enter a drum and bugle corps.

Marching units include the Pepperettes of Bridgeport, Goshenettes of Goshen, Cassidy Dance Studio, Job's Daughters Lodge 61 of East Liverpool, Wellsville Veterans of Foreign Wars Posts 9285 and 5647 and American Legion Post 70.

Fire companies will be registered from Yorkville, Tiltonsville, Brilliant, Mingo Junction, Toronto, Stratton, East Liverpool, Sebring, Lisbon Civil Defense, Hubbard, Moorefield Township of Piedmont, Austintown, East Palestine, Columbiana, New Waterford, Salineville, Liverpool Township East and West, Calcutta, Glenmoor, Flushing, North Lima, Boardman, Washingtonville, Negley, West Point, Barton, Oakdale, Pa., Avella, Imperial, West Bridgewater, Beaver, Beaver Falls, New Brighton, Meadowland, Neville Island, Thad Stevens of Pittsburgh, West Park of Pittsburgh, Bridgeville, Kopple, New Galilee, Mt. Oliver, Monaca, Freedom, Homeville, Newell, Chester, Lawrenceville, Weirton, New Cumberland and Wellsburg.

Phillips said the VFW posts will conduct a Poppy Day sale during the parade. This has the endorsement of the fire department but no authorization has been given anyone to sell carnival merchandise along the parade route, he said, adding the department urges no one purchase any such merchandise from "hawkers."

Earl Roseberry of Post 5647 and Bill Spires of 9285 are the Poppy chairmen.

Hancock County Wool Payment Support Set

Wool growers of Hancock County will receive a payment of 70.3 cents on shorn wool marketed during the 1958 marketing year, C. C. Herron of Pughtown, chairman of the County Agricultural, Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said.

The payment rate on unshorn lambs to compensate for the wool on them will be $1.02 per hundredweight. This payment is designed to maintain the normal practice of marketing lambs with the wool on, rather than shearing them to obtain the shorn wool payment, he said.

The 1958 wool payment rate is the highest in the four years the program has been in operation, Herron said. The County ASC office expects to begin making 1958 wool payments soon to growers who filed applications by April 20, 1959. The payments are for wool and unshorn lambs marketed between April 1, 1958, and March 31, 1959.

Would Revise Other Levies

Road 'Trust Fund' Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A simple tax extension bill mushroomed today into a possible vehicle for financing interstate highways, wiping out a passenger travel tax and revising other levies.

The need for meeting a July 1 deadline complicated the Senate's problem as it headed into a marathon session to consider proposed amendments to the revenue measure.

The bill as passed by the House June 8 would extend for another year the present rates on various excise and corporate income taxes. Unless it becomes law by July 1, these would drop to pre-Korean war levels, and government revenues would decline an estimated three billion dollars a year.

The proposal to divert other revenues into the highway trust fund, to assure continued road building, was a last-minute addition to the list of amendments to be considered.

It was put forth by Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn) as President Eisenhower cautioned that unless Congress acts, new lack of funds will force an almost complete halt in new interstate road building projects within the next two years.

To keep the program going, Eisenhower has been urging a 1½-cents-a-gallon increase in the federal gasoline tax, now three cents. He said Wednesday that other alternatives being considered "would be unacceptable to me."

Gore nevertheless proposed to divert to the special highway trust fund 968 million dollars a year of highway user taxes on automobiles, trucks, buses, auto and truck parts and lubricating oil.

These funds now go into the treasury's general fund. Eisenhower contends they are needed there to help meet other government costs.

But the President would find it difficult to veto the tax extension bill if the diversion amendment were included, because of the loss of other taxes.

The tax extension bill was approved only Wednesday by the Senate Finance Committee. To the House bill, it added provisions to end this year a 10 per cent tax on passenger tickets, and to wipe out next year a similar levy on telephone and telegraph messages.

Strauss Vote Stresses Split In Views Of Lausche, Young

WASHINGTON (AP)—Frank J. Lausche tried to help Republicans confirm Lewis L. Strauss. Stephen M. Young attacked Strauss as having helped cover up a 220 million dollar scandal.

These approaches to the Strauss affair illustrate the frequently divergent views on public questions taken by Ohio's Democratic senators.

Their opinions, in fact, are so often irreconciliable that it might be worth considering this one case—the unsuccessful attempt to make Strauss secretary of commerce — in some detail.

Lausche, as it happened, had a much bigger part to play. As a member of the Senate Commerce Committee, he had a vote in deciding whether the nomination would even reach the Senate floor.

This vote—in favor of Strauss—was critical, since committee approval was 9-8. Had Lausche joined most of the Democrats in voting "no" the issue would not have reached the Senate.

And just before the final vote, Lausche joined Republican senators in defending Strauss as an able man.

Now consider Young's position on Strauss. Without naming anybody, Young said Republicans and some "alleged Democrats" approved him in committee.

These same senators, Young went on, "piously held their noses at Sherman Adams' $700 vicuna coat" but saw nothing wrong with the Dixon-Yates 220 million dollar contract.

This was the arrangement, later cancelled, whereby the Eisenhower administration was going to let a private power firm supplement power in the TVA system.

Strauss, said Young, helped conceal the plan, and shouldn't be secretary of commerce.

Reprieve Granted As Chair Neared

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—"I was prepared to die, but I felt sure I would get a break."

That was the way Walter J. Byomin expressed himself Wednesday when the prison chaplain at Ohio Penitentiary told him he had been granted a reprieve from his 8 p.m. date with death.

Byomin, 43, of Cleveland, had been scheduled for execution in the electric chair for fatally shooting Deputy Edmund G. Smith of Wellington in Lorain County on May 4, 1957.

But just four hours before he was to walk "the last mile," the Ohio Supreme Court granted him a stay of execution until July 3 to consider his petition for a writ of habeas corpus.

Byomin filed the petition last Monday in an attempt to win a new trial. He claimed the Lorain County sheriff perjured himself in testimony at Byomin's first-degree murder trial.

At the time the petition was filed, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle announced he would not grant Byomin clemency.

Byomin was convicted Sept. 18, 1957, for slaying Smith when Smith tried to arrest him after an automobile chase.

Smith had sought to question Byomin over his attentions to a woman. Her relatives objected to Byomin seeing her.

52-Year-Old Ticket Brings 8-Minute Ride

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Fifty-two years ago Dr. Austin W. Smith of Cookeville, Tenn., bought a 15-cent ticket from the Louisville & Nashville Railroad.

Recently he found it among his papers and noticed it had no expiration date. L.&N. assured him the ticket still was valid.

Wednesday Smith boarded the Florida-bound Dixie Flier at Estill Springs, Tenn., for an eight-minute ride to Decherd, Tenn.

Strike Session Slated Today At Lisbon Firm

LISBON — A move toward settlement of a 21-day-old strike at the Thomas Works of the H. K. Porter Co. was to be attempted at a scheduled meeting this afternoon between management and representatives of the 120 employes.

Members of the United Brick & Clay Workers voted June 5 to walk out after negotiations for a new contract broke down over such issues as working conditions and a pay hike.

Little progress was made in a session with a mediator last Thursday, and today's meeting was scheduled. The plant manufactures electric insulators.

Romance 'Cools Off' As Ice Attracts Skater

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—An ice skater says her marriage to her rink partner cooled because he spent 12 to 14 hours daily on the ice without her.

"I became very lonely," Anne Holt, 29, testified Wednesday as she divorced Austin Holt, 33.

The Holts hold seventh ranking as world figure-skating pairs, she said. She is also an actress, whom TV fans have seen in "Dragnet" and Alfred Hitchcock thrillers.

Midland Art Show Opens With 96 Entries In Kaycee Exhibit

The third annual art exhibit sponsored by Midland Council 205 of the Knights of Columbus opened informally Wednesday in the K. of C. Hall and Anthony Martell and Joseph M. Jonas, co-chairmen, said Jesse W. Badger will be judge. The show closes July 11.

The council's 40th anniversary dinner will be held Sunday at 5:30 p. m. at Deramo's Restaurant, preceeding the official opening of the show. Winners will be announced.

Badger, art authority and director of art education for New Castle public school, has exhibited paintings with the Associated Artists of Pittsburgh and at the Butler Art Institute in Youngstown.

He has taught adult amateur painting groups for the past 10 years in New Castle and Kitanning. He studied at the Institute of Art in Chicago and holds a master's degree in art from Teachers College of Columbia University.

Entrants include Matthew Mawhinney of Salem, whose "To Rust Returneth" won best-in-the show in 1957 and Hans Hacker of East Liverpool, whose "Sunday Morning" received the same award last year.

Other former winners entered include Mrs. Victor George and Mrs. Lyle Hough of Ohio View, Foster McBride of Damascas, Mrs. Sarah Ross of Aliquippa, Hugh Fischer, Mrs. Hellen Fisher and Margaret T. Beeken of Beaver and Jessie R. Moulton of Sewickley.

Other towns represented include Midland, Chester, Wellsville, Alliance, Beaver Falls, Center Township, Darlington, Ellwood City, Homeworth, Monaca, Rochester, Warren and West Bridgewater.

Paintings include oils, water colors, pastels and portraits. Prizes will be awarded July 4th at 2 p. m.

John Cooney, Knights of Columbus state deputy of Port Carbon, who will officially open the exhibit, will be a guest at the dinner. He is prominent in K. of C. activities and is a labor market analyst in the Bureau of Employment Security of the Department of Labor and Industry.

Burgess Eli G. Corak will welcome guests. Cooney will speak, along with Emeric Davis, council member and 49th district deputy. Ralph Bernabie, fraternal activities committee chairman, will present the "Knight of the Year" award and charter members will be honored.

Fr. Francis E. Paul, council chaplain, will give the invocation and benediction. Leo Curto will direct singing and Albert Susie will report on the council's six - point program. Dr. Frank J. Benedict will be toastmaster.

Tickets for the dinner may be secured until Friday from committee members.

Newell Man Injured In Tumble From Tree

A 54-year-old Newell man was injured seriously in a fall when a section of cherry tree gave way as he was picking the fruit at the home of a Chester relative Wednesday night.

Walter Juszczak, 913 Grant St., a Globe Brick Co. employe, is in "poor" condition today at City Hospital with a skull injury and other injuries suffered in the fall.

He was on a ladder, picking cherries at a small orchard at the home of his brother, Casimer Juszczak, of 3rd St., Chester, when the mishap occurred.

The injured man is slated for removal to Mercy Hospital at Pittsburgh for special treatment, a relative said.

Midland Heights Youth Injured In Car Wreck

A Midland Heights youth was hospitalized with injuries received in a one - car crash on a rural road near Wellsville Wednesday about midnight.

Ronald Perkins, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bryant Perkins of 66-C, Midland Heights, is in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with a possible fractured skull.

Perkins was a passenger in a car driven by James Green of Midland Ave., Midland, which ran into an embankment. They were en route home from the Frischkorn Skating Rink on Route 39.

A passing motorist took Perkins to the hospital. Wellsville police said they received a report of an accident on Route 45 about that time but could find nothing when they investigated.

Composer Dies At 63

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Archie Gottler, 63, composer, died of a heart ailment Wednesday. Among his songs was one with one of the longest titles on record, "Would You Rather Be a Colonel with an Eagle on your Shoulder or a Private with a Chicken of your Knee?"

Wellsville Firemen's Parade Units May Exceed Past Totals

More musical units, drill squads and floats than participated in the past are expected for the annual Wellsville volunteer fire department's homecoming parade Friday night at 8.

The principal route will be on Main St. from 3rd to 17th Sts. The judging stand will be at 9th St. Jack E. Phillips, homecoming chairman, said about 80 units are expected.

Bands registered so far include Goshen Union High School, United Local High, Irondale High, Wellsville High, Sebring High, Salem Legion Band and the Imperial Firemen's Band. The Boys Industrial School of Western Pennsylvania will enter a drum and bugle corps.

Marching units include the Pepperettes of Bridgeport, Goshenettes of Goshen, Cassidy Dance Studio, Job's Daughters Lodge 61 of East Liverpool, Wellsville Veterans of Foreign Wars Posts 9285 and 5647 and American Legion Post 70.

Fire companies will be registered from Yorkville, Tiltonsville, Brilliant, Mingo Junction, Toronto, Stratton, East Liverpool, Sebring, Lisbon Civil Defense, Hubbard, Moorefield Township of Piedmont, Austintown, East Palestine, Columbiana, New Waterford, Salineville, Liverpool Township East and West, Calcutta, Glenmoor, Flushing, North Lima, Boardman, Washingtonville, Negley, West Point, Barton, Oakdale, Pa., Avella, Imperial, West Bridgewater, Beaver, Beaver Falls, New Brighton, Meadowland, Neville Island, Thad Stevens of Pittsburgh, West Park of Pittsburgh, Bridgeville, Kopple, New Galilee, Mt. Oliver, Monaca, Freedom, Homeville, Newell, Chester, Lawrenceville, Weirton, New Cumberland and Wellsburg.

Phillips said the VFW posts will conduct a Poppy Day sale during the parade. This has the endorsement of the fire department but no authorization has been given anyone to sell carnival merchandise along the parade route, he said, adding the department urges no one purchase any such merchandise from "hawkers."

Earl Roseberry of Post 5647 and Bill Spires of 9285 are the Poppy chairmen.

Hancock County Wool Payment Support Set

Wool growers of Hancock County will receive a payment of 70.3 cents on shorn wool marketed during the 1958 marketing year, C. C. Herron of Pughtown, chairman of the County Agricultural, Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said.

The payment rate on unshorn lambs to compensate for the wool on them will be $1.02 per hundredweight. This payment is designed to maintain the normal practice of marketing lambs with the wool on, rather than shearing them to obtain the shorn wool payment, he said.

The 1958 wool payment rate is the highest in the four years the program has been in operation, Herron said. The County ASC office expects to begin making 1958 wool payments soon to growers who filed applications by April 20, 1959. The payments are for wool and unshorn lambs marketed between April 1, 1958, and March 31, 1959.

7 Area Drill Teams To Enter July 4th Contest At Midland

Seven drill teams will participate in Midland's July 4th celebration, the celebration committee announced.

Competing will be those of East Liverpool VFW Post 66, national champions, Toronto American Legion Post, the Queen Anne Rifles of Salem VFW Post 892, Salem American Legion Post and VFW teams from Wellsville, Rochester and Monaca.

A request has been made for four judges from the Western Pennsylvania barracks of the National Guard to judge drilling. Teams will appear at 6:30 p. m. in the stadium and perform 8 minutes each, beginning at 7.

A variety show will follow and drill prizes will be given later in the evening. The drill teams will give a final exhibition prior to the main fireworks show at 10. Some 8,000 pesons may view the aerial display from the stadium.

Two marching units of girls will appear in the parade for the first time. They will be the Twirl-Etts of United Local High School, near Lisbon, and Job's Daughters Bethel 61 of East Liverpool.

The parade will form at 9:30 a. m. at the 1st St. playground, marshal at 10:15 and move at 10:30 sharp, the committee said, whether or not units or floats have arrived.

Some 60 pioneers will ride in antique autos behind the lead band and color guard. The committee decided that pioneers will be seated near the curb in front of the judges' stand at Gengarella's lot on Midland Ave. to watch the parade. The band will pause while pioneers are being seated.

Last-minute details will be mailed to pioneers Tuesday, the committee said.

Twenty floats have been entered in the two main divisions and more are expected Friday, John Fantone, parade chairman, said. The float theme will be "Freedom on the Fourth." Colors will be carried by 50 members of tri-state American Legion and VFW posts.

The evening variety show will include Corrine and Darrow, high wire performers direct from Atlantic City, 10 dogs doing marches and other tricks, Graham's Roving Clowns, a trampoline act, Wally Parker "the world's most inebriated man," and Al Aldrich, juggler.

Bobby Caputo's orchestra will entertain and give fanfares, Charles P. Henderson, special events chairman, said.

$10,000 Estimated For Resurfacing

Resurfacing of Fairview Rd. and Lawrenceville Rd. in the Chester area will cost an estimated $10,000, Chester city officials were advised Wednesday by a representative of the Ohio Tar & Asphalt Co.

Don Bayer of Canton met with Mayor Burton Ward and Councilmen John Olash, Charles Kology and Walter McSwegin to survey the two roads, along with some proposed alley projects sought by property owners.

Bayer gave a tentative estimate of $10,000 for the two city projects — about 1,300 feet of Fairview Rd. and 1,700 feet of Lawrenceville Rd. He said he may be able to move in equipment for the work by late July or August, after four current projects are completed elsewhere.

Bayer indicated he could set a definite date by next week.

Eviction Being Faced By Parents Of Quads

NEW YORK (AP) — Alex and Bessie Kajouras, parents of newborn quadruplets, face eviction next Wednesday from their five-room Brooklyn apartment.

Kajouras, 30, said philosophically: "We can't worry about that now. We've got the kids to think of. Something will work out."

The eviction notice reportedly stemmed from quarrels with the landlord over repairs.

The quads, three boys and a girl, born Wednesday, were reported in fine condition. The quads were the first children for the 26-year-old mother.

Man Feared Drowned

GALLIPOLIS, Ohio (AP)—Clothing belonging to Donald Phillips, 30, of Rt. 2, Crown City, was found on the bank of the Ohio River about two miles south of the Gallipolis Roller Dam Wednesday. Missing since Tuesday night, he is believed to be a drowning victim. Authorities are dragging the river.

7 Area Drill Teams To Enter July 4th Contest At Midland

Seven drill teams will participate in Midland's July 4th celebration, the celebration committee announced.

Competing will be those of East Liverpool VFW Post 66, national champions, Toronto American Legion Post, the Queen Anne Rifles of Salem VFW Post 892, Salem American Legion Post and VFW teams from Wellsville, Rochester and Monaca.

A request has been made for four judges from the Western Pennsylvania barracks of the National Guard to judge drilling. Teams will appear at 6:30 p. m. in the stadium and perform 8 minutes each, beginning at 7.

A variety show will follow and drill prizes will be given later in the evening. The drill teams will give a final exhibition prior to the main fireworks show at 10. Some 8,000 pesons may view the aerial display from the stadium.

Two marching units of girls will appear in the parade for the first time. They will be the Twirl-Etts of United Local High School, near Lisbon, and Job's Daughters Bethel 61 of East Liverpool.

The parade will form at 9:30 a. m. at the 1st St. playground, marshal at 10:15 and move at 10:30 sharp, the committee said, whether or not units or floats have arrived.

Some 60 pioneers will ride in antique autos behind the lead band and color guard. The committee decided that pioneers will be seated near the curb in front of the judges' stand at Gengarella's lot on Midland Ave. to watch the parade. The band will pause while pioneers are being seated.

Last-minute details will be mailed to pioneers Tuesday, the committee said.

Twenty floats have been entered in the two main divisions and more are expected Friday, John Fantone, parade chairman, said. The float theme will be "Freedom on the Fourth." Colors will be carried by 50 members of tri-state American Legion and VFW posts.

The evening variety show will include Corrine and Darrow, high wire performers direct from Atlantic City, 10 dogs doing marches and other tricks, Graham's Roving Clowns, a trampoline act, Wally Parker "the world's most inebriated man," and Al Aldrich, juggler.

Bobby Caputo's orchestra will entertain and give fanfares, Charles P. Henderson, special events chairman, said.

$10,000 Estimated For Resurfacing

Resurfacing of Fairview Rd. and Lawrenceville Rd. in the Chester area will cost an estimated $10,000, Chester city officials were advised Wednesday by a representative of the Ohio Tar & Asphalt Co.

Don Bayer of Canton met with Mayor Burton Ward and Councilmen John Olash, Charles Kology and Walter McSwegin to survey the two roads, along with some proposed alley projects sought by property owners.

Bayer gave a tentative estimate of $10,000 for the two city projects — about 1,300 feet of Fairview Rd. and 1,700 feet of Lawrenceville Rd. He said he may be able to move in equipment for the work by late July or August, after four current projects are completed elsewhere.

Bayer indicated he could set a definite date by next week.

Eviction Being Faced By Parents Of Quads

NEW YORK (AP) — Alex and Bessie Kajouras, parents of newborn quadruplets, face eviction next Wednesday from their five-room Brooklyn apartment.

Kajouras, 30, said philosophically: "We can't worry about that now. We've got the kids to think of. Something will work out."

The eviction notice reportedly stemmed from quarrels with the landlord over repairs.

The quads, three boys and a girl, born Wednesday, were reported in fine condition. The quads were the first children for the 26-year-old mother.

Man Feared Drowned

GALLIPOLIS, Ohio (AP)—Clothing belonging to Donald Phillips, 30, of Rt. 2, Crown City, was found on the bank of the Ohio River about two miles south of the Gallipolis Roller Dam Wednesday. Missing since Tuesday night, he is believed to be a drowning victim. Authorities are dragging the river.

Change Announced

YOUNGSTOWN — The Golden Age Beverage Corp. and the Golden Age Youngstown Corp. have been acquired by the American Beverage Corp. of New York City. The announcement was made by Julius Darsky, president, and Bert Lockshin, vice president and general manager of the two concerns. Several of their other bottling units in Ohio and Texas are included in the transaction, they said. The combined companies will be headed by the present Golden Age management.

New York is 3,714 miles from Gibraltar.

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP) — "You are certainly a pretty girl," said Virginia Gov. J. Lindsay Almond as he placed a queen's crown on the head of Maggie Sharpe. Maggie says it was a thrill but that she doesn't know about this girl business — she is 84. She was named queen of the Virginia Nursing Homes Assn. to reign over its annual convention.

LEGAL NOTICE

Harry Evans and Anita K. Evans whose present place of residence is unknown and cannot by reasonable dilligence be ascertained but whose last known place of residence was 777 Midway Lane, East Liverpool, Ohio, will take notice that on the 18th day of May 1959, plaintiff, Olive Jane Dray, filed her petition against them in the Court of Common Pleas at Columbiana County, Ohio. The same being Case Number 45274 and being an action for money only and being an action to declare null and void a certain conveyance to the defendant, Anita K. Evans, for certain real estate in said petition described as follws:

Situated in the Township of Liverpool, County of Columbiana, State of Ohio, and being located in the Northwest Quarter of Section 35, Township 6 and Range 1, and bounded and described as follows:

Known as and being Lot No. 19 in the Homestead Acres Division as shown by Plat Book 5, Page 59 of the Columbiana County Plat Records.

The prayer of said petition is for judgment against the defendant, Harry Evans, for money only and to declare the conveyance to the defendant, Anita K. Evans, null and void and that said property be declared the property of said Harry Evans; that the same be sold and the proceeds of such sale be applied to plaintiff's judgment.

Said defendants are required to answer said petition on the 1st day of August, 1959, or judgment will be taken against them.

Change Announced

YOUNGSTOWN — The Golden Age Beverage Corp. and the Golden Age Youngstown Corp. have been acquired by the American Beverage Corp. of New York City. The announcement was made by Julius Darsky, president, and Bert Lockshin, vice president and general manager of the two concerns. Several of their other bottling units in Ohio and Texas are included in the transaction, they said. The combined companies will be headed by the present Golden Age management.

New York is 3,714 miles from Gibraltar.

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP) — "You are certainly a pretty girl," said Virginia Gov. J. Lindsay Almond as he placed a queen's crown on the head of Maggie Sharpe. Maggie says it was a thrill but that she doesn't know about this girl business — she is 84. She was named queen of the Virginia Nursing Homes Assn. to reign over its annual convention.

LEGAL NOTICE

Harry Evans and Anita K. Evans whose present place of residence is unknown and cannot by reasonable dilligence be ascertained but whose last known place of residence was 777 Midway Lane, East Liverpool, Ohio, will take notice that on the 18th day of May 1959, plaintiff, Olive Jane Dray, filed her petition against them in the Court of Common Pleas at Columbiana County, Ohio. The same being Case Number 45274 and being an action for money only and being an action to declare null and void a certain conveyance to the defendant, Anita K. Evans, for certain real estate in said petition described as follws:

Situated in the Township of Liverpool, County of Columbiana, State of Ohio, and being located in the Northwest Quarter of Section 35, Township 6 and Range 1, and bounded and described as follows:

Known as and being Lot No. 19 in the Homestead Acres Division as shown by Plat Book 5, Page 59 of the Columbiana County Plat Records.

The prayer of said petition is for judgment against the defendant, Harry Evans, for money only and to declare the conveyance to the defendant, Anita K. Evans, null and void and that said property be declared the property of said Harry Evans; that the same be sold and the proceeds of such sale be applied to plaintiff's judgment.

Said defendants are required to answer said petition on the 1st day of August, 1959, or judgment will be taken against them.

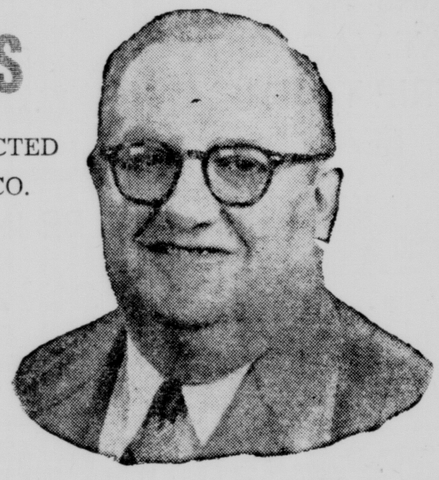
E-Z IRV SAYS



YOUR INVESTMENT IS PROTECTED 5 WAYS AT WELLS MOTOR CO.

1. Wells assures you of a safe, sound car.
2. Reconditioning is done by experts in their field. Temporary fixes are never used.
3. Cars offered as "A-1 Used Cars" are never purchased at auctions. We do not sell you a car that another dealer could not retail.
4. Tires are never "re grooved". If they are questionable they are always replaced.
5. Your family will be safe in our used cars because they are Hygienically cleaned inside by our special factory method.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Can you help two oldsters? My husband and I have discussed this problem dozens of times but we are no closer to a solution.

We raised six children and helped to put them all through college. Our three daughters married well. The two older sons are attorneys and the youngest an engineer. My husband never made more than $4,800 a year in his life. All the boys make at least three times that amount.

We own a small home and just get by. My husband draws a railroad pension and we have no savings, just a few war bonds set aside for emergency.

This is the problem:

Almost every night we have from four to nine grandchildren at our dinner table. We love them dearly, Ann, but we can't afford to feed them. They can drink four quarts of milk with a meal.

Their parents take turns dropping them off when they go to parties, club meetings and so on. They say we are more reliable than sitters and we are "handy." What do you suggest?—SILVER THREADS.

Dear Threads: Since you have such a chummy relationship with your children that they feel comfortable dumping their kids on you for dinner several times a week, you ought to get REAL confidential with THEM.

Suggest in the future when they drop off their youngsters that they should bring along some groceries. Your sons and daughters are thoughtless and they need only to be told.

A Slap In Time

Dear Ann: I'm 18 and going with an attractive boy 19. We've dated for two years. We're not engaged but we have an "understanding." Something happened and I need help.

I work two evenings a week in a neighborhood gift shop. I usually call him when I'm through and he drives me home. This one night I worked until almost midnight and decided it was too late to phone his home so I asked the delivery boy to drive me.

When I got to the porch my boy friend was waiting — mad as a hornet. He said terrible things and accused me of flirting with the delivery boy. Then he slapped my face.

I went in the house and left him on the porch. He knocked for 10 minutes but I wouldn't answer. He has already called my sister and asked her to "fix things up." I really loved him, Ann, but after seeing this side of his character I don't know if I should go with him again.

My parents hope I will find someone else. Please tell me what to do.—MISERABLE.

Dear Miserable: If you think you're miserable NOW—go ahead and marry a fellow who slaps your face during courtship. I'm with your folks. Find someone else.

Dear Ann: When I married six years ago I trusted my husband and loved him dearly. I became pregnant almost immediately and three months before the baby came I learned he was having an affair. A friend told me about it and I almost died of humiliation and shame.

I said nothing to him but worked doubly hard at being a good wife and mother. With God's help he woke up and now he's wonderful and we are happy.

Now a friend of mine is in exactly the same spot. Shall I tell her and give her the benefit of my experience? Please advise me. What is the right thing to do?—MATILDA.

-:-

Dear Matilda: REAL friends don't deliver this type of news. In spite of the attempt to make it look like an act of friendship, there's an unconscious or conscious attempt to hurt. Keep quiet and hope that her husband wakes up as yours did.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Wellsville Club Guest Tells Of Lake Project

Ed Hum, secretary of the City Loan at Sandusky and former Wellsville resident, outlined the expansion at the lake community since the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway at a meeting of the Wellsville Kiwanis Club Tuesday night at Piatt's Tea Room.

Hum told of large ocean going vessels docking at Sandusky and unloading foreign commodities.

Ed Guess of Mechanicstown and Ernest Cling of LaMesa, Calif., were guests. Twenty-five were present.

Tom Grafton was program chairman. Robert Lowther will be program chairman in July.

'Educational' Meeting Leaves Vessels Tied Up

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An "educational" meeting of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union left 28 cargo vessels idle for 11 hours Wednesday.

Officials of Local 13 refused to state the purpose of the session, but it was reported the meeting was called to bring 3,500 members up to date on San Francisco negotiations on a new contract with the Pacific Maritime Assn., representing West Coast employers.

A PMA spokesman said the meeting was called for educational purposes, as permitted under the union contract.

Young Couple Marries In Room At Hospital

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—It seemed that every time Viola Clark and Rodney Hoeltzel planned to get married something interfered.

Twice they postponed the wedding because of illness in their immediate families.

This week it happened again. Miss Clark went to the hospital with appendicitis and had an operation on what would have been her wedding day.

Enough of postponements, the young couple decided. They were married Wednesday in her hospital room.

Covered bridges are still being built in New England. A new one is at Sheffield, Mass.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Can you help two oldsters? My husband and I have discussed this problem dozens of times but we are no closer to a solution.

We raised six children and helped to put them all through college. Our three daughters married well. The two older sons are attorneys and the youngest an engineer. My husband never made more than $4,800 a year in his life. All the boys make at least three times that amount.

We own a small home and just get by. My husband draws a railroad pension and we have no savings, just a few war bonds set aside for emergency.

This is the problem:

Almost every night we have from four to nine grandchildren at our dinner table. We love them dearly, Ann, but we can't afford to feed them. They can drink four quarts of milk with a meal.

Their parents take turns dropping them off when they go to parties, club meetings and so on. They say we are more reliable than sitters and we are "handy." What do you suggest?—SILVER THREADS.

Dear Threads: Since you have such a chummy relationship with your children that they feel comfortable dumping their kids on you for dinner several times a week, you ought to get REAL confidential with THEM.

Suggest in the future when they drop off their youngsters that they should bring along some groceries. Your sons and daughters are thoughtless and they need only to be told.

A Slap In Time

Dear Ann: I'm 18 and going with an attractive boy 19. We've dated for two years. We're not engaged but we have an "understanding." Something happened and I need help.

I work two evenings a week in a neighborhood gift shop. I usually call him when I'm through and he drives me home. This one night I worked until almost midnight and decided it was too late to phone his home so I asked the delivery boy to drive me.

When I got to the porch my boy friend was waiting — mad as a hornet. He said terrible things and accused me of flirting with the delivery boy. Then he slapped my face.

I went in the house and left him on the porch. He knocked for 10 minutes but I wouldn't answer. He has already called my sister and asked her to "fix things up." I really loved him, Ann, but after seeing this side of his character I don't know if I should go with him again.

My parents hope I will find someone else. Please tell me what to do.—MISERABLE.

Dear Miserable: If you think you're miserable NOW—go ahead and marry a fellow who slaps your face during courtship. I'm with your folks. Find someone else.

Dear Ann: When I married six years ago I trusted my husband and loved him dearly. I became pregnant almost immediately and three months before the baby came I learned he was having an affair. A friend told me about it and I almost died of humiliation and shame.

I said nothing to him but worked doubly hard at being a good wife and mother. With God's help he woke up and now he's wonderful and we are happy.

Now a friend of mine is in exactly the same spot. Shall I tell her and give her the benefit of my experience? Please advise me. What is the right thing to do?—MATILDA.

Dear Matilda: REAL friends don't deliver this type of news. In spite of the attempt to make it look like an act of friendship, there's an unconscious or conscious attempt to hurt. Keep quiet and hope that her husband wakes up as yours did.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Wellsville Club Guest Tells Of Lake Project

Ed Hum, secretary of the City Loan at Sandusky and former Wellsville resident, outlined the expansion at the lake community since the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway at a meeting of the Wellsville Kiwanis Club Tuesday night at Piatt's Tea Room.

Hum told of large ocean going vessels docking at Sandusky and unloading foreign commodities.

Ed Guess of Mechanicstown and Ernest Cling of LaMesa, Calif., were guests. Twenty-five were present.

Tom Grafton was program chairman. Robert Lowther will be program chairman in July.

'Educational' Meeting Leaves Vessels Tied Up

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An "educational" meeting of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union left 28 cargo vessels idle for 11 hours Wednesday.

Officials of Local 13 refused to state the purpose of the session, but it was reported the meeting was called to bring 3,500 members up to date on San Francisco negotiations on a new contract with the Pacific Maritime Assn., representing West Coast employers.

A PMA spokesman said the meeting was called for educational purposes, as permitted under the union contract.
